

Society

Mrs. Jackson Lee Morrow,
(Irene Johnson)
Who Was a Bride of the Past Week. Bushnell.

Miss Blanche Clark,
Hostess of the
Morrow-Johnson Wedding.

Mrs. Ada L. Rose, Who Assisted at
Patriotic Tea. omeira.

north lawn in front of the stately residence. Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett was escorted by Henry Ladd Corbett and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd by Elliott Corbett. When the vows had been exchanged the couple knelt on two white satin cushions and received the blessing pronounced by the bishop. The family and, after them, the guests came forward and, with smiles and special greetings for each, Mr. and Mrs. Green received the good wishes.

The bride made a lovely picture in her gown of creamy white satin. The skirt was made short with a puffy, looped but wonderfully graceful hem and a bodice that was draped at one side with a short sash-looping itself in the folds of the skirt. The sleeves were long and of tulle. The veil was an exquisite one of rare point applique. It was caught by a band of orange blossoms and fell to the full length of the court train. A bunch of orange blossoms was fastened at one side of the girldle-sash. The train was square and depended from the shoulders. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids. The bride's hair was done in the simple, girlish fashion she always observes. Her entire costume was one of simple elegance and good taste, characteristic of the bride herself.

Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett was handsome in white embroidered net. Beneath the flounce of the skirt there peeped a suggestion of rose pink satin over which was a band of real lace. A girldle-sash was arranged in smart fashion with the ends embroidered in silver. The sash was rose color. Mrs. Corbett carried orchids.

Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, mother of the bride, was attired in pink satin draped in silver lace and veiled in pink tulle. She carried pink sweet peas and wore a large garden hat of lavender tulle.

There was such an air of happiness at the wedding—so many pretty girls, numbers of little children, relatives and very dear friends of the bride and bridegroom. Although there were no bridesmaids, a group of the bride's closest friends assembled in the rose arbor just opposite the approach to the lawn, and they were among the first who went forward to offer their good wishes. In this group of girls were the Misses Esther Tucker, Sara McCully, Ruth Teal, Rhoda Rumelin, Elizabeth Jones, Mary Stuart Smith and Harriet Cumming and Mrs. Hallett Maxwell. They were gowned in varying shades of pinks and blues and other dainty colors appropriate for summer garden party frocks and wore picture hats either of tulle or of flowers and the finest straw.

On the south lawn the tables were spread. At the long table were Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. J. G. Gauld and Mrs. Richard Koehler. Mrs. Ayer was attired in a becoming gown of buff chiffon embroidered in brown. Mrs. Koehler was distinguished in a white lace gown. Mrs. Wilcox was admired in a becoming gown of white satin with effective outline trimming of blue beads. Mrs. Edwards wore corn-colored silk crepe. Mrs. Donald Green in a becoming gown of orchid tones, and Miss Sallie Lewis, in white lace, presided at the table, where ices and sherbets were served. Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, in violet, pearly silk and lace, and Mrs. E. E. Cookingham, in blue, served punch at another table.

There was a thrill of excitement when the bride cut the wedding cake. Everyone was still until she had cut out the first slice and then the girls hovered near, ready to receive a share and perhaps to get the mysterious, fateful prizes that were secreted in the cake. The discovery of these prizes created decided merriment. Louise Burrall captured the ring; Mary Stuart Smith found in her cake the coin, the sign that money is coming to her; Margaret Hewitt won the thimble, which used to be a sign of single blessedness and now means patriotic service; Ruth Teal received the wishbone, a golden charm that brings good luck to its possessor.

While the merrymaking was on, the bride went into the residence and suddenly appeared at an upper balcony window, where she paused for a second. Instantly the girls flocked to the lawn beneath and stretched out their hands. The bridal bouquet of white orchids tied with satin and silver ribbons descended and was caught simultaneously by Cornelia Cook, Sara McCully and Elizabeth Jones. There was nothing to do but share the flowers, and so they were divided equally.

And in a little while the bride and bridegroom appeared, ready to depart. Instantly there was a shower of rose petals and they ran for their machine. Mrs. Green wore a traveling costume of dark blue and a hat to match with chic wing trimming. Mr. Green did a very clever thing in choosing for his suitcase one that had seen use before. So, if the wise ones were trying to "spot" the luggage of newlyweds the next day when they went to California, they would have a guessing time of it.

The music at the wedding was one of the delightful features. There is something about an orchestra playing in the out-of-doors in a garden like fairyland that has a peculiar enchantment. Waldemar Lind and his players provided just this alluring feature.

