

RESULTS COME FAST

Food Administrator Ayer's Organization in Action.

WOMEN RESPOND NOBLY

Speakers in Every Section Are Doing Double Duty by Urging Conservation of Foodstuffs and Support of New Loan.

The results that are being obtained by United States Food Administrator Ayer and his assistants in the statewide educational campaign for food economy have already been compiled into a very promising program. Could the average housewife be permitted to inspect the mountain of hams and bacon, the granaries full of wheat and the cellars of butter and other foodstuffs that will represent the aggregate savings of the thousands of housekeepers throughout the state of Oregon, his vision of allied success and the return of the day of peace would instantly become somewhat bright.

The realization that Mr. Ayer is trying to make impressive to every user of butter, flour, meat and sugar is that the aggregate savings in dollars is vastly important, and that whole armies in the field can be rationed on the foodstuffs that the combined effort of all American housewives is sure to save.

Women Respond to Call.

Recent promising occurrences in the food-saving campaign are related by Fred J. Lockley.

"Maryland has recently organized a Legion of Life," as contra distinguished from Russia's "Legion of Death," he said yesterday. The women of the United States are proving, along with the Russian women, that devotion and capacity for sacrifice are inherent in womanhood.

"The women of America, if they are made to realize the vital need of keeping our own troops and those of our allies in fighting trim, will show the greatest possible devotion in conserving our food supplies so that our wheat and meat, our sugar and butter can be sent across the water. If every housewife in Oregon realized that the food conservation campaign does not involve going without food or stinting the family, but simply contemplates using substitutes for our wheat and meat and sugar, there would be no question of the success of Pledge Card week on October 21 to 28. What Herbert Hoover wants the Americans to do is to eat all they need, but to eat wisely and without waste."

A splendid state organization has been built up by Mr. Ayer. Reports are coming to him from all over the state of the enthusiasm with which the movement to conserve food supplies is being taken up. In a letter just received from T. J. Scroggin, chairman for Union County, he says:

Union County Organized.

"Union County is organized for Pledge Card week. Clarke Letter, formerly of Portland and now editor of the La Grande Observer, is chairman of our publicity committee. The rest of the committee is composed of every newspaper man in the county. We are going to give you the best we have."

In a letter received by the same mail from A. C. Wilson, chairman of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Company of Eugene, he says:

"We have organized a publicity department in W. A. Chasler, dean of the school of journalism of the University of Oregon. We expect to have personal calls made on every editor in the county. We are going to be like the colored recruit who gave as a reason for not wanting to go into the cavalry when joining the Army that when given a horse that he did not want to be bothered with any horse. When we have orders to go ahead you will find us pressing forward without delay. You can figure the work in this county is as good as done."

Speakers Serve Two Causes.

The work of the liberty loan speakers and of the campaign for food conservation interlocks, and speakers of both campaigns are urging the purchase of liberty bonds and the conserving of food supplies. So the campaign in Eastern Oregon, O. M. Plummer, in Southern Oregon, Mrs. Jennie Kemp along the Coast, A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and many others are carrying the gospel of food conservation over the state. In Roseburg the school children have put a new meaning to the I. W. W. With them it means "I Won't Waste."

Secretaries of commercial clubs all over the state, as well as ministers, clubwomen, school teachers and postmasters, are conducting an aggressive campaign to line the housewives of Oregon up to sign the pledge to cooperate with the food administration department to cook no more than is needed, to enforce the gospel of clean plate, to fry less and boil and bake more, to use home-grown vegetables, fruits and other products, to substitute fish and chicken for beef and pork, and to eat bread for wheat bread.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILD

Look, Mother! Is Tongue Coated, Breath Hot and Stomach Sour?

Harmless "Fruit Laxative" Best to Clean Tender Liver and Bowels.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours the coated tongue, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, their gets sluggish and stomach disorders result. When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious fruit laxative. It cleanses the bowels and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a cold, or a fever, or a stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. We make no smaller size. Head back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

REED COLLEGE STUDENTS SNAPPED BY OREGONIAN PHOTOGRAPHER DURING THEIR ATHLETIC HOUR ON THE COLLEGE GRIDIRON.

1—SOCCER PLAYERS IN A MIX. 2—A LIVELY FOOTBALL SCRIMMAGE. 3—C. S. BOTSFORD, PHYSICAL DIRECTOR, LOOKS HAPPY. 4—ONE OF INSTRUCTOR BOTSFORD'S CLASSES.

