with offices in the Morgan building. The marriage of this charming couple will be an event of February. Miss Andre has just returned to Pendleton after a visit of several days with Mrs. Otto Windfelder and while in Portland she was extensively entertained.

News has reached friends in this city of Miss Lucia B. Harriman telling of her affliction with the Delineator, as a member of the editorial staff. Miss Harriman was a former newspaper woman of Portland, going to New York a little more than a year ago following a year's stay in Tokyo, where she also was engaged in writing and journalism.

Miss Jane Sanders left last week for New York City to spend the winter in coaching and lecture work in the musical department of Columbia University. Miss Sanders has been making her home in Portland for a few years, and she has gained quite a reputation in musical circles. She also is very popular socially and her hosts of friends regret her departure for the metropolis.

Miss Maile MacMaster returned Thursday to Camp Lewis to resume her duties at the hostess house.

Miss MacMaster obliged to spend several days at her home in Argour owing to a severe cold from which she has fully recovered.

Dr. Arthur Van Dusen, a prominent physician of Astoria, spent the week in Portland with Dr. C. F. Ely, of Bremerton Navy yard. Dr. Van Dusen has enlisted in the medical department of the Navy.

Mrs. F. H. Lind has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. Frank Hollister, of The Dalles.

Miss Louise Griffin became the bride of Charles H. Swellenbach at a ceremony which was solemnized by Rt. Rev. Walter Sumner at the oratory of Bishopcroft Wednesday afternoon.

It was a charming affair with simplicity as the keynote and was attended by 20 friends and relatives of the young people. Miss Emily Griffin, of Salem, the bride's sister, was her only attendant, and William Harry, of Spokane, was the best man.

The oratory was attractively decorated with clusters of pink roses and carnations which were combined with mistletoe and holly. The bride was lovely in an afternoon gown of wisteria silk de londres adorned with lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and pink and white bouvardia. The bridesmaid wore a gown of Georgette crepe and chiffon and her bouquet was of Ophelia roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Swellenbach left for the north.

Among the notable functions of the week was the reception given in honor of His Grace, Archbishop Christie, at the Cathedral rectory Wednesday night. The affair was most informal, but it

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Menefee and daughter, Flora, have gone to New York to spend the holidays with Miss Elizabeth Menefee, who is attending school there.

Lindsay, late of Lebanon, but old-time Portlander, will be interested to know that they have just removed to Los Angeles, where already are residing some of Mrs. Lindsay's family. She will be remembered as Miss Fredrica Foster. They were accompanied by their four little daughters, Ruth, Miriam, Julia and Alice.

Much regret was expressed at their leaving Lebanon, and at the annual banquet and praise service of the Presbyterian Church there, the women of the society with whom Mrs. Lindsay had been associated, presented her with a handsome silver spoon as a mark of their appreciation for her valuable cooperation.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Barnes has issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Helen Payne Barnes, to Alfred Ernest Allen, which will be solemnized Wednesday, December 26, at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 1051 Klipschiet street.

As soon as the Christmas holiday is over society will have as a delightful attraction the grand opera productions that will be presented in the Municipal Auditorium by the San Carlos Opera Company. This offering will be an opportunity for the extending of charming hospitalities in the way of little parties with suppers afterward. Many of these parties are being planned already as a pleasing diversion in the midst of Red Cross work and patriotic activities that are taxing the time of society women. As at concerts and between acts at the plays many will take their knitting and so not miss even this short time that can be put into the making of sweaters and other articles for the soldiers.

One of the latest Portland bachelors to enter the Government service is Eugene K. Oppenheimer, who has joined forces with the aviation corps. He plans to leave tomorrow for the South. Mr. Oppenheimer is one of the most enthusiastic and best-known members of the Portland Hunt Club, riding many horses to victory in paper chases, and capturing numerous blue ribbons at the various horse shows in this section of the Northwest. He has been practicing law in Portland for the past few years and his hosts of friends are showering him with good wishes on his departure.

A pretty but simple home wedding was that at which Miss Fay Bartholomew became the bride of Henry Mackie Isaacs Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. H. Swinburne, in the Rose-Friend Apartments, Rev. John H. Boyd officiated. Preceding the ceremony Miss Irene Hallock sang "At Dawning."

The bride was attired in a tulle of navy blue cloth, and a small blue hat. Her corsage was of orchids and Cecil Bruner roses. Baskets and vases of mauve and white chrysanthemums were arranged attractively about the rooms, and following the ceremony refreshments were served. The supper table was presided over by Mrs. T. C. Taylor and Mrs. W. R. Ely, assisted by Mrs. T. H. West, Mrs. Otto Melschman, Miss Alma Hallock and Mrs. Henry Collins, of Pendleton.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. R. Swinburne, and is an accomplished pianist. Mr. Isaacs is a son of John D. Isaacs, a consulting engineer of the city of Portland, and was graduated from Berkeley and Harvard Universities and is associated with the O.-W. R. & N. legal department of this city.

