WAR INCIDENT RECALLED

GENERAL ANDERSON'S SYMPATHY FOR MEN IS TOLD.

Deputy County Clerk Norman Remembers Chery Word of Greeting to Sentry on Duty in Manila.

It was the lunch hour, when pressure of business for a moment released in the County Clerk's office, and Jack A. Norman, deputy county clerk and a veteran of the Spanish-American War, leaned back in his office chair...

"You know," he said reminiscently, "there are Generals and Generals, but General Thomas M. Anderson, who died in Portland Tuesday, was one among a thousand. He always had a ready sympathy for the enlisted men, and for that reason was a favorite with them."

And Mr. Norman was launched upon his story. "I was doing guard duty on a little balcony overlooking the plaza in Manila," he said "and a group of officers passed. In the party were Admiral Dewey, General Otis and General Anderson. I stood at attention and the officers saluted me formally. General Anderson was not content with that, however."

"Well, sentry, how is everything?" he asked. "It was merely an illustration of the attitude which he took toward the men and it was an attitude which won him the ready confidence of those same men, who would have followed him anywhere."

Mr. Norman's story was completed and he turned to his work, while his little audience of court attaches and deputies melted away.

AIRMAN DECLINES FOREIGN SERVICE AND ENLISTS IN AMERICAN NAVY.

Norman E. Espey.

"America first" is the spirit of Norman E. Espey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Espey, of 84 East Fifty-second street, who has enlisted in the U. S. naval air service, in spite of promising opportunities offered him in the British service.

Mr. Espey returned last Tuesday from British Columbia, where he had been for the past year and immediately passed a perfect examination both mentally and physically for the aerial service in the United States Navy, which requires a high degree of technical efficiency and skill.

LEAGUE BIDES TIME

Enforcement of Peace Plan for After War.

LOCAL CHAPTER IS ACTIVE

Purpose Is to Promote Sentiment That Will Make Impossible Repetition of Present World-Wide War.

When the great war is over the League to Enforce Peace, of which ex-President Taft is president, expects to have a voice in the movement it has fathered to make further wars impossible. Only in this way, it is said, can the cruel wastage of the present struggle be turned to good account.

Formed in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, on June 17, 1915, the league is not a pacifist organization, nor is it for peace at any price while the war is being waged. Its purpose is high and its motives lofty—to make a recurrence of the present war unnecessary and impossible.

The league will concern itself with working to heal old wounds caused by the war and to bring about a basis whereon all can agree, when peace comes as to the future conduct of international affairs.

In the Name of HUMANITY

An Urgent Appeal to You to Do "YOUR BIT" for the Relief of 1,250,000 HOMELESS, STARVING BELGIAN CHILDREN

It has been said "Charity Begins at Home." No truer words were ever uttered. The poor are always with us, and must be assisted. Humanity demands it. The existence of the American Nation and people was never menaced by such serious conditions as those which have prevailed in war-ridden Belgium since the beginning of the great European conflict. History records no such suffering of humanity. Pictures and words can never describe what has taken place in that little country "across the water." America, a Nation of humane principles, has been sacredly performing her part of the great and good work of relief. Shall we, then, at the time when hunger stalks with still heavier stride, furl our banner of humanity and leave these 1,250,000 starving, homeless children to their fate? No; let us carry on the good work so nobly begun to a victorious end.

You can be a part of this business. The dividends are paid daily in "THE SMILES OF CHILDREN." What greater reward than this? we ask. One million two hundred and fifty thousand children in Belgium still smile, and will continue to smile so long as we remain at work. Ask any mother or father, or your physician, what happens in the case of growing children who for two years have not eaten according to their hunger. A balanced ration has been devised for the children of Belgium, which is being given in school and other centers under supervision. But they must have 1,250,000 of these rations every day. Whatever happens, the humane sentiment of the world will demand that food reach Belgium, and America's responsibility to provide the means will be just as great. And for every American who has been compelled to leave Belgium, a neutral, trained to the work of relief, stands ready and willing to fill the place. Again we say "the good work must go on to a victorious end."

The Oregon-Wide Belgian Relief Committee Welcomes Your Co-operation and Contributions

To this committee of responsible and representative citizens of our state has been assigned the work of conducting the campaign. Contributions received will be directed to the relief of the 2300 children throughout the Province of Brabant, region of Genappe, map of which is roughly illustrated here. This is the section of Belgium which THE COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, New York, looks to the people of Oregon to provide for. Oregon has, many times, been called upon to provide relief for suffering humanity. Not a single instance is recorded where the response was other than creditable. Should we hesitate at such an undertaking—an undertaking the success of which will be responsible for the providing of food, clothing and comfort of innocent children, who, through no fault of theirs, are facing starvation in a most extreme form? The results of this appeal will be the answer.

Map of the Province of Brabant, Belgium, showing various towns and regions. Includes text: "The following, issued on March 16, 1917, by THE COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, has been recently reaffirmed by wire from New York: The commission for relief in Belgium is in receipt of a cable to the effect that the German authorities have now been able to communicate with a 11 submarine commanders and that since from the 15th instant the commission's shipping will be positively unharmed from a strike of following the northern route. Six of the commission's steamers, which have been held at Rotterdam pending completion of the necessary preliminary negotiations, will sail at night with German safe-conduct passes containing absolute guarantees against submarine attack."
