HARRISBURG MEETING GOOD

Speakers Bring Home Telling Arguments in Favor of Raising Lump Sum for Improvement of Oregon Main Highways.

BY ADDISON BENNETT. EUGENE, Or., May 26 .- (Special.)-The road bond party were unfortunate enough to lose the services of Mr. Benwho returned to Portland by an early train yesterday for medical attention, as he was suffering from a Pittenger, Gerald Presco severe cold and throat trouble. He will ding and Loren Basler. be missed very much for just his pres-ence on the rostrum before an audi-ence always makes votes; add to this the clear exposition he makes of the law, and his explanation of what the commission will probably do, and it is found that he is the best card the cam-paigners have or can get.

The meeting yesterday morning was at Harrisburg. Senafor Cusick was in charge and made the principal speech, but C. J. Butler, Commissioner of Linn County, made a fine talk. A. M. Pryor acted as master of ceremonies. The meeting was well attended and the party say several wavering voters were the splendid rooms of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. I. E. Bean, of this city, presided. He introduced Jay Bowerman as the first speaker, and the ex-Governor never made a better speech 160 acre when he did tought I was clear con- the land than he did tonight. It was clear, convincing, orderly and logical. He tied his pleas together in one compact whole, and from first to last he seemed to have his audience with him. At the close of his speech Senator Bean invit-ed any opponent of the bill present who wished to talk to take the floor. There was no further response than a number of questions, which it soon de-veloped were asked by those favoring

The next speaker was Julian Hurley, State Senator from Malheur, Harney and Grant Counties. The Senator is a fine speaker. He had just arrived from his home district where he had attended many road meetings. He told of one held at John Day, a town of perhaps not more than 250 people, yet more than 600 came to the meeting and more than 500 came to the meeting and other matters in connection with the not a single one was opposed to the bill. He gave other incidents going to show that the far-eastern part of the state is practically unanimous for the bonds. Senator Julian is a fine talker and one whose arguments carry conviction.

One of the most important pieces of work for this season will be the establishing of a fire lookout station on the top of Mount Adams, 12,307 feet elevation. By July Ranger Lickel will begin hauling the necessary timber up the mountain to the 6000-foot elevation by the use of an endless line to the top of the mountain. The line is of strong elephone wire and will be fastened or top of the mountain. On each end of the wire will be a sled. The sled at the bottom will be loaded with lumber and that at the top with stone. The stone-laden sled will haul up the lighter load of lumber.

This tower will be one of the best in the country, and with the lookout on top of Mount Hood will cover observation over an immense territory.

A cable bridge will be built this Summer the Lawis River on the Gulerover the Lewis River on the Guler Spirit Lake trail.