STUDENTS MADE FIT

Physical Training Course at Reed Is Compulsory.

Wednesday by Emmett Koontz, who lives on Salmon Creek near Toledo. The hawk's mouth was full of China pheasant meat, showing it had been preying on game birds, as well as poultry-yards.

ARMY SERVICE TOPIC

Dan J. Malarkey Discusses Exemption Before Civic League.

Slackers are castigated. Number of men anxious to evade service declared shocking and shaking up due to conscription regarded beneficial.

STAFF OFFICERS ELECTED

John Dunn Is Editor-in-Chief of College Publication.

MOUNT ANGEL COLLEGE, St. Benedict, Oct. 12.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the staff of the Pacific Star, held Wednesday evening, John T. Dunn, of Laysmith, B. C., was elected editor-in-chief; Thomas E. Shea, Astoria, business manager; Walter Mollenberg, Mount Angel, alumni; Aloysius Kopp, Portland, athletics; Peter Lesmieter, exchanges; John Engertberger, college notes.

PROMINENT ODDFELLOW AND WAR VETERAN WHO IS DEAD.

L. H. Sandoz, an engineer on the Port of Portland dredge Portland, died Thursday at St. Vincent's Hospital. He was 56 years old and a native of Switzerland, who came to Oregon in 1884. He was educated in Paris and Berlin. Mr. Sandoz saw service in the Spanish-American War, having been one of the first to volunteer. He was a member of Company B, Second Oregon Volunteers, and a member of Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, Spanish War Veterans. Mr. Sandoz was at one time grand master in the Oddfellows' lodge and a member of the Woodmen of the World. The funeral will be held Monday. Besides his widow, he leaves no relatives in this country. He was a son-in-law of Mrs. Jane Sutherland Gallagher, 933 East Caruthers street.

Boys Reap Benefits.

Inside gymnasium work is not being neglected. The bars and tumbling mats have many enthusiastic devotees and are used in the regular physical education courses to fit students as playground instructors. To give these would-be physical instructors opportunity for practice the college gymnasium is open to extension classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Last year 4000 boys from Lents, Woodstock, Brooklyn, Sellwood and Kentworth attended these classes and were taught mat and bar work and basketball. The work this Fall has already begun under the leadership of Rex Chamberlain and Rowan Whealdon.

Big Hawk Brought Down.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—A chicken hawk measuring more than four feet from tip to tip was shot

SCHOOL SPORTS VARIED

In Addition of Games of All Kinds, Military Instruction Is Now Given, so as to Prepare Men in Case of Need.

Every man in Reed College this year will receive a course in intensive physical training. To meet the Nation's need for men physically fit, the college has provided a compulsory course of five hours a week devoted to organized games and exercises.

With the aim of producing the all-round developed man, C. S. Botsford, head of the department, has arranged a varied programme of military drill, calisthenics and games of students are carefully examined on entrance to the college and their mistakes in posture and breathing corrected by special exercises. But special emphasis is placed on the playing of games, for Mr. Botsford is a firm believer in the value of teaching men to "keep the eye on the ball" and encourages football and basketball especially.

Discipline Is Taught.

The college has always succeeded in getting everyone voluntarily into the games, careful reports taken in 1914 and again in 1916 showing that in excess of 90 per cent of the men students took part weekly in football, basketball and other sports. So the compulsory ruling is not so much to get the men out onto the field as it is to vary their sports and teach them strict discipline.

For a strict military discipline is maintained during the play hours. Drill in the school of the soldier is a part of the daily exercises. With the approach of the rainy season will be extended to the more complex formations and movements. The men are organized in a company with corporals and sergeants and marched to and from the athletic field in military formation. Here after a few minutes of vigorous calisthenics they are divided into sections for football, track and soccer and set to work at once under the several student coaches.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Slackers, as seen through the vision of the district exemption board, were exhaustively discussed yesterday by Dan J. Malarkey, member of the board, at the luncheon of the Civic League, held at the Multnomah Hotel.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Slackers, as seen through the vision of the district exemption board, were exhaustively discussed yesterday by Dan J. Malarkey, member of the board, at the luncheon of the Civic League, held at the Multnomah Hotel.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Slackers, as seen through the vision of the district exemption board, were exhaustively discussed yesterday by Dan J. Malarkey, member of the board, at the luncheon of the Civic League, held at the Multnomah Hotel.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Slackers, as seen through the vision of the district exemption board, were exhaustively discussed yesterday by Dan J. Malarkey, member of the board, at the luncheon of the Civic League, held at the Multnomah Hotel.

