

END OF ALL WARS IS CABINETS' HOPE

American Delegate at Rome Suggests Constitution for Democracies of World.

SELFISHNESS WAR CAUSE

Prominent Men Back Proposal That
All Conflicts Cease After Present
Tribulations Have Come to Finis and League Favored.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.)—Every cabinet in the world is considering a plan to the prevention of wars after the present conflict is at an end. This fact is known in Washington. To some extent the discussion is academic, for there is as yet no end in sight for the existing struggle. But the wise statesmen and diplomats are projecting their minds into the future and preparing to meet the questions which will arise when the peace conferences begin.

President Wilson advocated last February a world peace based upon a league of nations. David Lloyd George of the United States to the International Institute at Rome, has gone further. He has proposed an international federation of democracies controlled by a written constitution. In other words, he believes that world peace could be more easily brought about through the adoption of the Government of the United States for the government of the world.

Plan Submitted at Rome.

Mr. Lubin's suggestion is particularly interesting because he submitted it to the diplomatic corps at Rome and received from its members the view on the general subject of future peace. Thomas Nelson Page, the American Ambassador to Italy, described Mr. Lubin's idea as a great and fundamental one of the assembling of the forces of democracy among all people. Mr. Page said he looked upon the adoption of these forces and of their organization in one direction to accomplish world peace. Here are some other comments by distinguished statesmen and diplomats:

Amala Boselli, Prime Minister of Italy—Is Italy, which is the home of civil and international law, and which is essentially a democratic country, the ideas which you set forth certainly will awaken an echo of sympathy, and I, for my part, express the wish for the realization of all things that may tend to liberate humanity through the pacific collaboration of the nations.

Selfishness Cause of War.

Baron de Giers, Ambassador of Russia—It is evident that it is not at the present moment that arrangements aiming at establishing permanent peace can be made. It was the central empires who wished for this war to attain their selfish ends; the entente powers have gathered together their forces and are now bent upon dealing the decisive blow which will insure victory in the near future. The sole aim that they can pursue at this time is that at attaining a peace which will cost them the least and in the shortest time possible. When they shall have placed their aggressors in a position in which they can no longer harm, the time will be ripe to proceed to the establishment of a condition of things apt to render impossible the return of unjustifiable aggressions.

Sir Rennell Rodd, British Ambassador to Italy—The more such a proposal can be ventilated and discussed the better. The reception generally accorded to President Wilson's views as to ultimate safeguards of future peace indicates that if a practical scheme of application can be found it will meet with general favor.

One of the difficulties which seems to present itself in any scheme for international confederation seems to connote a certain sacrifice of national individuality and individual interests and that the maintenance of communications of commercial intercourse, and of more intimate knowledge of each other among the nations of the world, has been observable in recent years to emphasize rather than to weaken the spirit of nationality. A reluctance may, therefore, be anticipated on the part of some national units to renounce any avenue of individual development. The democratic spirit seems, however, to be one common ground upon which nations may meet, and it certainly hitherto has tended to international sympathies and diminished antagonisms.

Former Premier Talks.

Luigi Luzzatti, ex-Premier of Italy—The nations allied in the great cause of civilization are already striving toward this end. The first attempts have been made by their parliaments at electing representatives to come to mutual understandings on fundamental matters. Delegates of the French and British parliaments (both of the lower and upper houses) already have met, and recently the delegates of the French and Italian parliaments gathered in Rome. Now the representatives of the three great nations—France, England and Italy—are to meet in Paris and these gatherings already are known as the inter-allied parliaments. The Russian Duma has promised its adherence, and undoubtedly in the near future, at a great meeting to be held in Paris or London or Rome, a deputation of the House and Senate of the United States also will be invited to attend.

Thus, gradually, after the conclusion of a victorious peace, the states, which have fought for the liberation of oppressed nationalities, will agree to a prepared constitutional statute for mankind, free from all forms of political and religious despotism.

While the autonomy and sovereignty of the several states will be respected, they spontaneously will delegate to a common parliament and to a common executive those supreme questions which affect the peace and happiness of the whole human family.

After the funeral of Judge Dodson from his home here Tuesday, a number of petitions for appointment will be filed. Local interest in the appointment centers largely in the candidate who will be most likely to carry out the good roads programme as mapped out by the County.

CONGRESS TO RUSH FOOD LEGISLATION

Wilson Directs Hoover to Proceed at Once With Organization of Work.

HOUSEWIVES' AID IS ASKED

President Recognizes Advantage of Waiting Complete Establishment of Administration, but Says Delay Can't Be Afforded.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Congress' delay in passing the Administration's food bills drew from President Wilson today an order directing Herbert C. Hoover to proceed immediately with organization of the new food administration insofar as it contemplates food conservation and elimination of waste through the co-operation of volunteer forces.

