

PERSONALS ON RULER OF ENGLAND

American General and Members of Staff Presented by Canadian Leader.

ARMY CONFERENCES BEGIN

News of Arrival of American Military Men and Plans for Future Crowd Battle News From English Newspapers.

LONDON, June 9.—General Pershing was received this morning at Buckingham Palace by King George.

The afternoon was taken up with conferences at the War Office. Tomorrow General Pershing and his staff will attend a service at Westminster Abbey.

The general will dine with the King and his chief associates in the Cabinet. On Tuesday evening members of the British Cabinet will give a dinner to the general.

King George chatted for a few moments with each member of General Pershing's staff. In addressing General Pershing King George said:

"It has been the dream of my life to see the two great English-speaking nations more closely united. My dreams have been realized. It is my greatest pleasure that I welcome you at the head of the American contingent to our shores."

King George conversed quietly with General Pershing for a quarter of an hour, shaking hands enthusiastically with the general as they parted.

The day after tomorrow the general will dine with the King and his chief associates in the Cabinet. On Tuesday evening members of the British Cabinet will give a dinner to the general.

From the Embassy General Pershing and his party motored to the American Embassy, where the general and several of the staff officers met a number of British army officers in a brief conference.

From the Embassy the party drove to the War Office, where the general's staff officers conferred for more than an hour with the officers of the corresponding departments of the British Army.

This afternoon General Pershing was the guest of General Lord Brooke at a luncheon at the Marlborough Club, where he sat beside Major-General Henderson.

After the luncheon General Pershing and General Henderson had a half hour formal conference. In the evening General Pershing was the distinguished guest of General Lord Brooke.

Papers Feature Americans' Arrival. Detailed stories of the landing of General Pershing and his party at Liverpool and the arrival in London filled the press last night.

The editorials, while welcoming General Pershing personally, dwell particularly upon the significance of the arrival of the American advance guard as a symbol of the new era.

2 MEN SUBSCRIBE HEAVILY

version, which really is good business for the bankers, inasmuch as the Liberty bonds pay 4 1/2 per cent, while the notes pay only 3, Oregon yet may meet its quota.

"If we are to sell our full share of bonds," said Mr. Miller yesterday, "we positively must get several hundred subscriptions of $500 or more."

"That is precisely where we are weak. The small investor is doing magnificently, and the real big ones are beginning to show up in the shape. But the men and women who are able to subscribe from $1000 and up—more particularly from $5000 up—have failed us miserably."

Current letters received by Portland bankers from officials of the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department will give careful scrutiny to the subscription lists to see which cities have not their allotments and which have.

campaign there will be printed a public list of honor of the cities on the Pacific Coast, showing the total amount of bonds which each city has subscribed and the total amount that should have been subscribed.

"The Government also has knowledge of the amount that many individuals are capable of subscribing, and it is possible that an honor roll of individuals, with the volume of their individual subscriptions, together with the amount they should have subscribed will be printed."

The aggregate subscriptions for the city of Portland are $3,550,000, and for the state outside of Portland, $1,577,250—a grand total of $5,127,250.

Pendleton Reaches Quota. Pendleton is the only city in the state that has met its quota, which is $475,000. At the termination of the campaign the Pendleton banks took out $400,000 and yesterday increased this by $75,000.

Mr. House's is the biggest individual subscription in the state. He subscribed $100,000. The Portland National Bank of Commerce—in nearly equal amounts.

Mr. Wilcox's $200,000 subscription, the Eastern & Western Lumber Company's $100,000, and the $50,000 went through the Ladd & Tilton Bank.

GIRLS ATTEND BANQUET Conference at La Grande Elects Officers for Year.

LA GRANDE, Or., June 9.—(Special.)—A group of officers for another year and numerous important speeches, surrounded by a banquet this evening at which only girls were present, and a reception lecture on the subject of "The Dawn of a New Era" by Mrs. Danenhower, of Portland, is an epitome review of the first main day of the fourth annual "Girls' Conference" which was held here.

The new officers are: Irene Bruck, Union, president; Evadna McCullough, of Joseph, vice-president; Grace Hall, of Joseph, secretary.

