The Misses Harriet and Florence Leach were hostesses for several informal affairs for Miss Frankie Heath and her accompanist, Mr. Littlefield, who played at the Orpheum the early part of the week.

As this was the visitors' first time to the Coast, a trip up the Columbia Highway was greatly enjoyed. The Misses Leach and Miss Heath were members of the same company touring the Southern states last winter.

Miss Virginia Drake is the guest of her brother, Dr. J. Francis Drake. Miss Drake is the authoress of several beautiful cantatas and poems. Her cantata, "Legends of Seaside," was given at the Auditorium during the N. E. A. convention and was one of the successes of the season.

went to Wisconsin, their former home, first, and then to Fort Sheridan, Ill., where their son, Oakley, received a commission as First Lieutenant. Before returning to Portland they visited at Battle Creek, Mich., and in Saginaw, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Winkler will remain in this city for a while and later they will leave for Southern California, where they will spend the winter.

Charles Newcastle, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Newcastle, left last week for California, where he will enter Stanford medical college. Before leaving a number of delightful affairs were given in his honor. He was accompanied by Ross Dalgleish, of British Columbia.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

TURNER, Or., Oct. 6.—(Special).—A reception of interest was given Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crawford on the eve of their departure from Turner to Salem, where they will make their home.

The Crawford dairy farm lies three miles southeast of Turner, and on it is a well-kept walnut and filbert orchard. Mr. Crawford is secretary of the Turner Dairy and Produce Association, a member of the City Council, director of the Turner Telephone Company, a trustee of the Octorari Presbyterian Church, an active member of the Grange and a business man who conducts city affairs with the same watchful care that he does his private affairs.

Mrs. Crawford is vice-president of the Parent-Teacher association, teacher of the senior class of boys and girls of the Octorari Presbyterian Sunday school, an active worker in the missionary society, lecturer of the Grange, chairman of the Woman's Work Club of the Grange and chairman of the Turner Red Cross Auxiliary. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford were remembered by their friends in the gift of a splendid leather upholstered chair.

One of the children's parties of the past week was that of little Gene Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Young, who celebrated her fourth birthday at her grandmother's home, Mrs. A. L. Newgard, at 1325 Delaware avenue.

After an afternoon spent with music and games, the children were ushered into the dining room, which was decorated in pink and white, for that best part of a children's party, the birthday supper. About the table, with its birthday cake and lighted candles and ice cream, were seated Nancy Pratt, Lester King, Phyllis Lemon, Helen Thompson, Bert Fossey, Billie Lemon, Josephine Ferguson, Nina Ferguson, Francis King, Constance Bouvier, Marguerite Shaler and Gertrude Daler and the little hostess, Mrs. A. L. Newgard and her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Davis, assisted in entertaining the small guests.

On Wednesday the members of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies of the Waverly Heights Congregational Church were hostesses to former members now living in other parts of the city and to a number of new friends. About 50 women attended. After an enjoyable social time at the luncheon tables each society held a short business session and program. Musical in character, Mrs. C. A. Kresmann is president of the Ladies' Aid Society and Mrs. A. C. Moses is president of the Missionary Society. The musical numbers were as follows: Duet, Miss Eva Nelson, Mrs. Ruth Hedberg; solos, Mrs. Kresmann and Mrs. N. C. Thorne; quartet, Mesdames Curtis, Prior, Kresmann, Kent; Accompanist, Mrs. W. P. Downing; Mesdames W. Denison, F. W. Wells and B. B. Banning had charge of the luncheon.

The Mazamas enjoyed a banquet and dance in the grill of Hotel Portland Saturday night. There were 50 in attendance and the affair was much enjoyed. Dr. C. V. Luther was chairman of the committee in charge.

Friday night, at the home of H. L. Chaplin, 623 Wasco street, the Christian Endeavor Society of Westminster Presbyterian Church held its regular monthly business meeting. This was the first meeting of the Fall, and a social time under the direction of the social committee followed the transaction of the reports of the various committees. The society expressed regret at the loss of its president, Russell M. Robertson, who is now at Fort Stevens, being a member of the Coast Artillery. The vice-president, Miss Mary L. Cook, is carrying on the work with the same interest and earnestness which characterized her predecessor.