Miss Annie Blanche Shelby has returned to the city after an extended absence and is at the Hotel Portland. Her brother, Eugene Shelby, of San Francisco, who recently was operated upon at the Good Samaritan Hospital, is improving, though it probably will be some time before he can leave the hospital. Mr. Shelby's daughter, Mrs. Frank Gilchrist Owen, of Medford, who was married last week to her father, has returned to her home, but will visit him again soon.

The Thursday Subscription Club gave an informal dance at Murlark hall Monday evening. It being necessary to change the date of the event on account of the Red Cross dance on Thursday evening. There were about 80 persons present and the affair was one of the most delightful this club has given. The next dance will be given early in the New Year, the date to be announced later.

Those present Monday evening included: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bronaugh, Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Northrup, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mackenzie, Judge and Mrs. J. H. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Grambacher, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Vortness, of Salem; Mrs. Charles E. Dant, Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Haines, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chatten, Mr. and Mrs. J. Zancker, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bridgford, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce C. Currey, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Markell, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nace, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bittner, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Love, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Crouse, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gilmer, of Salem; Mrs. Grant Mays, Mrs. John F. Wilson, Misses Virginia Brown, George Pollock, Helen Dyer, Gladys Sis, Helen Haller, Vella Winner, Eleanor Briggs, Aileen Yates, Anita Mayer, Messrs. Leigh Hedger, Frank Stahan, George A. Loveloy, Henry Hays, Albert Von der Worth, Harry Welter, William Bennett, Captain Hansen, Harry Collins, Paul Newell, John McCaskey, Morey Bloch, C. E. Byrne, Frank Wagner, Percy Carrigan and Jack Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Jones returned Thursday to Portland after a wedding trip of several weeks. The marriage was solemnized in San Francisco, November 5. A mock wedding ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by Rev. A. P. Layton, of the Evangelical Church, when J. H. Ross and Isabel Cunningham, after 50 years of pleasant and devoted companionship, were remarried. The original ceremony took place at Deerfield, O.

Six children were born to the couple, two of whom are living. This estimable couple came to Oregon in March, 1853, remained at Pendleton, and in 1868 moved to Portland and for five years have lived in St. Johns. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were the recipients of many pretty and valuable presents. Those in attendance at the affair were: Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Layton, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. George Oman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bailey, Charles Davis, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kennedy and M. A. Ross, of Pendleton. Mrs. Kennedy and Mr. Ross are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ross. A wedding dinner was served.

Mr. Ross served in the Civil War in General Sherman's Army on its march to the sea. Mr. Ross is 74 years old and Mrs. Ross 67.

One of the choicest spots in the recent Allied Red Cross Bazaar was the booth of the Daughters of the American Revolution. They realized several hundred dollars therefrom. Multnomah chapter was sponsor for the enterprise. Mrs. John A. Keating was chairman of a large committee made up from both chapters, Multnomah and Willamette. The cook-book of war-time recipes was eagerly sought. Cards in "red and white and blue" containing patriotic songs by Mrs. H. H. Parker, were also presented. They are entitled, "The Flag of the Free," and "Hail to Our Noble Fathers." For the former, poem has just been composed by Mrs. John Waldron, of Milwaukie, for the latter Lindsley Ross wrote the music which has already been received with much appreciation.

The sale of both the cook-books and these cards is continuing for their Red Cross work.

Don't say woollens can't be washed in hot water

Many a young mother hesitates over the first washing of baby's clothes—actually dreads to risk the precious little garments to soap and water.

Will the soft, fluffy woollens shrink and grow harsh?

Will they come out of the wash with their fluffy softness all gone?

Don't hesitate for a moment.

Thousands of women have found that there is one absolutely safe way to wash these little treasures.

Get a package of Lux at your grocer's, druggist's or in department stores and wash them the Lux way.

Shake these wonderful flakes into hot water, whisk them into a lather—such a rich, bubbly lather you never saw!

Everything comes out like new! Baby's woolen blankets are fluffy and white as a snowdrift; the wee little shirts stay soft and fleecy, and the stockings—they are just as roomy and comfortable as the day they were bought! Shrinking? Not a thread.

No matter what soap you use now—see for yourself what a remarkable difference Lux makes. Until you do, you will never believe it possible to get such wonderfully soft, comfortable woollens. Lux will not harm anything that pure water alone will not injure. At grocers, druggists and department stores.

RED FEATHER COMPLEXION POWDER

Contains certain ingredients which make it distinctively perfect. It has the necessary adhering quality. It acts as an astringent, contracting the pores of the skin and producing that baby softness. It is delicately fragrant. Three shades—flesh, brunette and white. It couldn't be better, though the price were multiplied by ten.

A generous size box for 50c. Sent postpaid anywhere in the U. S.

OREGON PIONEERS WHO CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING.

MR. AND MRS. J. H. ROSS, OF ST. JOHNS.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ross at 211 South Willamette boulevard, St. Johns, was celebrated in a pleasant manner by a number of friends Wednesday, December 5. A mock wedding ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by Rev. A. P. Layton, of the Evangelical Church, when J. H. Ross and Isabel Cunningham, after 50 years of pleasant and devoted companionship, were remarried. The original ceremony took place at Deerfield, O.