"While it would in many ways be desirable to await complete legislation establishing the food administration," the President wrote, "it appears to me that so far as volunteer effort can be assembled we should wait no longer."

Housewives to Be Enlisted.

Plans for enlisting every housewife in the country as a volunteer member of the food administration have been announced by Mr. Hoover, who plans to reach the women through state defense councils and through various women's organizations. Every woman will be taught how to save food in the kitchen and how to purchase for her family.

President Wilson's insistence that the food bills be speeded up caused the Senate today to put the food control bill next on the calendar and the measure will be taken up Monday when the House also begins debate on the bill. The measure was reported to the Senate today without recommendation.

Need of Wisdom Emphasized.

The President's letter to Mr. Hoover follows: "It seems to me that the inauguration of this portion of the plan for food administration which contemplates a National mobilization of the great voluntary forces of the country for the purpose of working toward saving food and eliminating waste admits of no further delay."

"The approaching harvesting, the necessity for wise use and saving of only in food but in all other expenditures, the many undirected and overlapping efforts being made toward this end, all press for immediate action and inspiration. While it would in many ways be desirable to wait complete legislation and establishing the food administration, it appears to me that so far as voluntary effort can be assembled we should not wait any longer, and therefore I would be very glad if you would proceed in those directions at once."

Women Seek to Assist.

"The women of the Nation are already earnestly seeking to do their part in this, our greatest struggle for the maintenance of our National ideals, and in no direction can they so greatly assist as by enlisting in the service of the food administration and cheerfully accomplishing its direction."

"By so doing, they will increase the supply of food available for the Army and for export to the allies. To provide adequate supplies for the coming year is of absolutely vital importance to the conduct of the war without a very conscientious elimination of waste and very strict economy in our food consumption, we cannot hope to fulfill this primary duty."

"I trust, therefore, that the women of the country will not only respond to your appeal and accept the plan for the food administration which you are proposing, but that all men also who are engaged in the personal distribution of foods will co-operate with the same earnestness and in the same spirit. I give you full authority to undertake any steps necessary for the organization and stimulation of their efforts."

THREATS BRING ARREST

JACKSONVILLE CHARACTER HELD ON INSANITY CHARGE.

Threatening Letters to Medford Postmaster Cause Officers to Be Suspicious of Charlie Sweet.

MEDFORD, Or., June 16.—(Special.)—Charlie Sweet, an eccentric character of Jacksonville, was arrested by Sheriff Jennings tonight on a charge of insanity, following his threats to blow up the Medford Postoffice because his mail did not arrive on time. For several weeks Sweet, a 40-year-old man, had been threatening various degrees of violence, and upon the suggestion from Federal authorities at San Francisco a detachment of soldiers from Company I was placed on guard.

On Friday night about 10 o'clock Sweet was captured by one of the soldiers as he was prowling about the area at the rear of the Federal building. He was questioned by the postmaster, admitted writing the threatening letters, but had nothing in his person to suggest violence except a few cartridges.

Postmaster Mims decided Sweet was harmless and let him go. Investigation of the case today, however, convinced local authorities that the man was either a criminal or a dangerous lunatic, so a warrant for his arrest was issued.

SOUTHERN CHINA ARMS

SIX PROVINCES UNITE TO ENFORCE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT.

Leader of Revolt Against President Is Chosen to Command Armies—Entente Asked to Stand Aside.

NEW YORK, June 16.—A cablegram foreboding extensive military operations by six of the Chinese southern provinces against the government was received here today by the Chinese Nationalist League of New York from its headquarters in Canton. The league is said to represent politically the six provinces and to favor China's entry into the war on the entente side under a liberal republican government. Southern troops already are marching on Wu-Chang, according to the message.

The message reads: "The six Chinese provinces of Kwang-Tung, Kwang-Si, Kwai-Chow, Yunnan, Hunan and Sze-Chuen have co-ordinated their plans for active resistance to the rebellion in Peking, and it is now certain that unless that rebellion is brought under control extensive military operations will ensue. Armies organized in all these provinces have sent emissaries to Canton, who have settled on General Lu Yung-tung, the successful leader of last year's Yunnan rebellion, which deposed President Yuan Shi Kai, as their leader against the armies of the north. Southern troops are already marching toward Wu-Chang. At a mass meeting of the citizens of Canton immediate mobilization and an increase of taxes for military funds were decided upon and will shortly be passed by the provincial assembly and promulgated by the Governor, General Chan Fing-shan."

"The southern leaders now gathered in Canton, represent all factions in liberal China and assert they have united solely to preserve constitutional government under the republic. They have issued an appeal to the allied government and to America not to loan money or support the northern rebels and to refrain from intervention in China's struggle against 'reactionary Prussianism.'"