A guest at the wedding who was a center of attraction was the tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green—Donald, Jr., who was Mrs. A. A. Morrison's "escort" and who occupied a place of honor on a rug on the lawn and received the admiration of his relatives and friends.

Mrs. Green, the only child of the J. Wesley Ladds, is one of the most popular and widely beloved girls of society. In civic and philanthropic work she always is a leader. She was the first state leader of the Girls' National Honor Guard and now is president of the Junior League, an organization of society girls who do actual, practical social service work. There is no make-believe about the Junior League girls. They roll up their sleeves and go to work. Just now they are doing Red Cross work.

The bride attended a fashionable Eastern school and since her return has been sought after by society.

Mr. Green is the son of Mrs. C. H. Green, of Saginaw, Mich. He is a brother of Fred and Donald Green and of Mrs. W. Dennison Clark. He attended Saginaw High School, Dr. Holbrook's school, New York, and the United States University. He is a member of the Waverley, University and Multnomah clubs. He has ranching interests in Yamhill County and is now connected with Robertson & Ewing. Mr. Green enlisted with the American Ambulance Service and soon after the return from the wedding trip will leave for France.

Mrs. H. D. Green and her daughter, Mrs. Edward Burr (wife of Colonel Burr), who arrived from San Francisco on Friday, have been delightfully entertained in San Francisco. Mrs. Eleanor Martin, who is a friend in Portland, and who is leader of the smart set there, was hostess recently at a dinner for Mrs. Goode and Mrs. Martin. Additional guests were Mrs. Julia Jorin, Captain and Mrs. Frank P. Helm, Mrs. Ward Barson, Plo Marrott, Maurice Hall, Edward Harvey, Philip Paschel, J. Downey Harvey.

Last Wednesday Colonel and Mrs. Fred W. Sladen gave a delightful dinner to Mrs. Green. The others at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Palmer (Mrs. Palmer is a sister of Mrs. James McCracken, of this city), Miss Green, Mrs. Edward Burr and P. M. Gilmore.

Mrs. Richard Derby gave a very handsome luncheon last week in honor of Mrs. Green at the Town and Country Club. Those in Mrs. Derby's party were: Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Frank P. Helm, Edward Burr, Mrs. Ernest H. Palmer, Mrs. Fred W. Sladen.

Dr. Mary Lansfield Keller was a distinguished visitor in Portland last week. Dr. Keller is National president of the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. She is dean of the women's college of West-hampton, Richmond; a graduate of Goucher, Baltimore, and of the University of Chicago. She also took extensive work in the University of Berlin and Heidelberg.

With Dr. Keller were Mrs. Ford J. Allen, of Chicago; Mrs. George W. Tannahill, of Lewiston, and Mrs. Harvey Backus Wilbur, of Seattle. They came here to attend the 50th jubilee anniversary of Pi Beta Phi. A convention was to have been held at Lake Geneva, but was postponed, due to the fact that Lake Geneva has been turned into a training camp.

The interesting visitors were the inspiration during the time they were in Portland for numerous functions. Dr. Keller and Mrs. Allen were the house guests of Mrs. Frank L. Knight, who gave several smart affairs in honor of the visiting officers. Mrs. Tannahill was the house guest of Mrs. John R. Turner, and Mrs. Fletcher Linn had as her guest Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Linn is a Salem, one of the founders of the fraternity, was an especially invited guest at the reunion.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn gave a tea for the visitors. Mrs. David Botsford also gave a tea at her home in Laurelhurst. In the evening of the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Burton gave a dinner party in the rose dining-room of the Benson Hotel in honor of the visiting officers and the hostesses.

Guests were Dr. Keller, Mrs. Ford J. Allen, Mrs. H. B. Wilbur, Mrs. George Tannahill, Miss Maude Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Knight, Mrs. John R. Turner, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCull, Dr. and Mrs. John W. Hancher and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hancher.

An enjoyable trip up the Columbia River Highway was taken Thursday. The party consisted of Mrs. Linn, for this delightful affair included Mr. John R. Turner, Miss Gertrude Blackmar, Miss Florence Knapp and Miss Margaret Elliott.

On the last day of their visit they installed the Corvallis Delta Mu girls as Pi Beta Phi.

The fraternity officers visited Eugene and were entertained by members of the organization and women of prominence.

Guests left for California at the close of their social pleasure and official duties.

Among the Oregonians in California, John C. Davis, and family, are temporarily situated at the Peninsula Hotel. Mrs. Lewis and her young son Couch make frequent trips to San Francisco and the Presidio, where Mr. Lewis has many friends.