Tomorrow is the crowning day of the conference. In the morning the 100 or more girls here from seven Eastern Oregon counties will attend Sunday schools as they select. In the afternoon an important session for girls will be held, and at night a union meeting is to be held at which Rev. Charles A. Edwards, La Grande, and Charles A. Phipps, Portland, will be the principal speakers. The conference adjourns with that session.

$10,034 PAID TO BAKER Apportionment in Forest Reserve and County Fair Money Made.

BAKER, Or., June 9.—(Special.)—County Treasurer Eliza M. Pearson today received $10,034.23 from the State Treasurer as payment of the money due Baker for its apportionment of the forest reserve money and of the state appropriation for the county fair.

Of the total, $5931.23 is forest money and of this $2717 is back money, for which such a hard fight was waged by the Commercial Club. There is still due Baker County $19,740.27, which will be paid in yearly installments. The original amount of back money was $12,532.04.

The counties that had been overpaid will not receive any forest money until the deficiencies are made up. Then the apportionment will be on the new basis. When informed of the arrival of the money, the Commissioners failed to be come elated, for, they said, money was spent long ago.

BONUS 50 CENTS A DAY Crown-Willamette Paper Mill Announces Plan Effective June 1.

OREGON CITY, Or., June 9.—(Special.)—A uniform bonus of 50 cents a day to all employees was announced by the Crown-Willamette Paper Company today as effective June 1.

The announcement had been withheld, pending the outcome of the strike, which was settled Thursday.

The bonus increases the place of the plant from 25 to 50 cents, based on wage rate of the employe, which has been in force up to this time. The bonus comes as a surprise check and is intended to represent the employe's share in the profits.

BRITISH SMASH FRONT (Continued From First Page.) fighting, which at last has swayed to and fro about advanced posts.

Early today the Germans conducted a heavy bombardment on Boesinghe and the neighborhood of this village on the northern turn of Ypres salient. Under this fire they made four raids into the British front lines.

Sixty British soldiers were killed last night south of Lens, which sets a new record for this style of harassing warfare, for they took about 150 prisoners.

Red Cross Drive Planned. CORVALLIS, Or., June 9.—(Special.)—A whirlwind campaign is to be made in Benton County starting Monday for the benefit of the Red Cross. Every precinct in the county will be invaded by speakers in the interest of this important branch of the military service in an effort to raise funds.

MADE QUIET RAZED BY QUAKES

No Building in San Salvador Left Habitable and Volcano Continues Active.

RAIN FALLS IN TORRENTS

Residents Establish Temporary Shelters in Squares and Public Gardens—Devastation Covers Radius of 30 Miles.

LA LIBERTAD, Salvador, June 9.—In the towns of Armenia and Quezaltepeque, near San Salvador, 40 persons were killed and 100 were injured as the result of Thursday's earthquake, which was the most severe and most disastrous felt in Salvador since 1872.

Eighty out of every 100 houses in San Salvador were razed and the entire business section was destroyed by fire. There are no authentic reports as to the number of casualties in the capital.

Buildings Not Inhabitable. The earthquake was violent for more than five hours Thursday night, but since then there has been no rain or show of rain. It is reported that no buildings in San Salvador are habitable and that Santa Tecla and other neighboring towns are in ruins.

The fire in San Salvador could not be extinguished because the water supply system had been destroyed. The earth tremors and the volcanic Jabali, near San Salvador, still is pouring out a shower of ashes within a radius of 20 miles around the capital. There have been no disorders.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, June 9.—No authentic information of the casualties and damage caused by the earthquake and the simultaneous eruption of the San Salvador volcano is as yet obtainable.

Nearby Towns Are Razed. Some of the principal commercial houses and theaters in San Salvador were destroyed, as were hundreds of smaller homes. The neighboring towns of Armenia and Quezaltepeque were virtually wiped out and most of the casualties caused by the disaster occurred there. The large town of Santa Tecla, 15 miles from San Salvador, suffered great property damage, but the loss of life there was small.

