

WOMEN'S SOCIETY

A Trio of Eastern Star Women Who Are Active in the Benefit Dance for Masonic Home, to Be Held Saturday, September 29

Mrs. J. R. Callahan

Mrs. Maud H. Gilles, Chairman of Committee.

Mrs. Julius A. Ditz

cepted the position as a member of the librarian staff of the New York Library Association. Miss Brock also has reached the Eastern city.

Complimenting Miss Cornelia Cook, who soon will leave for New York to pass the winter, Mrs. George Maxwell entertained with an informal tea on Wednesday at her home.

The women's societies of the First Presbyterian Church have issued invitations for an informal reception to honor Mrs. T. Hunter Wells, recently returned from the Chinese missionaries. The reception will be held in the chapel of the church from 3 to 5 o'clock, and it is a part of "Reception Week," being featured by the church societies. The affair will be a general gathering of all women of the congregation. Members and strangers will receive a cordial welcome, and an opportunity to become acquainted will be given them. All are invited.

The hostesses for the afternoon will be: The Women's Association, Mrs. A. E. Butterfield, president; the Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. James Ewing, president; Westminster Guild Fidelity Chapter, Mrs. Eugene Bond, president; Westminster Guild, Linn Chapter, Miss Grace Mackenzie, president; the Red Cross and Knitting Units.

A big benefit dance for the Eighteenth Regiment, Engineers Railway, Company F, is being planned for the evening of Wednesday, October 19, in the Multnomah Hotel. The hotel will be hosts for the affair, as a part of the celebration of the anniversary of the opening. All the Vancouver Bark-racks, men who can obtain leave will attend, and everyone in town is cordially invited. A concert will be given the same evening in the lobby of the hotel by the Elks' Band, and a special birthday dinner will be served in the Arcadian Gardens.

The proceeds of the ball will be used to supply the needs of Company F.

More than 500 12-inch knitted or crocheted squares are accumulated at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Morrison, 83 Trinity place, for the wounded soldiers abroad. Mrs. Morrison urgently requests that all the women and children who are making these squares turn them in to her at Trinity rectory not later than Thursday, and as early as possible that day so that she may be able to get the squares packed and ready to be shipped to London, October 1. This is the first consignment, and is a creditable one and comes from the entire State of Oregon. During the summer months school children at home or at the summer resorts as well as in the playgrounds, worked assiduously at these squares, making them of all odds and ends of yarn, every conceivable color being knitted or crocheted into the various squares. These in turn are made into gay and warm quilts for the wounded soldiers by the committee of Red Cross women in London, and are called "Serbian blankets."

An exhibition of the squares will be held Thursday at the guild room of Trinity parish house, to which all those interested are invited. The work of making these squares will continue during the winter, or rather, the duration of the war, as the warm covers for the men's cots have become most necessary and afford them not only comfort, but a great deal of pleasure is derived from the riot of coloring.

Miss Emma Shepard, who has been summing at her cottage in Seaside for the past three months, returned Friday night to Portland.

Miss Amelle Samuels and Clyde Collins, both of this city, surprised their numerous friends here by their marriage in San Francisco on Tuesday. The wedding was a simple affair, and only attended by a few close friends of the couple. Immediately following they left for a wedding trip and will return shortly to Portland. Mr. Collins is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Collins, of Vancouver, Wash., and is in his senior year at the medical school of University of Oregon.

Mrs. Collins is a charming little woman, exceptionally pretty and very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira F. Powers have chosen their handsome home at Palestine Hill, Rivers, and are now domiciled in the Charles Moore residence, at East Fifteenth and Wasco streets, for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Cook and children are making their home in apartments at the Mallory Hotel for a few months.

Mrs. John L. May, who will leave early in October, for South Carolina with Colonel May, will be the honor guest at a reception to be given Friday afternoon at Hotel Portland by the various auxiliaries to the companies of the Third Oregon Infantry. The hours are from 2 until 6 and during that time there will be an informal programme and refreshments will be served. All

Monsieur Marcel

PORTLAND'S ONLY BALLET MASTER, PREMIER ARTIST IMPERIAL RUSSIAN BALLET

Announces the classes of little girls who are learning the "Dance of the Honey Bees" are making rapid progress. In the arrangement four classes of 12 girls each. The fifth class is rapidly filling up. If your little girl has talent for dancing she may be enrolled in this class. I am making no charge whatsoever for teaching the "Dance of the Honey Bees." My only desire is to show my appreciation for the splendid support tendered me since I opened my studios in Portland last Spring.

"PAVLOVA'S SWAN"
Since I have started to teach a popular dance each week complimentary a number of talented advanced students have made the request that I teach "Pavlova's Swan." At first I did not care to grant this request, but considering the fact that all students would have to make an expensive trip to New York to learn this dance, and as there isn't a ballet school on the Coast that teaches Pavlova's true interpretation, I consented to their request.

Only advanced pupils will be considered in this regard. All applications for enrollment should be made personally to me.

You mail your request for the popular dance next week. Pavlova's "Dance of the Swan" seems to be the most popular.

All private and class instruction under the personal supervision of Monsieur Marcel, the only Ballet Master from the Imperial Russian Government Schools in Western America. Will continue to teach the same style and system that made the Pavlova Ballet famous throughout the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Harris and Mrs. E. A. Brower, of Oakland, Cal., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd F. Brower at the Mallory.

Mrs. W. J. Murphy, Miss Irene Robinson, Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Kathryn Pease, New York, are guests of Paul Murphy, who soon leaves for the Army.

Mrs. Arnold S. Rothwell, who has been residing at the Mallory, left Friday for San Francisco. Mr. Rothwell is in training at the Presidio.

Mrs. W. W. Adams recently entertained a number of friends with an informal English tea at her attractive home in Alameda Park.

St. Ann's Charitable Society will hold its next meeting Thursday, October 4. It will be a big tea at the residence of Mrs. A. M. North, 211 twenty-third street, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

At the meeting last week there were 40 members in attendance, and it was one of the biggest and most enthusiastic meetings the society ever held.

Irrington Club members are enthused over the announcement of the board of directors that arrangements have been made for a dancing class every Wednesday evening during the winter months at the clubhouse, and are fortunate in securing Mr. and Mrs. George E. Love as instructors. Members are requested to enroll on or before September 28, at which time the classes will commence.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Dwyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Dwyer, of 1198 East Yamhill street, to John Lawrence Drapeau, was solemnized on Wednesday, September 12, at the church of St. Stephen, in Sunnyside. Rev. Warren E. Waite, pastor of the church, read the nuptial mass in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the bride couple.

The bride, a professional from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss May Dwyer, a sister of the bride, as the bride party entered, and during the service "Ave Maria" was sung by Mrs. Burr Eder. Several wedding hymns, in duet form, were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Eder, and the Mendelssohn recessional was played as the bride party left the church. Miss Alice Dwyer attended her sister as bridesmaid and Louis Leveque was best man.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white net, over net, with trimmings of flet lace. Her bridal veil was caught with sprays of lilies of the valley and a shower bouquet of white roses completed the costume. Miss Alice Dwyer wore a dress of French voile, with ruffles.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Leigh entertained the faculty of Reed College at dinner Friday evening, in honor of the new members. The guests of honor were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Douglas, Dr.
