

ROSE TEST GARDEN DRAWS ATTENTION

Portland Becoming Known Throughout the World Because of New Venture.

MANY LETTERS RECEIVED

Prominent Rosarians of England and America Write Pledging Support to Washington Park Garden.

The National rose test garden being established in Washington Park for the purpose of testing new roses is making Portland known throughout the world, as is evident from the large number of letters received by Mayor Baker asking for information and promising support to the garden.
Jesse A. Curry, the local amateur who originated the test garden as a new phase in municipal rose culture, is also receiving many letters from men prominent in the rose world in this country and Europe.

The first importation of plants from England has already arrived and is being cared for by Park Superintendent Keyser. These plants, nearly 100 in number and representing four new varieties, all came from the big nurseries of Elmhurst, at Hurst, Twyford, Berks, England, and represent his latest creations. The most important one in the collection is the rich salmon-colored rose, Charles E. Shea, which created a furore at the London show last summer and won the gold medal.
Three other roses sent by Mr. Hicks to be tested in the Portland climate are Climbing Lady Hillingdon, Mrs. Freddie Hunter and Mrs. Dunlop Best.

Interesting Letter Received.

One of the most interesting letters Mayor Baker has received about the garden came from Lady Mary Wentworth Fitzwilliams, written in her own hand from her home, Wigginton, York, England. The letter gives an idea of the sacrifices the titled women of England are making for the war, as Lady Fitzwilliams states that formerly where she had a garden she now has after her widely-known garden she has now only one, an old man, having had the others join the service or go into the munitions factories. She writes her own rose garden, Lady Fitzwilliams states that she and her daughters are doing their best to maintain it in fair condition until the end of the war, the two doing all the work, even to the cultivation. Lady Fitzwilliams sends her best wishes for the new Portland garden and states that when the war is over some of her wonderful flowers will be sent to Portland.

Shea Predicts Success.

Charles E. Shea, who has been twice president of the National Rose Society, and possibly the best-known rosarian in England today, having been the Dean Hole medalist in 1914, being the gold medal awarded the writer, most enthusiastically, saying after reading of the plan of the garden as arranged by Mr. Curry: "I have perused with great interest and interest with great appreciation the booklet of the National rose test garden at Portland, Or. The whole scheme seems admirably considered and the writer gives an idea in a manner which cannot fail to achieve success. We in the old country are far behind you in this matter and I trust the best of the National Rose Society will lead us to follow, humbly in your footsteps."

Alexander Hill Gray, the veteran rose grower of England and the greatest advocate and grower of tea roses in Great Britain, although now 89 years of age, writes in a strong, firm hand to Mayor Baker that the garden can count on his support.

Americans to Contribute.

The American growers in the East are awaiting until the first thaw to dig out the plants they have had outside and the committee in charge of the garden has received word from such well-known growers as A. H. Pierson, E. G. Hill, W. A. Wanda, John Cook, Conrad & Jones, Dr. William Van Fleet, George C. Thomas, Jr., and others that they will send plants this Spring. Of the California growers the great interest centers in the big collection by Mr.
Messrs. Howard & Sons, Los Angeles, creators of the now famous rose, Los Angeles, have promised to send. Some of their new roses are yet unnamed, but where they have been tested out in private gardens they have aroused as much interest as did the famous Los Angeles rose first appeared. The greatest interest probably centers in the new rose, Columbia, which E. G.
Hill regards as his masterpiece. Mr.
Hill in a letter to Mr. Curry states that he is preparing special plants for the Portland garden. As an evidence of how professional growers regard this rose Mr. Hill writes that he has shipped out already 400,000 plants, the greatest number of plants of any rose ever sold before it was on the general market.

"NOVELTIES" ARE WHISKY

Four Barrels Shipped From San Francisco Seized at Dock.

Four heavy barrels billed as "novelties," which arrived several days ago from San Francisco on the steamer Heaver, were confiscated yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Christoffers and George Hurlbert and were found to contain 144 quart bottles of whisky.
The liquor was billed to H. Marks, but the owner failed to call the Almsworth dock to receive his cargo.
The same officers also took possession of two trunks containing 15 gallons of liquor at the same dock. The trunks were billed to the Linnton Sho-Company. There is no such firm in existence, they learned.

Gresham to Hear Mrs. Spencer.

GRESHAM, Or., Jan. 19.—(Special).— Mrs. J. E. Spencer will speak at Union High School No. 2 on Monday afternoon at 2 P. M. on various ways of preparing fish for eating, and also will demonstrate the best methods for the cooking of that meat. Special attention will be paid to black cod and Columbia River smelt. She will show how to make sauces for the various dishes of cooked cod.

Clubhouse Plans Completed.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 19.—(Special).—Plans for the clubhouse to be built by the Grays Harbor Rod and Gun club of this city, call for a structure that will have the outward appearance of a log cabin. The exterior of the club, which is to be 29 by 30 feet in dimensions will be planked with mill slabs, the bark of which will face outward. A large fireplace is proposed.

ARCTIC WEATHER IN EAST

MOTHER OF PORTLAND MAN TELLS STORY OF CONDITIONS.

The Spring Weather which is prevailing in Oregon at the present time is contrasted with the cold, wintry climate of the East in a letter received by John A. Keating, president of the Lumbermen Trust Company, from his mother, Mrs. M. A. Keating, who lives in Muskegon, Mich.

"This winter, with its drifting snows and Arctic cold, is a trial on endurance physical and the patience of the demands upon the family purse," she writes.

"Again we are in the throes of a blizard, the drifts are at an unbelievable height and the mercury is at zero. The wind howls around our house, while the paths that were shoveled a half hour ago are again filled. The streets are deserted and all traffic has ceased.
No trains, either steam or electric, are operating, and I am sure the streets are not running. No autos are able to push through the snows and a few horses are trying in a laborious way to draw a limited amount of coal to those who are without fuel. Our supply will hold out, in spite of the heavy demands upon it, and I trust the situation will change before our bins are empty.

"Our hearts are filled with sympathy for the poor, with their porous houses and little with which to get fuel. We are warm and comfortable. Why try to draw a picture of the snow? We read there was one street in Shelby that had a drift clear across it ten feet high, and that was before this blizard of the last 24 hours.

"The snow in places is four or five feet higher than the rail of the piazza; now fancy what that is from the ground level. The dining-room court is now deserted, with the chairs nearly covered with a fine snow down to the embrankments, which in places reach half way up the windows, while the

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR DIES AT SCOTTS MILLS.

Averitt C. Reed, whose death occurred at Scotts Mills, January 13, and who was buried there January 15, served two voluntary enlistments in the Civil War. He was wounded at Antietam and discharged from the service. He again enlisted in January, 1864, and served to the end of the war.
His service was in Ohio regiments.

EXEMPTIONS ARE DENIED

Partial Support of Parents No Excuse for Deferred Classification.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 18.—(Special).— Draft registrants who have been aiding in the support of their parents and who could contribute from their salaries in the service as much as they have been paying heretofore will not be given deferred classification in this section of the state. These men are being placed in Class 1 by the district board.

One registrant here claimed deferred classification on the ground that his parents were dependent upon him for support and his questionnaire showed white stretches out unobstructed until it reaches the top of the high fence.

The above, the air is white with the fast-falling flakes, like a delicate veil between heaven and earth. It is most beautiful, so beautiful I would you like to see for yourself."

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Jan.
19.—(Special).—President P. L. Campbell, by virtue of his position as acting president of the National Association of State Universities, is in charge of the work of lining up all the college forces of the country in cooperation with the Government in the conduct of the war.
