

AVIATION MEASURE GOES TO PRESIDENT

Senate Passes House Bill Without Amendment and Without Record Vote.

LA FOLLETTE FIGHTS DRAFT

Notice Given of Intention to Try to Repeal Law—Air Bill Carries $640,000,000 for Plane Service.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The House bill appropriating $640,000,000 for the aviation service was passed late today by the Senate without amendment or a record vote and with less than an hour's discussion. It now goes to the President.

In a vigorous speech opposing the draft clause, Senator La Follette said that any war prosecuted by democracy ought to be without compulsory service.

"Democracy ought never enter a war that it cannot prosecute with volunteers," he said, particularly objecting to compulsion for the extra hazardous air service. He said he intended offering a resolution repealing the draft law.

Senator Gronna said he opposed the draft provision for the same reason as Senator La Follette. He denounced the publication of statements that he intended to oppose the bill and filibuster against it as "a deliberate and unqualified falsehood."

Senator Calder offered an amendment to the resolution of Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, proposing to amend the Army draft law to make aliens subject to conscription, excepting subjects of Germany or those exempted by treaty. He said of the 10,000,000 men registered over 1,000,000 are aliens, Arizona alone having 40 per cent of aliens.

Senators Wadsworth, Stone, Brandegee, Lodge and others also urged legislative action to subject aliens to yesterday's draft as well as future calls.

The amendment was finally withdrawn to expedite the bill.

Service Needs 100,000 Men.
The Senate's only dispute, with many members expressing a desire to pass the bill immediately, was over an amendment of Senator Hardwick, of Georgia, to strike out a clause authorizing drafting of the men of the aerial service. The amendment was rejected, 65 to 12, after Senator La Follette and Senator Gronna made brief speeches opposing the draft.

Details of plans for expenditure of the huge sum appropriated have been withheld, but it is known that it provides for about 22,000 airplanes and nearly 100,000 men.

The President is expected to sign the bill Monday and the work of building one of the greatest air fleets the world has seen will be pushed with vigor.

In rejecting the Hardwick amendment, the Senate voted against the clause that the draft clause were: Borah, Brandegee, Curtis, Gore, Gronna, Hardwick, Kirby, La Follette, McKellar, Norris, Owen and Vandamm.

NORTHWEST LUMBERMEN AND SHIPBUILDERS APPEAL.

Strikes Are Delaying Government Work, but Council of Defense Has No Power to Act.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 21.—The Council of National Defense today received several telegrams from Oregon and Washington lumbermen and wooden shipbuilders holding contracts with the Government, asking for aid in straightening out the labor situation and saying that strikes are hampering work on Government contracts both for lumber and ships.

The council is without authority to act, although the matter was made the subject of conference between representatives of the lumber committee, the Shipping Board and Director Gifford, of the Advisory Council.

The telegrams were referred to Secretary of Labor Wilson, to the War Department and to the Attorney-General. The Department of Justice declined to discuss the situation in the Northwest and Secretary of Labor Wilson stated that his department, while cognizant of what was going on, would not act until advised fully by Mediator Bonham, who was ordering Council.

DISGUISE KEPT 13 DAYS
Discovery Made on Board Army Transport Half Way to France. Permission to Go on as Nurse Is Refused.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Mrs. Hazel Blausier Carter, sent back from France by the American Army authorities, arrived today. Mrs. Carter, cutting her hair and jumping into a regulation uniform, smuggled herself aboard the train with her husband, a corporal in an infantry regiment. She managed to keep up the disguise for 13 days and then she spoke, and her feminine voice caused her detection on board the transport.

When interviewed on her arrival here today she said, laughing, "I nearly got away with being a soldier. Then she told her story. 'I marched aboard the troop train at Douglas, Ariz., without my husband's knowledge and to the port from which he sailed without being detected. If I hadn't raised my voice when an officer was around they might not have found me at all. I begged them to let me stay over as a nurse, but they refused, so here I am back again.'

Mrs. Carter insisted that her husband knew nothing of her acts until the troop train was near Chicago, and he then urged her to return home. Mrs. Carter says her husband's stripes were taken from him on shipboard. Mrs. Carter is small, vivacious and 22 years old.

OFFICE IS NEGLECTED

Chairman of Trade Commission Is Playing Politics.

