social season. This hall, which will be given June 15 at Cottillion Hall, will be especially to honor the fair queen, not yet selected, and every cent received will be turned over to the fund for the soldiers' families. The Rosarians will defray every cent of expense, as they did last year, and the chairman, Dean Vincent, who is prime minister of the Rosarians, will select a list of patrons from among Portland's representative and most prominent folk. The ball will be strictly invitational and formal. A gold and silver offering will be taken during the evening.

George Clark, who makes his home at Hotel Portland, celebrated his birthday Thursday and in the evening he entertained a few intimate friends with an informal dinner, those sharing his hospitality being Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Miss Sallie Hart and Ashley Vantine.

From St. Paul comes news of the arrival of a son at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Angus McDonnell, formerly of this city. The little lad arrived Wednesday morning and is bringing a shower of congratulatory telegrams and letters to his parents. The McDonnells left Portland about three years ago for St. Paul, but have since visited here. They were very popular in social circles.

Miss Helen Eastham has returned to Portland after a most interesting and charming visit in New York.

One of the parties at the Multnomah supper-dance Thursday night, following the Ian Hay Beth lecture at the Heilig Theater was the most successful yet. Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Miss Sally Hart and Ashley Vantine, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and the Schuyler family were also among the assemblage. Another party was chaperoned by Mrs. Josephine Andrews and included Misses Harriet Cumming, Marion Smith, Dorothy Stroubridge, Tom Kerr and Robert Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien entertained the Coe A. McKennas and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Spencer with a line party at the Orpheum vaudeville Monday night, later joining the assemblage at the supper-dance at the Multnomah Hotel.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Drama League will be held Tuesday night in the Little Theater. Mrs. Elmer Sanford, Eugene, will read Francois Coppee's "Pater Noster," translated by Will Hutchins, which deals with the French revolution.

Miss Getta Wasserman will reach Portland today after a most interesting and delightful winter spent in New York. During her sojourn in the Eastern metropolis Miss Wasserman gained quite a bit of notice as a writer.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to the family of Henry Hausman, whose death occurred early in the week. Mrs. Hausman and Miss Marjorie Hausman recently returned from New York and are domiciled in the Mallory Hotel.

Tom Dobson, the popular vocalist and entertainer, is expected to reach Portland this week for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Amy Dobson, and sister, Mrs. John F. Logan. Mr. Dobson will be here in time to register for enlistment with Portland men.

Another engagement of interest to Portland folk is that of Harold Sanford, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Sanford, to Miss Barbara Macey, daughter of Mrs. May Macey, of the Macey Pilling Cabinet Company fame. Following closely upon the announcement of the engagement comes the date for the wedding, which will be an event of tomorrow at Unitarian Church, with Rev. T. L. Elliot as officiating clergyman.

Mr. Sanford and Miss Macey have been engaged for quite a while, but the announcement was not made, plans being to have a formal announcement later. However, as the bridegroom-to-be is enlisted in the Ambulance Corps, which will soon leave for the front, the hurried wedding was arranged. The bride-elect is one of the very young members of society and will be one of the first war brides of note in this city.

Among those who joined the merry-makers at the supper dance at the Multnomah Hotel Wednesday night were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Labbe and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Nevin. Another party was made up by Misses Meta Rupp, Edna Macey, Claire Wilcox, Katherine Hart and Prescott Cookingham and Charles S. Holbrook.

At the Rose City Park Club the students of the Academy of the Holy Child will present "Pandora's Box" Tuesday night, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross Society.

a dinner party at the Multnomah Hotel, additional guests being Mr. Austin Clay and Miss Clay of Seattle, and Judge Latourette. They later attended the Orpheum vaudeville.

Organizations of every sort are doing their bit for the war. The MacDowell Club is no exception. While feeling the necessity of keeping the flames of art with as much music as possible, this club also feels that the strength of the organization must for the next season be used wherever practicable in support of the common cause. On June 6 the club will give an entertainment for the Red Cross fund on the lawn at Rockholm, Dr. Rockey's country place. Under the direction of Miss Jean Wold, a large group of dancers will repeat an amplified and elaborate arrangement of the poetical "Day in a Garden," which was given last year on Mrs. Wurtman's lawn with such artistic success. It is a lovely fantasy of music, interpretative dancing and color, and will be given by barefoot dancers in groups and also in solos by some of the best dancers in Portland. Mrs. Rockey, who is an associate member of the MacDowell Club, has been most generous in giving the use of her grounds. An orchestra will be used for the dances and tea will be served. The entertainment is open not only to MacDowellites, but to their friends and the public. A silver offering will be received. If the weather man is kind, June 6 should see one of the most beautiful of pageants ever given in Portland under the grand old cedars out at Rockholm.

The benefit card party given by the members of the Willamette Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Thursday at the Portland Heights Clubhouse, was a financial as well as a social success. The committee in charge of which Mrs. W. R. Evans was chairman, appreciated the assistance of those who attended, as well as the ones who contributed to the programme.

Miss Lela Slater gave two piano numbers, which were well received. Mrs. Dudley Clark, accompanied by Miss Josephine Clark, sang two solos. She has a sweet soprano voice, which shows the effect of fine training. Her first number was the "Nightingale," by Arthur Penn; the second "Aprille," by G. H. Gounod.

Mrs. G. J. Frankel gave an amusing reading in southern dialect. She had four of the candidates for the Rose Festival Queen there, and two little girls danced. Mrs. L. M. Patterson, the state regent, was a guest at the party.

Mrs. Robert Macintosh will give a Red Cross tea at her home on Willamette Heights Friday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. Mrs. Macintosh kindly extends an invitation to anyone interested to call.

An engagement of great interest to a large circle of friends was made known Saturday when Miss Flo Hermann entertained at her home in Irvington in honor of Miss Etienne Patterson, fiancée of Ormo Frank Dowling. Mr. Dowling is with the O. W. R. & N. Company and is a well-known member of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club and the Gamma Eta Kappa fraternity.