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

Slackers Are Castigated.

"We are pretty keen at sending those fellows into the Army," he added, "where they'll make Americans of them. And those same soldiers will make Americans of 'ma' and 'pa' when they return from the trenches."

Slackers Are Castigated.

Mr. Malarkey declared that it is the duty of every good citizen to present information to local and district boards in all cases when the statements made by an applicant for exemption are questionable. He criticized all who are derelict in this duty, and referred to "The Nation needs hospital units, and ambulance units, and men at home to carry on the business of production," said Mr. Malarkey, "but what we need most of all is fighting men to win the war." Referring to men of military age who have taken advantage of occupational exemption, Mr. Malarkey declared that the Government might soon single them out with the command: "You get out here where you belong, and take a man's job!"

Slackers Are Castigated.

Genuine slackers appearing before the exemption board may nearly always be discerned by their own statements, horn and reared and given their sustenance in this country, who are more loyal to Germany than to the United States.

AMERICA THE LAND OF ZION

The Place of the New Jerusalem

BY DR. JAMES E. TALMAGE, Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.

We believe in the literal gathering of Israel and in the restoration of the Ten Tribes; that Zion will be built upon this (the American) continent, etc. Articles of Faith No. 10.

The Holy Bible makes frequent mention of Zion and Jerusalem, and in this context showing that the terms are used interchangeably, if not as precise synonyms. This application of different names to the same place is justified by the fact that within the walls of the Jerusalem of old was a hill specifically called Mount Zion, and, by contraction, Zion.

But the two names appear in other Biblical passages with distinctive meaning, indicating different places and expressive of contrast instead of identity. For example, consider the prophecy voiced by Isaiah relating to a time yet future: "Oh, Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountains of Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings. Lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God" (Isa. xliv).

The same prophet refers to a Zion of the last days in which the righteous shall be safeguarded; this to be in a mountainous land, with the "munition of rocks" (Isa. lvi). He particularly states that the land is very far off (See Isa. xxxiii:14-17).

More definite than Bible prophecies, however, are the predictions relating to the latter-day Zion made by prophets who administered on the American continent many centuries prior to the rededication of the New World by Columbus. In the Book of Mormon the names Zion and New Jerusalem are used with allied meaning, and sometimes synonymously.

Near the beginning of the sixth century, before Christ's birth, Ether, a Jaredite prophet, compiled the history of his people from the time of their coming to America, soon after the dispersion from Babel. Even before they had crossed the ocean the sanctity of the western continent as a fore-appointed land for righteous people, to observe the laws of righteousness was made known to the Jaredites. In a summary of Ether's record, Moroni, the Nephite, who lived a thousand years after the extinction of the Jaredites, says of the latter:

"And the Lord would not suffer that they should stop beyond the sea in the wilderness, but he would that they should come forth even unto the land of promise, which was choice above all other lands, which the Lord God had prepared for his righteous people. And he had sworn in his wrath unto the brother of Jared that whoso should possess this land of promise from that time henceforth and forever should serve him, the true and only God, or they should be swept off when the fulness of his wrath should come upon them. For behold, this is a land which is choice above all other lands; wherefore he that doth possess it shall serve God, or shall be swept off, for it is the everlasting decree of God. And it is not until the fulness of iniquity among the children of the land that they are swept off" (Book of Mormon, Ether 1:17-19).

The inspired admission of these ancient prophets to the inhabitants of America today, that they observe and uphold the principles of righteousness, which embody the laws of God, and true liberty under equitable laws, may profitably be taken to heart by people of all conditions and degrees.

Either clearly distinguished the Jerusalem of Judea, which is to be rebuilt from the New Jerusalem that is to be established in America as one of the significant signs of the last days. In Moroni's synopsis of the New Jerusalem, he says:

"Behold, Ether saw the days of Christ, and he spake concerning a New Jerusalem upon this land. And he spake also concerning the house of Israel, which is to be rebuilt upon this land. After it should be destroyed it should be built up again a holy city unto the Lord, wherefore it could not be destroyed. For it had been in a time of old, but it should be built up again and become a holy city of the Lord, and it should be built upon the land of promise, that a New Jerusalem should be built upon this land, unto the remnant of the seed of Joseph" (Book of Mormon, Ether xlii:1-5).

