

TROOPS ASKED FOR

Request Comes From Governor of Idaho by Telegram.

APPEAL IS NOT GRANTED

Trouble Feared in Coeur d'Alene District in Connection With I. W. W. Demonstration Over Funeral of Lynched Man.

Governor Moses Alexander, of Idaho, has asked Colonel Charles E. Dentler, United States Army, in command of the military district embracing the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, with headquarters at Portland, to rush troops into the Coeur d'Alene mining district today.

In his telegraphic request for Federal soldiers, Governor Alexander said trouble was feared in connection with I. W. W. demonstrations over the funeral of Frank Little, the I. W. W. leader, who was lynched at Butte.

Colonel Dentler said last night that troops would not be sent unless there appeared to be more of a need for them than the Governor's telegram indicated. He was inclined to believe, on the strength of information received last night, that the prospect of any disturbance was not great, and that the local authorities should be able to handle the situation without difficulty.

At the same time, Colonel Dentler said that if developments seemed to make the sending of troops advisable he would send them. Soldiers could be rushed into the district from points much nearer to it than Portland in short order.

RESISTERS FACE CHARGES

opportunity for such persons, or for someone else in respect to them to present to the Government reasons why they should not be finally ordered to report for military duty. If such persons do not appear and present these reasons they have simply neglected to take advantage of an opportunity that was offered solely for their benefit.

Enrollment Follows Posting.

The failure of persons to take advantage of this opportunity does not interfere with the raising of the army and interests the Government only as a punishable crime of omission. If they do not desire to make any such claims, or, if for any other reason, they fail to appear, their names are automatically posted as having been called and not exempted or discharged. Automatically, also, they are inducted into the military service and made subject to military law. Failure to appear merely hastens the automatic process.

When the time allowed for making these claims has elapsed, these persons will be enrolled as in the military service. They then will be ordered to appear as soldiers. From this point on they will be under the swift and summary procedure of court-martial. Failure to report for military duty when ordered to do so constitutes desertion. Desertion in time of war is a capital offense.

Whole Army is Available.

Deserters may be apprehended by either civil or military authority, and after the mandate of the Federal Government has gone forth the whole strength of the military arm of the Government is available to apprehend deserters; if it is necessary to use such force.

Demonstrations against local boards are simply futile strokes in the air. All records necessary to hold such persons are already on file at state headquarters and at the National Capital, and since local boards have no occasion to use any force in simply offering a beneficial opportunity to registered persons there is no field for resistance. If resistance is attempted later when the Army seeks to apprehend deserters it will instantly encounter troops of the Federal Government.

Limited Time Given.

In practice under General Crowder's construction of the law, registered men who do not appear for examination will be posted to the district boards as selected for military service as soon as the five-day period allowed them to put in an appearance after they have been summoned has elapsed. Two days more will elapse after their names reach the district board to await appeal action by the individual. The time will be posted to the Adjutant-General of the state as selected to fill the quotas of their district.

Orders for the mobilization of the selected men will be given some time during the present month. If the resister fails to obey that order he will be set down as absent without leave and the machinery will be set in motion to bring him in. When it is clear that he is without intention of reporting with no intention of reporting himself to the Army, a charge of desertion will be placed against him. From that time on any civil arrests him will earn a reward of $50.

President Alone Can Pardon.

If found guilty by court martial of desertion, the individual may be sentenced to death and only the President can save him from punishment. General Crowder believes that the resisters in Oklahoma and elsewhere are acting to their own detriment. He probably by agitators, that they are conducting a political campaign against the draft, whereas the time for that passed when the registration was completed.

The Government takes no interest in their proceedings now unless they fail to report to their companies when called. There is no question involved of civil court or local juries. Thirteen Army officers will pass on the cases of the men when they are brought to book and the armed strength of the Nation is available to bring them to book.

As to those who are aiding or abetting the resisters, the situation is different. While the Government will make no effort to bring in men who do not obey the law, the Government will see to it that the local section boards or attempt to enforce their attendance in any way until they have passed into the military status, it will use every energy to stamp out the disorders designed to prevent the execution of the Federal laws. Such a step, however, would not be taken until the Governors asked for military forces to restore order.

