WITH the opening of the schools this week society will be back in town, for after all, the children are the most important members of the families. The boys and girls who are to attend public or private schools must have new clothes and shoes and books and the mothers will be busy people. Then the older brothers and sisters will be going away to college or finishing school and they will demand consideration. The brides-to-be will receive social honors and the young officers will be in town occasionally for brief visits at the week end; so, taking into consideration all of these facts and the many benefits and the Red Cross work that is to be done, there will be no lack of work for the maids and matrons who will stay at home this Fall and Winter.

It's going to seem far harder to stay than to leave in many cases, for the common, every-day task seems trifling at times as compared with the bigger sacrifices, but the little duties are every bit as important, for without them the big ones could not be. There will be hardly a woman who will not study some form of patriotic service this year. Some will sew, some will knit, others will superintend their own kitchens and save that they may give more, others will take up nursing and others study dietetics; but no matter what the work, it will make the women of this country more efficient, broader, better. It will give them a better understanding of the needs of humanity. It will make them feel that to the poor and the unfortunate they are sisters, for all are working and giving for the one cause, democracy. The benefits that are given will be for the soldier boys, no matter whether they be the sons of the laboring man or the millionaire, they are working side by side for the women who plan the benefit entertainments, dances and parties will do their part loyally and enthusiastically.

The month of September will be notable in that it will mark a large number of weddings. Of course the center of interest this week will be the marriage of Miss Claire Wilcox and Cameron Squires. The ceremony will be at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox at 4:30 o'clock Saturday. Only relatives, intimate friends and the young girls who have been Miss Wilcox's close companions will be in attendance. There are several guests at Glenwood who will be among those in the city for the ceremony.

Miss Virginia McDonough, always a delightful and lovely young hostess, planned a most attractive dancing party for the early part of the week when she entertained for Miss Katherine Clark, of Spokane. Miss McDonough chose the Waverley Country Club as the setting for her party and it is the occasion on which to announce the betrothal of one of Portland's charming society girls, Isabelle Macleay, who is to become the bride of Lovelle D. Winters.

Miss Macleay is the daughter of Mrs. E. Lee Barnes and the late Kenneth Macleay and the niece of the late Donald Macleay. She is a cousin of Roderick Macleay, of this city, and Mrs. Joseph D. Grant, of San Francisco. Miss Macleay is a charming girl and decidedly popular. Mr. Winters is well known in business circles and in clubdom. He is associated with his father, A. J. Winters, in the automobile accessories business.

For the announcement Miss McDonough planned a special decoration to center the honor table. Two large hearts made of pink flowers were banked side by side and pierced with a golden arrow and on a blue ribbon that crossed them were engraved in golden letters the initials of the engaged pair. The favors were golden souvenirs. Those who were invited to sit at the special "engagement table" were Mrs. E. Lee Barnes, Mr. Frank Mrs. Roderick Macleay, Miss Jean Mackenzie, Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Isabella Macleay, Miss Marion Smith, Lovelle Winters, Howard Charlton, Eugene Oppenheimer, Graham Glass, Jr., Captain Brazer, of California, and George Stanley. Those who had received the guests on their arrival included Mrs. G. C. von Egloffstein, mother of the hostess; Mrs. Sherman O'Gorman, Miss Clark and Miss McDonough. Among the out-of-town guests who attended this delightful festivity were Miss Warren and Mr. Warren, of New York, who are guests of the Theodore B. Wilcox's; Captain Brazer, with Graham Glass; Mr. Vickery and Mr. Hutchison, guests of Clark and William Burghard; Ed Powers, of Berkeley, guest of Colin Livingston. Many of the men wore uniforms. Miss Katherine Clark was attired in flesh-colored chiffon taffeta trimmed with silver lace and garlands of chiffron roses. A touch of blue at the girdle completed the effect. Miss Virginia McDonough wore electric blue and cloth of silver. She carried a watermelon-colored feather fan and a bouquet of orchids. Miss Isabella Macleay wore white tulle over silk. Miss Rhoda Rumelin was attired in blue satin trimmed with coral satin. Miss Harriet Cumming wore flame-colored chiffon over silk with Persian trimming. Her fan was of black feathers. Miss Virginia Menefee was gowned in turquoise satin with silk net trimmings and corsage of orchids. Miss Dorothy Strowbridge was gowned in watermelon-pink tulle over white net and cloth of silver made a pretty effect. Mrs. von Egloffstein was handsome in cream net and lace with taffeta trimming. Mrs. O'Gorman was beautiful in a stunning gown made entirely of opalescent sequins on net. The guest list included: Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Josephine Andrews, Mrs. Hazel Litt, Messrs. and Mesdames Alan Green, Maurice Grumppacker, Elliott Corbett, Henry L. Corbett, Charles Miller, Dennis Clark, Gilbert Durham, Jack Latourette, Norman Kupp, Messrs. Coe McKenna, Hallet Maxwell, Paul Miller, Harry Scott, Chester Murphy, E. Lee Barnes, Roderick Macleay, Spencer Bidle, Frank Burke, Dr. and Mrs. Dickson; the Messrs. Evelyn Carey, Isabella Macleay, Virginia Menefee, Elizabeth Menefee, Claire Wilcox, Ruth Smith, Sally Hunt, Rhoda Rumelin, Ruth Teal, Sara McCully, Elizabeth Jones, Esther Jones, Kate Hart, Jean Morrison, Katherine Hoyt, Helen Honeyman, Helen Farrell, Antoinette Mear, Margery Hoffman, Molly Kilner, Louise Burroll, Esther Tucker, W. O. Guthrie, Cornelia Stanley, Katharine Graham, Charlotte Ladd, Alice Smith, Helen Wortman, Isabella Gault, Mary Stuart Smith, Harriet Cumming, Dorothy Strowbridge, Mary Bacon, Clementine Lambert, Louise Carwell, Jean Macken-