WOMEN TO ENLIST IN AID

RED CROSS WAR COUNCIL CREATES NEW RELIEF BUREAU.

Prominent Matrons From All Sections of Country Are Named as National Advisory Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—To organize non-professional women to aid in relief work, the Red Cross war council has created a woman's bureau and has appointed a National advisory committee of women which will endeavor to enlist every available woman in the campaign for adequate sums and supplies.

The new bureau will be in charge of Miss Florence M. Marshall, of the Manhattan Trade School, who will come to Washington and open a permanent office about July 1. Mrs. W. K. Draper, prominent in Red Cross work in New York City, will head the advisory committee.

"The Red Cross war council," said Chairman Davidson, in announcing the step, "is moved by a sense of very deep obligation to the women of America for their generous response to the call of the Red Cross. That response, as measured in the daily increase in the ranks of volunteer workers, has been unsurpassed."

"To recognize this warm response, as well as to supply the leadership for the days of trial before us, is the purpose of this new organization. Its work will be to stimulate women everywhere in great tasks ahead. Especially the bureau will seek to guide and encourage the women in smaller towns and in the country. These women, working in their home or in local centers, frequently are not in touch with chapter workrooms and organized branches of Red Cross activity. Yet their work is vital at this time, when every branch of the national government and every kind of supplies is needed for the relief of world-wide suffering."

The advisory committee, with Mrs. Draper as its first chairman, includes Mrs. Baltimore, vice-chairman; Miss Mabel T. Boardman, Washington; Mrs. Joe Cuddeback, New York; Mrs. K. M. Cramer, St. Louis; Mrs. E. H. Harriman, New York; Miss Lavinia H. Newell, Boston; Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, Philadelphia; and Mrs. Leonard Wood, Charleston, S. C.

RIVER TO BE AT 25 FEET

HIGH MARK IS EXPECTED TO BE REACHED WEDNESDAY.

Upper Stream Rising Slowly, While Clearwater, Snake and Columbia Climb Rapidly.

Since the Upper Willamette River is rising moderately under the influence of high temperatures, with the Clearwater, Snake and Upper Columbia moving upward as well, the Weather Bureau forecast is for the river here the Saturday morning tide will probably be one-tenth of a foot, gaining five to six-tenths tomorrow and faster Tuesday, so by Wednesday the stage may be 25 feet.

Temperatures were 10 degrees lower yesterday at Walla Walla and Baker, compared with those of Friday and Saturday. At Portland, the temperature was 14 degrees lower at Kanama, B. C., and North Yakima, with Boise reporting two degrees warmer. Assistant District Forecaster Drake says the Walla Walla temperature is six degrees above normal, while at Baker it is eight degrees above, Spokane, 18 degrees; Boise, 16 degrees; Pocatello, 12 degrees; and Portland, 10 degrees.

Last night's reports indicated it would not be warmer in the interior today and it may be cooler. Official river readings yesterday were:

Hair Made Beautifully Wavy While You Sleep!

Just think, girls! You apply a little liquid Silmerine at bedtime and in the morning your hair has a prettier wave and curl than probably it has ever had. The waviness looks perfectly natural, and the hair is sleek and glossy like plush. It will remain in curl the longest time, regardless of heat, wind or moisture, and you won't have to be continually fussing with loose strands or flying ends.

Liquid Silmerine is of course entirely harmless. It leaves no tangles, greasy or sticky trace. It has the peculiar quality of drying in beautiful waves, creases and swirls. It is also an excellent dressing for the hair, keeping it delightfully soft and silky. A few ounces from your drugstore will last for weeks. It is best applied with a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair.—Adv.

MINERS STRIKE STILL ON

UNION ONLY WEEK OLD DECLARES
IT HAS 1600 MEMBERS.

Arrival of Delegate From American Federation of Labor Is Awaited
Before Action Is Taken.

BUTTE, Mont., June 16.—Sixteen hundred miners, it was announced today, are members of the metal miners' union, which is about a week old. The union's speakers at an open-air meeting that was attended by more than 3000 miners appealed to the miners to continue to keep away from the mines. The union's officials said that over 3000 miners have struck.

No disturbances were reported to the police today, but several arrests were made for distributing, without a license, circulars issued by the union attacking the local newspapers and urging all miners to join the union. The mining companies reported all the mines working, but with reduced forces.

At the open-air meeting the miners were counseled to act peacefully and to remain away from the mines. The use of violence was discouraged. Their demands for increase in wages and improved working conditions were read.

Leaders of the Silver Bow Trade and Labor Council, the controlling body of organized labor in Butte, took no action today toward organizing the miners into a union other than the Metal Mineworkers. It was said that the arrival of James Lord, of the American Federation of Labor, and John Walker, an Illinois labor leader, will be awaited before definite action will be decided upon. They are expected to arrive here next week.