Mrs. Harry W. Goode is at the St. Francis Hotel. She is having a delightful visit and is in the midst of all the gaieties of the social world there.

Harry Reed, son of Mrs. Charles Jerome Reed, is at the training post at the Presidio. There are rumors of his engagement to a very charming girl, daughter of an Army officer there.

Mrs. S. M. Mears, Jr. (Alice Robinson), of Woodland, Wash., was here a few days with her sister, Mrs. Milton W. Merschkul.

Miss Alice Agnes Hutchins and Mark M. Mathieson, who married at St. Mark's Episcopal church, by Rev. John E. H. Simpson at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Hutchins is a graduate of Stanford University and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Since her graduation she has been a teacher in the Jefferson High School.

M. Mathieson is a graduate of Harvard College and the Stanford University law school. He is associated in the practice of law with the firm of Wood, Montague, Hunt & Cookingham. He is also a member of the University and Multnomah clubs.

they would have a guessing time of it. The music at the wedding was one of the delightful features. There is something about an orchestra playing in the out-of-doors in a garden like fairyland that has a peculiar enchantment. Waldemar Lind and his players provided just this alluring feature.

A guest at the wedding who was a center of attraction was the tiny son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Green—Donald, Jr., who was Mrs. A. A. Morrison's "escort" and who occupied a place of honor on a rug on the lawn and received the admiration of his relatives and friends.

Mrs. Green, the only child of the J. Wesley Ladds, is one of the most popular and widely beloved girls of society. In civic and philanthropic work she always is a leader. She was the first state leader of the Girls' National Honor Guard and now is president of the Junior League, an organization of society girls who do actual, practical social service work. There is no make-believe about the Junior League girls. They roll up their sleeves and go to work. Just now they are doing Red Cross work.

The bride attended a fashionable Eastern school and since her return has been sought after by society.

Mr. Green is the son of Mrs. C. H. Green, of Saginaw, Mich. He is a brother of Fred and Donald Green and of Mrs. W. Dennison Clark. He attended Saginaw High School, Dr. Holbrook's school, New York, and the United States University. He is a member of the Waverley, University and Multnomah clubs. He has ranching interests in Yamhill County and is now connected with Robertson & Ewing. Mr. Green enlisted with the American Ambulance Service and soon after the return from the wedding trip will leave for France.

Mrs. H. D. Green and her daughter, Mrs. Edward Burr (wife of Colonel Burr), who arrived from San Francisco on Friday, have been delightfully entertained in San Francisco. Mrs. Eleanor Martin, who is a friend in Portland, and who is leader of the smart set there, was hostess recently at a dinner for Mrs. Goode and Mrs. Martin. Additional guests were Mrs. Julia Jorin, Captain and Mrs. Frank P. Helm, Mrs. Ward Barson, Plo Marrott, Maurice Hall, Edward Harvey, Philip Paschel, J. Downey Harvey.

Last Wednesday Colonel and Mrs. Fred W. Sladen gave a delightful dinner to Mrs. Green. The others at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Palmer (Mrs. Palmer is a sister of Mrs. James McCracken, of this city), Miss Green, Mrs. Edward Burr and P. M. Gilmore.

Mrs. Richard Derby gave a very handsome luncheon last week in honor of Mrs. Green at the Town and Country Club. Those in Mrs. Derby's party were: Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Mrs. Frank P. Helm, Edward Burr, Mrs. Ernest H. Palmer, Mrs. Fred W. Sladen.

Dr. Mary Lansfield Keller was a distinguished visitor in Portland last week. Dr. Keller is National president of the Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. She is dean of the women's college of West-hampton, Richmond; a graduate of Goucher, Baltimore, and of the University of Chicago. She also took extensive work in the University of Berlin and Heidelberg.

With Dr. Keller were Mrs. Ford J. Allen, of Chicago; Mrs. George W. Tannahill, of Lewiston, and Mrs. Harvey Backus Wilbur, of Seattle. They came here to attend the 50th jubilee anniversary of Pi Beta Phi. A convention was to have been held at Lake Geneva, but was postponed, due to the fact that Lake Geneva has been turned into a training camp.

The interesting visitors were the inspiration during the time they were in Portland for numerous functions. Dr. Keller and Mrs. Allen were the house guests of Mrs. Frank L. Knight, who gave several smart affairs in honor of the visiting officers.