PATRONAGE IS CONTROLLED

W. J. Harris Abandons Desk and Affairs of Nation While He Goes to Home State to Pick Candidate for Judgeship.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 21.—While the United States Government is relying heavily on the Federal Trade Commission for accurate and complete information on which to base Federal action fixing the price of many leading commodities, such as coal and steel, Chairman W. J. Harris, of that Commission, is devoting a large part of his time seeking to control Federal patronage in Georgia and neglecting official duties for which he is receiving a liberal salary from the United States Government.

This fact lies behind the action of the Senate in rejecting two appointments made by the President to a vacant Federal Judgeship in Georgia, Mr. Harris' native state. On April 24 the Senate rejected the nomination of U. V. Whipple, who had been nominated on the recommendation of Mr. Harris, and only a few days ago rejected the nomination of William E. Thomas, a second Harris henchman, who had been nominated for the Judgeship.

Desk Is Deserted.
Mr. Harris, of the Trade Commission, in his thirst for patronage, some weeks ago abandoned his desk in Washington to make a trip to Georgia to pick out a man for the Judgeship. He stayed so long, and the work of the Trade Commission became so congested, that his colleagues were compelled to telegraph him to return to Washington. He came, but brought with him the name of Mr. Harris, which he carried to the White House promptly, and Mr. Thomas was nominated.

Mr. Harris is a typical Southern politician. He was brought to Washington as Commissioner of the Census, and while the Trade Commission was created, he was transferred to that body and later made its chairman. He is at odds with the two Democratic Senators from Georgia, but they are at odds with the President, and Mr. Harris, holding what is supposed to be a nonpolitical office, is using that office to secure for himself an influence that constitutionally belongs to the Senators. Mr. Harris is a regular and persistent caller at the White House and how well he has the President's ear is attested by the fact that he has been able to name two men for the Georgia Judgeship over all men proposed by the Senators.

Commissioner's Affairs Neglected.
The country at large is, of course, not interested in a Georgia patronage row, but it is interested and concerned in the fact that the chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, who is supposed to be directing and making important investigations bearing on the four-year tenure. The Senate also confirmed the following Oregon postmasters, who recently were renominated:

Herman Wise, Astoria; G. W. Brown, Canyon City; Grant I. Grant, Riddle; E. L. Gies, Woodburn; August Huckle, Salem; Lucius L. Hurd, Gladvale; H. Y. Kirkpatrick, Lebanon; John Larkin, Newberg; George H. Little, Mill City; Aramus Longwell, Echo; J. A. McMorris, Condon; S. E. Mahoney, Oakland; Ira C. Mehring, Falls City; O. K. Skiff, Union; Harry M. Stewart, Springfield; William E. Tate, Wasco; Guy E. Tex, Central Point; James W. Thompson, Westport; Lewis Elrich, Jacksonville; Ben Weathers, Enterprise; L. Van Winkle, Weston; Mamie E. Winters, Burns.

The Tillman amendment was adopted.

PEST DESTROYS ELM TREES
Oregon City Is Invaded by Beetle, and Council Will Act.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—An elm tree pest has struck Oregon City and is causing much concern. The mayor has been taken up with Mayor Hackett, and the City Council will take steps at once to prevent the spread of the beetle.

The elm tree beetle resembles a black caterpillar. The Oregon Agricultural College is busy studying the pest, and reports of these have just arrived at the library. A formula is given for the spray to be applied at the proper time to every portion of the tree infected.

The elm tree beetle is a native of Europe and first made its appearance at Baltimore, Md., in 1824.

JUSTICE CAN'T PAROLE
ATTORNEY - GENERAL RENDERS OPINION TO GAME WARDEN.
Sentence Cannot Be Permanently Suspended and May Be Enforced by Mandamus.

SALEM, Or., July 21.—(Special.)—In response to inquiries from State Game Warden Carl D. Shoemaker and State Fish and Game Commissioner F. M. Warren, Attorney-General Brown holds in an opinion forwarded today that a Justice of the Peace has no power to parole, pardon, or permanently suspend the sentence of a person convicted in his court, but declares that each Justice may temporarily suspend a sentence pending developments as to application for pardons, or similar matters.

The Attorney-General also holds that for a Justice of the Peace to attempt permanently to suspend a sentence is not such a move on his part as to warrant procedure to have him removed because of malfeasance in office.

The remedy, states the Attorney-General, when a Justice of the Peace wrongfully suspends a sentence is by mandamus to compel him to carry out the judgment of the court.