General Crowder also took action today to reduce the number of applications for exemption which news reports indicate are being filed. In a telegram to all Governors, he directed that local boards be instructed to furnish to newspapers hereafter, from day to day, names of all registered men who apply for exemption, the grounds asserted to support such claim, and the action taken by the board. In cases of discharge for physical disqualifications this does not apply, as they are not cases where exemption is claimed, but are the result of rejection by a board.

Officials believe the effect of this order will be to curb applications for exemption to a large extent. Men who do not have legitimate excuses are not expected to court the scorn of neighbors, who would recognize the weakness of their pleas when published. Men whose cases are clear, however, and who are entitled to exemption, officials believe, will be glad to have their neighbors know their circumstances, and that it is not lack of patriotism or fear which has prompted them to seek relief from military service. Exemption in such cases, officials declare, will be generally approved, and the parents and relatives of boys who will be taken are entitled to know why the boys of their neighbors were not taken.

Far from regarding the progress of the selection process as slow, General Crowder believes strides are being made. If reports were available tonight, he said, from each of the 4600 local boards, it would be shown that many thousands of men already have been passed, and are now merely awaiting orders to join the colors. An accurate estimate of the number in this class is not obtainable.

MEN IN CAMP ARE LUCKY

REMAINING STUDENT OFFICERS ARE RECOMMENDED.

Men of Maturity and Experience in Leadership Favored in Eliminating Young Aspirants.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Barring unforeseen contingencies, every man remaining in the Reserve Officers' training camp here may consider that he has been recommended for a commission, it was learned here today. Those who failed or recommendation have departed by hundreds in the last few days, bolstered by the War Department's suggestion that they enlist with prospect for a non-commissioned officer's post immediately and a chance at a commission later on. A few will be held over for the second training camp.

No official list of commissions and those who get them will be given out, at any time, in the opinion of Army authorities here. Each successful man will be advised by telegraph from the War Department. It also was announced that a list of the men now in camp would not be available, for military reasons. Failure to be recommended for a commission carried, in a large number of instances, no reflection on the candidate's physical or mental ability, it was pointed out. Many young men were passed over because others more mature and seasoned were available. The process was that of selecting the best from a consistently high class of men and experience in handling men was deemed an important factor. Many young men lacked this altogether.

CHICAGO RIOTERS ARE HELD

Threat at War Preparations Seen in I. W. W. Attitude.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A riot this afternoon near the L. Wolff Manufacturing Company's plant, which was participated in by more than 300 men and women, was followed late today by the arrest of 15 of the riot leaders by Federal agents. I. W. W. agitators are charged with fomenting the demonstration.

Those arrested are now said to be under investigation to determine if the riots were intended as a threat at war preparations, the Wolff Company having contracts to furnish military equipment for Army and Navy training camps.

W. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the I. W. W., denied that his organization had any connection with recent labor trouble at the Wolff plant.

TARS TO MOBILIZE

Second Battalion, Naval Militia, to Leave Thursday.

40 RECRUITS ARE WANTED

Two Hundred Men Already Are in Organization, Which Probably Is Last to Be Formed in Oregon in Present Crisis.

The Second Battalion, Oregon Naval Militia, comprising the Second, Third and Fourth divisions, approximately 200 men strong, will mobilize in Portland next Wednesday preparatory to moving to Seattle the following day.

Official orders directing the mobilization were received yesterday by Lieutenant Harold C. Jones, junior grade, commanding the battalion, from the commander of the Naval Militia training camp on the University of Washington grounds at Seattle. Lieutenant Jones last night was notifying the men of the Naval Militia at their homes in various parts of Oregon to mobilize at the Portland Armory at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, August 8, for roll call.