America is the Land of Zion, and as the people of this continent render allegiance to the God of Israel, who is verily the God of all mankind, the land shall be made the Jerusalem, the inheritance of the house of Israel. In it the Gentiles shall be potent and shall be numbered with Israel according to the words of the Lord, and the Lord gave this far-reaching and blessed promise:

"But behold, this land, saith God, shall be a land of thine inheritance, and the Gentiles shall be blessed upon the land. And this land shall be a land of liberty unto the Gentiles, and there shall be no kings upon the land who shall raise up to be Gentiles. And I will fortify this land against all other nations; and he that fighteth against Zion shall perish, saith God; for he that raised up a king shall perish, for I, the Lord, the King of Heaven, will be their King, and I will be a light unto them forever, that bear my words" (Book of Mormon, 3 Nephi x:10-14).

Zion is to be established on this continent, and, as the word of modern revelation avers, the western part of the United States (see Doctrine and Covenants xlv:64-71; lviii:1-5). The time of the blessed consummation is conditioned upon the fitness of the people. Hither shall come the hosts of scattered Israel and the Lost Tribes from their long and dark obscurity. Here shall yet be built the city of the Lord, Zion, the New Jerusalem, which in time shall be made one with the "Holy City," which the Revelator saw "coming down from God, out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband" (Rev. xxi:2).

For the Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, Articles of Faith and other literature of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints apply to any of the missions of the church, among which are: Northwest States Mission, 810 East Madison street, Portland, Or., and Bureau of Information, Salt Lake City, Utah.—Adv.

Mothers of Oregon Prepare for Trouble!

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. Many thousands along the Pacific Coast would testify just as do the following:

MONROE, OREGON.—"I am certainly glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I think it a God-send to womankind. During expectancy I was, oh, so sick with that terrible morning sickness. I was so bad that I just could not eat one thing. I commenced taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and I was relieved at once—no more nausea, no headaches, no backache, and I got through with it all. I am now a healthy, happy woman. I have given it to many sufferers who believe me when I say they found relief from their suffering by taking these simple herbs. It also relieves Sciatica, promptly, as well as Neuralgia, and is a wonderful blood purifier. You will send for it at once. I believe you will consider it a Godsend after you have put it to the test. There is nothing luxurious contained in it, and you can see for yourself exactly what you are getting. I will gladly send this Recipe—absolutely free—to any mother who writes me and says as I advised her to and she is improving fast. One would not know she was the same woman."—Mrs. H. E. Ginnox.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

I will gladly send any Rheumatism sufferer a Simple Herb Recipe Absolutely Free that Cures Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and all muscular and inflammatory Rheumatism. I have given it to many sufferers who believe me when I say they found relief from their suffering by taking these simple herbs. It also relieves Sciatica, promptly, as well as Neuralgia, and is a wonderful blood purifier. You will send for it at once. I believe you will consider it a Godsend after you have put it to the test. There is nothing luxurious contained in it, and you can see for yourself exactly what you are getting. I will gladly send this Recipe—absolutely free—to any mother who writes me and says as I advised her to and she is improving fast. One would not know she was the same woman."—Mrs. H. E. Ginnox.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN WHO DIED RECENTLY MEMBER OF WHITE TEMPLE CHURCH.

Chancy H. Cable, a veteran of the Civil War, died at his home, 1173 Rodney avenue, of this city, on October 8. He came to Portland in 1878 and in 1880 went to Brownsville, where he was in the mercantile business. In 1908 he returned to Portland, where he had since made his home. He was a member of the White Temple Baptist Church of this city, of the L. O. O. F. of Brownsville and of the George Wright Relief Post, G. A. R. of this city. Mr. Cable is survived by George Cable, Dr. E. E. Cable, William C. and L. E. Cable, of this city, and by his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Cable. The interment was at the Brownsville Cemetery.

Chancy H. Cable, a veteran of the Civil War, died at his home, 1173 Rodney avenue, of this city, on October 8.

Rebekahs Convene at White Salmon.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Oct. 13.—

Rebekahs Convene at White Salmon.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Oct. 13.—

Rebekahs Convene at White Salmon.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Oct. 13.—

Rebekahs Convene at White Salmon.

WHITE SALMON, Wash., Oct. 13.—