

D. E. JOHNSTON DIES

Banker, Historian, ex-Representative, Author Passes.

VIRGINIA HIS NATIVE STATE

Service Seen in Confederate Army Throughout Civil War—Business Affiliations in Portland With Citizens National Bank.

David E. Johnston, banker, historian, ex-representative and author, died yesterday morning at his home, 603 East Madison street, after a short illness. He was 72 years of age and had been a resident of Portland since 1897. He was a director of the Citizens' Bank of Portland and has been active in real estate.

The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence. Burial will be at Mount Scott Park cemetery.

Mr. Johnston was born in Pearisburg, Giles County, Virginia, April 10, 1845. His ancestors were of Scotch-Irish, English and German descent. He came into Virginia before the Revolutionary War. His father was Oscar F., and his mother Elizabeth French Johnston.

EDUCATORS BLAMED FOR LACK OF PATRIOTISM IN TEXTBOOKS

Correspondent Traces Pacifist Influence in Past Sessions of National Association—Allied Society Teaches Internationalism.

PORTLAND, Or., July 5.—(To the Editor.)—In connection with Justice McCamant's objection to the kind of United States history taught in the schools of Portland, I wish to point out that what he is assailing is but the effect of a cause which is to be sought elsewhere.

The National Education Association is about to meet in this city. This organization especially represents the public or common schools of our country. I have been examining its published proceedings, copies of which are in the Public Library.

This is a time which calls for sacrifice; an hour which demands the highest ideals of patriotism, duty and National service. These ideals are best learned during the impressionable years of youth.

Every boy was taught that in war he was in peace his first duty was to his country. He was taught to love the Third Republic, standing as it does for liberty, equality, fraternity.

National Spirit Created. This teaching has yielded splendid results in the war. The National spirit thus created has distinguished France and has spared her from the tragic fate of Belgium.

In the first place, while there are many references to "vocational training," "salaries" and "janitor service," yet "patriotism," "national service" or words of similar import do not appear in the indexes of any of the numerous volumes of proceedings published by the association since 1905.

I next examined the reports of the committee on resolutions for those years. Inasmuch as all resolutions must be referred to this committee, I take it its reports adopted state the final result of the association on all matters considered by it.

The resolutions for 1905, 1906 and 1908 are silent on this subject. In 1907 Nathan C. Schaeffer, whose picture is noticed in last Sunday's Oregonian, was president. At that time he was the State Superintendent of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania.

BIG STOCK RANCH LEASED

Tract of 468,000 Acres on Crow Reservation to Be Used.

THE DALLES, Or., July 7.—(Special.)—Grant Mays and Pierce Mays, well-known Wasco County stockmen, have announced the completion of one of the largest land deals in the Northwest for many years.

Mr. Johnston was born in Pearisburg, Giles County, Virginia, April 10, 1845. His ancestors were of Scotch-Irish, English and German descent.

COTTAGE GROVE OCTOGENARIAN DIES

Another octogenarian died here this week in the person of Mrs. Eunice Florer, making several persons of this age who have passed away within the past few months.

These sentiments form a part of the hopes of all, but probably all do not share President Schaeffer's optimism regarding the ability of the world's three and a half millions of teachers to very soon what the religion of Jesus Christ has not been able to accomplish in 2000 years.

IT CALLS FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION on your part if you are to share in this most extraordinary sacrifice.