Miss Irene Newcastles was hostess at a prettily appointed party in honor of Mrs. Robert Smith (Edna Sattler), a recent bride. The rooms were beautifully decorated, with pink and white used profusely. The evening was spent at cards, honors falling to Mr. and Mrs. H. Divilbiss. The guests enjoying Miss Mosher's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Divilbiss, Mrs. Paul Feely, Mrs. Ruth Henderson, Harvey, Fred, Folsom and Carl Mosher, Carl Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. George Mosher.

The women of Ben Butler Women's Relief Corps No. 51 entertained the post with a dinner on Thursday in Dawley's Hall, Thirty-fifth and Yamhill streets. Mrs. Elley, department junior vice, gave several selections on the piano. Mr. Chambers, department commander, gave an interesting talk on his trip to the National encampment.

A reception was given for Rev. John Ovall, the Swedish minister of Oregon City, last Thursday night at the Pierce residence. A large gathering was present, several speeches of welcome were made and a purse with a goodly sum of money presented. Rev. Mr. Ovall, in appropriate remarks, thanked the ladies for their love and appreciation of his work.

RIDGEFIELD, Wash., Oct. 6.—(Special).—A public reception was given to the new pastor, Rev. V. A. Spicker, and his family Monday night by the members of the church.

BOOK IS SELLING FOR BENEFIT OF SOLDIERS.

Mrs. Nina Churchman Larowe, who wrote an interesting account of her experiences and travels and dedicated the book to the Third Oregon, placed on sale a large number of volumes for the benefit of the regiment. A few copies remain and are to be found at the book counter at the Miller & Frank Company's store, Olds, Wortman & King's, Gill's and at the Mallory Hotel.

Summer Relief Corps gave a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Carrie Pierce, on East Couch street, on Thursday. Those present were: Mesdames Margaret Neal, Alice Fougner, A. C. Hanna, Harriet Hendee, Sarah Woodruff Wells, E. E. McGowan, Mary Gillis, Hattie Wisner, hers of the federated churches of Ridgefield at the Presbyterian Church. A short musical programme was given, after which short talks were made by B. L. Gauket, F. W. Woolley, Rev. V. A. Spicker and N. C. Hall, who was chairman of the evening. It was a most enjoyable and friendly gathering and showed a spirit of mutual love and co-operation. Refreshments were served in the annex.

Mrs. B. E. Mauro entertained at a luncheon Wednesday at her home, 364 East Forty-fourth street, in honor of Mrs. William Dunn, who recently arrived here from Sheardon, Wyo. The table decorations were in red and green. Those present were: Mrs. Charles Goodwin, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Frank Waite, Mrs. Richard Martin and Mesdames Lake, Bodwin and Shelburn.

At a tea given recently by Miss Elizabeth Reid, of Garfield, the announcement of the engagement of Miss Rachel Reid, of Batacoda, to Roscoe C. Deming was made. Miss Reid is popular in Batacoda and in Seattle, where she attended the University of Washington. Miss Louise Quilliam, of Portland, assisted in the rooms. Miss Quilliam, Miss Elizabeth Reid and Miss Rachel Reid are members of the Washington chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta. The wedding will take place shortly.

The Decem Girls' Club held their first meeting of the season last Sunday at the home of Miss Evelyn Youngs, Risley Station. After a business and social hour supper was served. The table cloth scheme was red and green. This meeting will be followed by regular monthly meetings during the coming winter.

The Misses Edith Suttie and Jess Gemmell entertained a few of their friends Saturday evening at the home of the former in Laurelhurst. The girls were garbed in the youthful attire of their younger sisters, and a delightful evening was spent, the programme corresponding with the juvenile nature of the affair. Toy balloons were used in decorating, and the guests looked charming in checked paper sunbonnets provided for them during the luncheon. Those present were: Mrs. Clifford Gray, Mrs. Stuart Pratt and the Misses Elma Johnson, Frances Elsiech, Lillian Everest, Gladys Hutchins, Beatrice Simpson, Helen Brown and Ethel Penwell.