Mrs. Tannahill was the house guest of Mrs. John R. Turner, and Mrs. Fletcher Linn had as her guest Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Linn is a Salem, one of the founders of the fraternity, was an especially invited guest at the reunion.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn gave a tea for the visitors. Mrs. David Botsford also gave a tea at her home in Laurelhurst. In the evening of the same day, Mr. and Mrs. Burton gave a dinner party in the rose dining-room of the Benson Hotel in honor of the visiting officers and the hostesses.

Guests were Dr. Keller, Mrs. Ford J. Allen, Mrs. H. B. Wilbur, Mrs. George Tannahill, Miss Maude Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Knight, Mrs. John R. Turner, Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCull, Dr. and Mrs. John W. Hancher and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hancher.

An enjoyable trip up the Columbia River Highway was taken Thursday. The party consisted of Mrs. Linn, for this delightful affair included Mr. John R. Turner, Miss Gertrude Blackmar, Miss Florence Knapp and Miss Margaret Elliott.

On the last day of their visit they installed the Corvallis Delta Mu girls as Pi Beta Phi.

The fraternity officers visited Eugene and were entertained by members of the organization and women of prominence.

Guests left for California at the close of their social pleasure and official duties.

Among the Oregonians in California, John C. Davis, and family, are temporarily situated at the Peninsula Hotel. Mrs. Lewis and her young son Couch make frequent trips to San Francisco and the Presidio, where Mr. Lewis has many friends.

Mrs. Harry W. Goode is at the St. Francis Hotel. She is having a delightful visit and is in the midst of all the gaieties of the social world there.

Harry Reed, son of Mrs. Charles Jerome Reed, is at the training post at the Presidio. There are rumors of his engagement to a very charming girl, daughter of an Army officer there.

Mrs. S. M. Mears, Jr. (Alice Robinson), of Woodland, Wash., was here a few days with her sister, Mrs. Milton W. Merschkul.

Miss Alice Agnes Hutchins and Mark M. Mathieson, who married at St. Mark's Episcopal church, by Rev. John E. H. Simpson at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Hutchins is a graduate of Stanford University and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Since her graduation she has been a teacher in the Jefferson High School.

M. Mathieson is a graduate of Harvard College and the Stanford University law school. He is associated in the practice of law with the firm of Wood, Montague, Hunt & Cookingham. He is also a member of the University and Multnomah clubs.

The wedding came as a great surprise to their many friends as it was a private affair attended by the immediate members of the family and a very few most intimate friends.

After a sojourn at various points around the base of Mount Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson will make their home in this city.

Bargains bigger than ever.
No letup to Emporium's annual

RUMMAGE!

Monday Brings a Greater Sacrifice of SUITS and COATS

Don't let an opportunity like this pass. Get a suit or coat in this sale. Garments that are just the thing for vacation or traveling. By all means be here Monday.

Suits that are worth two and three times this price. Desirable styles—fine materials. Every Summer wool suit included—

$10 & $15

Further reduction on coats that will bring you here Monday. Worth many times this price. Three lots—

$10-$12.50-$15

To $5.95 Sports Skirts, $1.95

Swagger Sports Skirts in striped and figured designs. Several models—all sizes. Extra Rummage Bargain for Monday $1.95.

To $7 Fiber Sweaters, $3.25

Pretty Fiber Sweaters, mostly small sizes, excellent for misses or small women. Absolute values to $7. Rummage Sale price $3.25.

Fine Silk Petticoats, $2.55

Fitted top, soft taffeta silk, all wanted shades, worth about twice this price.

An extra added Rummage value—

Genuine White Italian Milans, to go at

What woman won't come in a hurry for these genuine Milan straws, for a price like this? Our entire stock is included. Six stunning shapes to select from. Jaunty cushion brim effects. For Monday, while they last.....

$2.98

Come early Monday to take advantage of these timely bargains.

EMPORIUM
Z. SWETT CO.
124-128 Sixth St. Just off Washington

No C. O. D.'s, approvals, exchanges or deliveries.

Burnell are stationed. The officers of the bridegroom's regiment attended him and Miss Winifred Martin, daughter of Colonel Martin, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids lived for five years and have a wide circle of friends who will be interested in the marriage. So quickly were the plans made that no announcements were issued at the time. A large ceremony had been planned for the Fall, but war conditions changed all the plans and so Mrs. Melndoe and her daughter went down from Fort Leavenworth to Fort Bliss and the marriage was solemnized.

Mrs. Oscar R. Menefee entertained last Saturday informally at the Multnomah Hotel for dancing and a supper. The evening was planned for Miss Elizabeth Menefee.