Miss McDonough were special guests at a dinner given by Graham Glass, Jr., at the University Club. On Tuesday a dinner by Major McDowell was the feature. Miss Clark and Miss McDonough left on Thursday for Seattle.

Mrs. Henry W. Metzger, soprano soloist, and Miss Mamie Helen Flynn, pianist, presented a brilliant and delightful program on Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. cantonment at Vancouver for the pleasure of the soldiers stationed there. After a group of songs by Mrs. Metzger, accompanied by Miss Flynn, the girls led the soldiers in a community sing in which all joined. Among the songs the boys sing best are "Just Before the Battle, Mother" and "A Perfect Day." They made an urgent plea for both of these. "The Old Folks at Home," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" seemed to be among the old favorites the lads liked to sing, and of course some of the more modern songs came in for a goodly share of appreciation. The soloist gave classic and many selections from the programs given at her Red Cross concert at the Multnomah Hotel on her return from New York. These programs are arranged by Miss Flynn.

Miss Isabella Gault left Wednesday for San Francisco, where she will take a thorough course in dietetics to fit herself for expert work in case her country needs her services. Miss Gault is a firm believer in the importance of special training for all girls, whether rich or poor, as a matter of efficiency in social or civic life or in the everyday tasks of the home. She is one of the many society girls of Portland to take up serious work along special lines this year.

Mrs. T. H. Beverly entertained on Wednesday for Mrs. Samuel Frederick Wilson. Mrs. Jack Latourette and Mrs. Clay poured. Miss Clay and Miss Gertrude May assisted about the rooms. Mrs. Wilson recently returned from her wedding trip and has a beautiful suite of rooms at the Multnomah Hotel.

As a signal for much entertaining September turned the leaf of the social calendar and the approaching wedding of Miss Claire Wilcox inspired some of the most charming festivities of the year. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox entertained a few of the prominent matrons in compliment to Mrs. George Squires, who has come from Saginaw, Mich., to attend the wedding of Miss Wilcox and Cameron Squires. In the evening Gerald SooySmith was host at a gay dinner for the bridal party. He chose the Waverley Golf Club as the delightful setting for his festivity.

On Monday Charles Holbrook will pay tribute to the bridal party with a dinner at the University Club and on Tuesday Miss Ruth Teal, one of the bridesmaids, will have a dinner dance at Forrester Hall, on the Columbia River Highway.

On Wednesday night Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett will be hostess at a dinner

We wish to announce our

FASHION SHOW

at the

LIBERTY THEATER

Monday Afternoon and Monday Evening
As a Special Labor Day Attraction

Along With the Extraordinary Picture Show, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," Featuring George M. Cohan and Fatty Arbuckle, in "His Wedding Night."

Eighteen beautiful garments, fashion's loveliest for Fall, will be shown on LIVING MODELS. One particularly handsome coat will be displayed. It is designed in crystal cloth in the new shade of "deer," trimmed in Hudson seal. A band of the fur, a foot and a half deep, finishes the bottom, as it also forms the cuffs and a very deep square collar. A soft crush belt of the cloth with a large bone buckle in the front and two buttons of fur in the back, holds the full folds in place. The coat is fully lined in a rich plaid silk, and is priced at $140.

An exquisite suit of Jap blue chiffon broadcloth has the high choker collar of kid-coney fur, while a four-inch band of the fur trims the front of the knee-length coat. This suit is priced at $87.50.

A perfectly darling dance frock of silver cloth and yards and yards of black tulle, in butterfly effect, will also be one of the striking things shown. It is priced at $32.50.

Space won't permit of any further descriptions—you will just have to see the show yourself to become acquainted with the prettiest new styles for the Fall season. And then come into the store and try on the new things. Right now everything is so fresh and lovely—Suits, Coats, Waists, Dresses, Millinery—everything for the new season.
