WEATHER IS PROPITIOUS

Fair Board Trained in Providence to Recoup for Heavy Expenses Incurred and Were Not Disappointed.

SALEM, Or., Sept. 29.—(Special).—The manufacturers, the grange and patriots were given the day today at the State Fair...

Advanced types of farm machinery which have developed during the past year, particularly through the use of gasoline or other motive power, have put considerable pep into the machinery exhibits...

From the interest shown by the farmers in general it is probable this fair will mean another fair stride in the manner of handling agricultural products in the state.

REAL SAVING URGED

Judge S. A. Lowell Tells of Need for Food Economy.

PATRIOTIC DUTY SHOWN

Extreme Care Not to Waste Grain, Flour, Meats, Dairy Products and Sugar Said to Be Vital Step Toward Winning War.

Judge S. A. Lowell, of Pendleton, in his talk on food conservation at the State Fair at Salem Friday, appealed to the people of Oregon to lend every assistance to the Nation by battling to conserve every ounce of food that they possibly could.

"Patriotic duty now demands of each individual, wherever he may be, whatever his surroundings, a strenuous economy in the use of grain, flour, meats, dairy products and sugar.

"The problem which confronts the Nation touches most intimately the dweller in town and city, the habits of domestic servants and the adaptation of instrumentalities of preservation to the needs of perishables—meats, fruits and vegetables.

"First, the Legislature must be called in special session to enact a comprehensive system of laws adapted to the emergency.

"Second, there must be established a bureau of information through which the producer and consumer may be brought daily in touch with each other to the end that the market may not at any time be glutted and yet that there may be ample supply.

"Third, each municipality should be authorized and required to establish a preserving plant, under competent management, to which shall be gathered from market all the fruit and vegetables unsold at evening, that the same may be dried by approved methods, hermetically sealed, ready for winter consumption and stored for sale or shipment.

"Fourth, in every home there should be installed some one of the several tested home evaporators, to the end that an abundant supply of evaporated fruits, root vegetables and legumes may be ready for emergency, and thus help win the war.

"Fifth, the state must intervene to save the beef cattle and the dairy herds. Sufficient funds, enough deputies and added powers will enable the Dairy and Food Commissioner either to bring fogs to the animals or to transport the animals to the source of feed.

"Sixth, a state inspector with ample powers, preferably a competent and devoted woman, should visit all the hotel and restaurant kitchens daily, to assure not only economy in serving, but elimination of every source of unnecessary waste in cooking.

"Seventh, the wives of the opulent must assume command in their own

WAR FILMS SHOWN

Intimate Glimpses of Fighting in Trench Zone Given.

PICTURES ARE OFFICIAL

Exhibition Is Under Auspices of British Societies of Portland and 70 Per Cent of Proceeds Go to War Relief Funds.

Intimate glimpses of fighting in the trench zone of the western front, as well as all of the side issues and angles of modern warfare, are furnished by the moving pictures depicting the Battle of the Somme, which commenced a week's run at the Majestic Theater yesterday.

The pictures are actual photographs taken by official photographers of the British government and are being shown in Portland under the auspices of the British Societies of Portland.

Conspicuous among the audiences at the Majestic yesterday were silent groups of American soldiers who saw the stern reality of warfare illustrated on the screen before them.

To impress on the public the importance of this patriotic parade in which the local Navy, Army and Marine recruiting offices took part place on downtown streets last night.

The bank clearings for last month were $54,743,748, as compared with but $58,935,038 for the same month of last year, a considerable gain, but postal revenue and building permit figures are on the unfavorable side of the ledger as compared with September, 1916, and with August, 1917.

Postal officials estimated yesterday that the receipts would amount to $98,000, as against $103,231 for the month previous and with $100,698 for September of last year.

The building permits for last month totaled $258,335, which amounted to $436,700 in August and $1,394,150 in September, 1916. The dullness of the building market is due largely to the high cost of labor and materials, which has prompted many investors to delay building projects indefinitely.