At 8:15 o'clock Thursday morning the battalion will entrain for the University of Washington training camp. Forty More Recruits Wanted. In the meantime, Lieutenant Jones has given orders for a final whirlwind recruiting campaign in the endeavor to bring the battalion to its full war strength of 240 men by Wednesday night. Enlistments will be accepted up to the departure of the organization, unless it is up to full strength before that time.

Recruiting headquarters are at Fourth and Washington streets, where Ensign J. L. Whitaker is in charge. This probably will be the last opportunity Oregon men will have to join the state's Naval Militia, for indications now are that no more divisions will be formed.

Lieutenant Jones commands the Second Battalion, and the officers in command of its three divisions are as follows: Second Division—Ensign Robert N. Manly, senior division officer; no junior division officer.

Third Division—Ensign Frank B. Upshaw, senior division officer; no junior division officer.

Fourth division—Ensign J. L. Whitaker, senior division officer; Ensign Bernard McDonald, junior division officer.

Commissions Must Wait. Owing to the shortness of the time between now and the mobilization Lieutenant Jones said it will not be possible to get out papers commissioning Arthur A. Hall as ensign and J. E. Kenefick as pay clerk, promotions that were recommended to the Navy Department yesterday by George A. White, Adjutant-General of the Oregon National Guard.

They will go to the University of Washington training camp with the status of enlisted men, but will be commissioned as soon as the proper papers arrive from Washington.

Sergeant Hall gave up a position with the Southern Pacific Company, where for seven years he had been handling the accounting and filing system in the company's offices here, to enlist as a private in the National Guard.

Lieutenant Jones announced last night that several citizens and the Portland and Multnomah hotels have offered to provide quarters for members of the Naval Militia from out of the city pending their mobilization. Reed College also has offered to look after a large number of men.

FUEL SHORTAGE ALARMS

UMATILLA FARMERS SEND S. O. S. TO GOVERNOR.

Manager of Standard Oil Company at Pendleton Reports Stock of Distillate Received.

PENDLETON, Or., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Alarmed by a temporary shortage of distillate here yesterday, Umatilla County farmers today telegraphed to Governor Withycombe and to the State Council of Defense, meeting in Portland, asking relief from the possibility of a more serious shortage during the harvest season.

The trouble yesterday, Manager Roy DeWitt, of the Standard Oil Company here explained, was caused by a sudden demand, on the part of several farmers, for large amounts of distillate in preparation for their harvest runs.

The storage plant of the company here is small and an application for permission to enlarge it was refused by the Council a few months ago. Mr. DeWitt said that his supplies arrived this morning. There has been no shortage of gasoline. Nearly all of the larger farmers of the district use motor power, and a shortage of fuel during the harvest season would work irreparable damage here.

Roseburg Undertaker Named.

ROSEBURG, Or., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—M. E. Ritter, a Roseburg undertaker, today was appointed County Coroner to succeed Dr. C. B. Wade, who left last night for Bremerton, Wash., to serve the naval service. Dr. Wade will serve as assistant surgeon.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—L. E. Livenshire, a mining man of Kellogg, Idaho, and Mrs. Carrie Blanchard, of Portland, were married here Friday. They registered at the Arlington Hotel.

Mrs. Clara Blanchard's Portland address is at 6414 Sixty-fourth avenue Southeast, and she left Portland several days ago to be married to L. E. Livenshire, a mining engineer, who for some time was stationed at Hubbard, Or. Mrs. Blanchard is the widow of the late Dr. Clayton Blanchard, a dentist, and is herself a trained nurse. She is well known in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard will make their home at Kellogg, Idaho.

CURRY INVESTMENTS MADE

New York Capitalists Plan to Develop Platinum Properties.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—L. B. Newby, a New York capitalist, has invested heavily in Curry County leases where platinum has been prospected and will return here in October with other capitalists to establish mines on the Madden property, adjoining the Sixes River, not far from the Curry County highway.

It is the plan of the company Mr. Newby represents to open the first mine on a 500-yard daily capacity and begin work in November, at the commencement of the rainy season. The prospecting extended over a year and was done by H. L. Harris, an Eastern mining and chemical expert.