The earth shocks continue to be felt in the countryside around San Salvador, but they are diminishing in intensity. The residents of the Salvadoran capital, according to the accounts of eye-witnesses, were finishing the evening meal when the city and the surrounding towns began to shake. This was at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, and almost simultaneously the San Salvador volcano began to throw out lava and ashes through freshly opened craters.

Rain Falls in Torrents. A torrential rain accompanied the earthquake and for six hours the rain fell without cessation, greatly increasing the sufferings of the inhabitants, who had erected temporary shelters in the squares and public gardens. Although the earth shocks were felt at a considerable distance from the center of activity, the deaths and property sufferers are being raised in Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

CORINTH, Nicaragua, June 9.—Telegraphic communication with San Salvador is still cut off and no authentic information is available. It is reported that Santa Tecla has been almost entirely destroyed. The countryside for a radius of 30 miles devastated.

A dispatch from Panama last night said reports reaching there indicated that hundreds of lives had been lost in San Salvador.

EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., June 9.—Boaz Long, American Minister to San Salvador, is safe from the earthquake there, according to a message received today by Judge E. J. Long, his father.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Cable messages received today by Bloom Bros. fiscal agents in the United States, from the Republic of San Salvador, from Benjamin Bloom, head of the New York house, said the principal loss of life had occurred in the suburbs.

U. S. TO BREAK KAISERISM (Continued From First Page.) are too momentous, too tremendous, too significant for the whole human race to permit any misinterpretations or misunderstandings, however slight, to remain uncorrected for a moment.

"The war has begun to go against Germany, and in their desperate desire to escape the inevitable, they are trying to force those who are in authority in Germany are using every possible instrumentality, are making use even of the influence of groups and parties among their own subjects to whom they have never been just or fair, or even tolerant, to promote a propaganda on both sides of the sea which will preserve their influence and their power abroad to the undoing of the very men they are using."

Mistake Not Excusable. "The position of America in this war is so clearly avowed that no man can be excused for mistaking it. She seeks no material profit or aggrandizement of any kind. She is fighting for no advantage or selfish object of her own, but for the liberation of peoples everywhere from the aggressions of autocratic force."

"The ruling classes in Germany have begun of late to profess a like liberality and justice of purpose. It is to preserve the power they have set up in Germany and the selfish advantages which they have wrongly secured for themselves that they are plotting projects of power all the way from Berlin to Bagdad and beyond. Government after government has by their influence been driven to policies of its territory, being linked together by a link of intrigue directed at nothing less than the peace and liberty of the world."

Intrigue Must Be Broken. "The meshes of that intrigue must be broken, but cannot be broken unless wrongs already done are undone, and adequate measures must be taken to prevent it from ever again being woven or repaired."

"Of course, the imperial German government and those who use it are seeking for their own undoing are seeking to obtain pledges that the war will end in the restoration of the status quo ante. It was in this spirit that the policy of which this iniquitous war issued forth, the power of the imperial German government within the empire and its widespread domination and influence outside of that empire."

fashion as to prevent any such hideous thing from ever happening again. "We are fighting for the liberty, the self-government and the undisturbed development of all peoples, and every feature of the settlement that concludes this war must be conceived and executed for that purpose. Wrongs must first be righted, and then adequate safeguards must be created to prevent their being committed again. We ought not to consider remedies merely because they are pleasing and agreeable and sonorous sound. Practical questions can be settled only by practical means. Force may not achieve the result. Effective readjustments will, and whatever readjustments are necessary must be made."

Principle Declared Plain. "But they must follow the principle and that principle plain. No people must be forced under sovereignty under which it does not wish to live. No territory must change hands except for the purpose of serving those who inhabit it a fair chance of life and liberty. No indemnities must be insisted upon, and no payment of money must be demanded for manifest wrongs done. No readjustments of power must be made except such as will tend to secure the future peace of the world and the future welfare and happiness of its peoples."

And then the free peoples of the world must draw together in some common covenant, some genuine and practical co-operation that will, in effect, combine their force and their peace in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings of nations with one another. The brotherhood of mankind must no longer be a fair but empty phrase; it must be given a structure of force and reality. The nations must realize their common life and effect a workable partnership of justice in the dealings