Miss Marjorie McGuire, who has graduated from Wellesley recently, returned to Portland a short time ago and is being entertained at the many informal festivities for the younger set. She was the guest of her cousins, the Henry P. Davidsons, in New York and is being entertained at the many informal festivities for the younger set.

Mrs. Margaret Elliott, Elizabeth Ducey, Jean Stevens, Dorothy McGuire, Preston Holt, Minor Keeler, Frank McChener, Read Ellsworth, Alvin Edwin Shea and Mr. and Mrs. McGuire.

Miss Elizabeth Ducey entertained on Saturday for Miss Elliott. A house dance and supper afforded pleasure for the younger set.

Elizabeth Kirby was hostess on Friday at a jolly outing at Columbia Park for the younger society set.

Mrs. J. C. F. Grumbine (Mary Otto) visiting here at present. Mrs. Grumbine, since she lived in Portland, has traveled extensively and has been around the world and to almost every country. Her present home is in Cleveland, O. The Grumbines were at the Portland Hotel for a few days and now are at Villa St. Clara. They are visiting Mrs. Grumbine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Otto. Dr. Grumbine is giving a series of Sunday night lectures at Villa St. Clara ballroom. His subject this Sunday night will be "Auras and Colors." The time is 8 o'clock. A number of friends of the Grumbines are planning to attend. The speaker is an author and lecturer of note. They will be here for two more weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cotton entertained during the week at dinner at Chanticleer Inn.

Mrs. P. Weyerhaeuser, of Tacoma, who is a visitor in Portland, entertained at the inn Wednesday for Mrs. J. R. Jewett, of Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. S. S. Davis, of Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. R. M. Weyerhaeuser, of St. Paul; Nan Weyerhaeuser and J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., of Tacoma.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 28.—(Special.)—A family reunion held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Melndrum, of Melndrum station, on Wednesday afternoon proved to be a most enjoyable affair. One of the pleasing features of the afternoon was the serving of the banquet beneath the shades of the huge maple trees near the Melndrum residence. The tables were prettily decorated with cut flowers. Judge and Mrs. Melndrum were most charming host and hostess, and many reminiscences of the early days were given during the afternoon. The children of the late Mrs. Melndrum in attendance were Mrs. M. O. Moore, of Portland; John W. Melndrum, of Melndrum station; Mrs. Sarah M. McCown, of Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. D. P. Thompson, of Portland, and Henry Melndrum, of Sioux River, near Eugene. Others in attendance were Mrs. J. N. Teal and daughter, Miss Ruth, of Portland; Miss Genevieve Thompson, of Portland; Ralph Thompson, of Vancouver, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Geller and son, Charles, of Eugene; Miss Irene McCow, of Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. Nancy Jacobs, of Portland (who came across the plains with Mrs. Melndrum); Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Melndrum and sons, David Hammond, Melndrum and John William Melndrum, of Oregon City; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Melndrum, of Melndrum station; Dr. Henrietta Moore, of Moscow, Idaho; Miss Bertha Moore, of Portland; L. N. Bellinger, of St. Johns; Gordon Bellinger, of the Third Oregon Regiment; Mrs. Harley Stevens, Jr., and sons, Harley and Henry, of Portland, the latter two being great-grandsons of the late Mrs. Melndrum; Mrs. H. C. Stevens, Sr., and daughter, Miss Muriel Stevens, of Oregon City.

SCHWEITZER & EAGIN
Ladies' Tailoring
392½ WASHINGTON

If one be interested in getting a "use up" on the conditions of social affairs in the United States, a perusal of the Summer social register of the United States is food for thought. The salient feature of the increase of 25 per cent in the number of society marriages in the months of April, May and June.

Among the society folk there are noted from April 1 to date the marriages.

(Continued on Page 4.)

In Eastern Fashion Centers

If there is anything you'd like or would like to have suggested that is out of the ordinary, our Miss Henrietta Kagi is en route East to study the styles for our Fall and Winter requirements.

WE'LL be glad to ask her by mail or wire to follow your suggestions you may care to make—there will be no charge for this personal service.

Lennon's
Chas. F. Berg, Vice-Pres. and Mgr.
309 Morrison St., P. O. Opposite.

Enke's
CITY DYE WORKS
B East
1194 7300

Miss Ruth Mar Quinn, an Attractive Belle of Oakland, Cal., With Her Mother, Mrs. A. W. Quinn, and her Classmate, Miss Vera McKenna, of Reno, Is Being Entertained Extensively in Portland. The Girls Have Returned From a Fashionable School in New York and Will Leave Soon for California.