Mrs. T. M. Hurlburt entertained the nurses of Emanuel Hospital Friday evening at her home at 1143 Francis avenue. The home was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and gladioli. The nurses present, who were chaperoned by Sister Betty Hansen, matron of the hospital, were Misses Worsnick, Anderson, Peterson, Burch, Muri, Roe, Dora Johnson, Swanson, Lindquist, Opia Peterson, Nordling, Minnie Johnson, Olsen, Lund, Edna Pearson, Dalbeck, Emma, Swanson.

Other guests present were: Dr. and Mrs. Carl Swenson, Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Post, Rev. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lungren, Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Seton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. YOUTH—in All Her Various Stages

Correctly and Economically Appareled in Our Misses' Shop

Featured are garments specifically designed for the tall, slender miss—the short, petite maiden and the young lady of more robust figure—in all, the styles are considered with particular reference to the charm of every type. The prices, too, are graduated to suit the ideas of each individual as to what should be spent for the Fall apparel.

Suits

The new suits are jaunty, dignified, and truly refreshingly new. Attractive are the boyishly plain suits—braid trimmed suits; scarf suits and a generous showing of the favored high-waist type, shirred below the belt. Many are modeled with tucks about the waist with large buckles to fasten. Priced from

$22.50, $30.00, $35.00, $47.50 and Up

Coats

Large "comfy" collars; soft, graceful fabrics and dashing embellishments augment the charm of the new coats, which in coloring and style development are distinctly smart as well as serviceable. Scores of new models to choose from at

$25.00, $32.50, $57.50 and Up

Dresses

Parisian ideas have been ingeniously developed in the new dresses for afternoon and street wear. Infinite taste in their design is evident and the excellence of materials and workmanship assure the thoughtful miss of full value for money spent.

Misses' Frocks

Serge frocks of the sort every girl wants for school, business, travel and general utility wear. Some in plain models, others with a dainty bit of embroidery and others plaited are shown now in wonderful variety at prices from Thursday night of the opening party of the Rose City Dancing Club. One hundred couples attended and they with the other members are looking forward to a successful season. Parties will be given on the first and third Thursday nights of each month during the winter.

COMING EVENTS.

The 1916-17 "Follies" will feature a delightful dancing event Friday evening, October 12, at Christensen's Hall. The committee is making extensive preparations for the occasion, which promises to be charming and pleasing to their guests and friends. Assisting on the committee are: Mary Muir, Lillian Anderson, Harry Hammer, Lillian Granson, Eva Vinton, Zeta Ausman, Pearl Dalton, Lillian Bullen, Gale Fox, Al Mielke, Eleanor Farmer, Lena Balzimer, Harry Schaefer, Gladys Steele, Dorothy Days.

The Puroia Stepping Club, composed of members of the Blumauer-Frank

Drug Company, will hold the first informal party of the season Thursday evening, October 18, in the Murlark ballroom.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening will be: Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Broening, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stipe. The floor committee is composed of Grace Twitcheil, E. J. Russell, Katharine Matthew, A. L. Benham, Lydia Peterson, A. Carlberg, Eleanor Morris, Glen Walter, Irma Murdock and Fred Hull.

Winslow Meade Circle, L. of G. A. R., will give a "5000" card party in room 325, Courthouse, Monday afternoon, October 8, at 2 o'clock. Prizes will be awarded for high score. Also a door prize. All are welcome. On September 24 a farewell luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Laura J. Morgan and Mrs. Lucy Beck. Much regret was expressed in losing these two members, as one is a past-president and the other the secretary of the Circle. Mrs. Beck goes to make her home in Seattle while Mrs. Morgan leaves soon for her home near Shaniko.

Portland Lodge No. 203 of the Fraternal Brotherhood will give a dancing party on Friday evening, October 12, at the Modern Woodman Hall, Eleventh and Burnside streets. Members and their friends are cordially invited. Good music and an enjoyable time is assured by the committee. Soldiers in uniform will be admitted free.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Field Hospital, Company B, Auxiliary was held at the Library at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. A box of cookies and Jellies is to be sent to the boys next Tuesday and all packages must be in at 322 Morgan building between the hours of 2 and 4 P. M. Every member is requested to bring
