Mrs. Walter Tracy (Agnes Ford)
A Well-known Golfer of the Northwest.
Whose Wedding Was an Event of

weeks. Miss Hansen has visited in this city several times, and she has hosts of friends here who will extend cordial greetings to her.

Plans are rapidly being formulated for the annual Valentine tea for the Visiting Nurses Association, which always is an event of February 14. This year the affair probably will be held at the Multnomah Hotel, although complete arrangements have not yet been made.

Perhaps the greatest surprise of the week is the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Bruere, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Bruere, to William Boys Banks, of Spokane. The wedding was a hastily arranged affair and was solemnized Friday afternoon at Vancouver, Wash., in the Episcopal Church, the pastor of the church reading the service. Only a few friends and the families of the couple were present. The bride is a Delta Gamma girl and is attending the University of Oregon. She has been on the sick list for several weeks and was in town convalescing when her fiancé received orders to report for assignment in the Navy at Bremerton. He left yesterday for the north and his bride will make her home with the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. J. H. Banks, in Spokane. Mr. Banks is a Dartmouth man and a popular Beta member.

A number of the relatives and friends of the couple have known of their engagement for some time, although an announcement has not been made, as the bride-elect has not finished her course at college.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosenfeld were hosts for a delightful dinner party Tuesday night. The table was set in decoration and appointment and covers were marked for: Mrs. Isaac White, Mrs. Solomon Rosenfeld, Mrs. Julius Lipnitz, Mrs. A. J. Meier, Mrs. Rigmund Frank, Mrs. Abraham Meier, Mrs. Henry W. Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Meier, Miss Delphine Rosenfeld and the hosts.

Captain and Mrs. A. E. Jukes, of British Columbia, were honor guests at the dinner given over by Lieutenant Burnett Wednesday night preceding the ice hockey game, dinner being served at the Benson Hotel. The table was adorned with a huge bowl of scarlet carnations and covers were placed for Captain and Mrs. Jukes, Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Webster, Mrs. Hazel B. Litt, Miss Polly Young, Lieutenant J. R. Simpson, of the recruiting office at the British consulate, and the host, who is in charge of the British recruiting office. Following the hockey game several members of the party joined the throng of prominent folk at the supper dances at the Multnomah Hotel.

One of the most unique and promising events connected with the "bridge drive" of the People's Institute, recently started at the home of Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, with a large card party, is the program arranged by Mrs. Sempel S. Kerr, as her portion of the obligation. She has decided not to give a card party, but instead has been urged by her hosts of friends to give a talk on Australia, a country with which she is very familiar, being a native of that place and a resident for many years.

The talk will be most informal and will be more of a chat on the life, people and customs of Australia, with illustrated views, of which Mrs. Kerr is the happy owner. The affair will take place at the Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church on the afternoon of January 25, at 2:30 o'clock, and as the tickets are but a quarter of a dollar, everyone will surely avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this wonderful country intelligently discussed. Any one who desires may purchase tickets either through Mrs. Kerr, the "Woman's Exchange," or James F. Ewing, at the c's church office. The committee assisting Mrs. Kerr includes Mrs. Otis Ensign, Miss Ruth Ensign, and Mrs. George W. Collins.

There also will be a display of Australian weapons and curios, and a program of appropriate or typical music will be given by Mrs. Fletcher Linn. A handsome Australian flag lent by Francis Sealy, will also be on exhibition, and all the women who attend are urged to take their "bitting" share of the chain of parties being given by dozens of women.

One of the largest and most elaborate functions in the week's schedule of social functions is the annual meeting of the Shriners, Al Kader Temple hosts, which will be held tomorrow in the Multnomah Hotel. The tea, garden, ballroom and assembly hall will be used to accommodate the throng of members and visitors who will come from all over the West. The chief potentate, Charles E. Ovenshire, with his family, will occupy the royal suite of the Multnomah Hotel and they will be guests of Eric V. Hansen on a motor trip over the Columbia River Highway.

Plans are being formulated by the Army officers of Vancouver Barracks for a big dance to be held at the Multnomah Hotel next week. The affair will be one of the largest events of its kind since the previous officers' ball, for which the management of the Multnomah were hosts. Prominent Portland matrons will be asked to act as patronesses, and the invitational list will include the younger girls of the city as well as a number of the younger married contingent.

Among the delightful and interesting events of the week was the tea for which Mrs. Warren E. Thomas was hostess Friday afternoon, honoring the celebrated Jan Rubini, well-known violinist, and his attractive young wife, Miss D'Aubrey, who is one of the noted motion picture stars. She arrived in Portland Friday morning from a trip in the North, where she has been visiting friends. About 25 of the closest friends of Mrs. Thomas shared in the event, and the prettily decked tea table was presided over by Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke and Mrs. John F. Logan.

The preceding day Mrs. Burke entertained the musician with a similar affair, to which well-known musical folk were asked.

For the benefit of the mothers and babes of France an interesting musicale has been planned by a special committee of the Woman's Club. Mrs. C. E. Runyon, chairman, to be given Tuesday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Coleman, in Irvington. Mrs. Warren E. Thomas has charge of the musical program, which will include vocal and instrumental numbers. A novel recital on the pipe organ will be given by Lucien E. Zecker, and vocal selections will be contributed by Mrs. Lulu Dahl Miller, Mrs. Jane Burns Albert and Dom J. Zan. The proceeds from this affair will be sent to the Dr. Esther Lovejoy fund. All those interested are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cook recently visited in Santa Barbara at the Arlington Hotel. They are spending the winter in California, touring the southern part of the state.

Miss Iley Nunn Cage, an attractive young maid of this city, left last week for Nashville, Tenn., where she will be the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Henry, in Belle Meade Park, at the residence of whom Miss Cage will become the bride of Lieutenant Hal M. Davis, 116th Field Artillery, stationed at Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga. The wedding will be an event of tomorrow and will be attended only by relatives. The bride-elect is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Cage, who have been making their home at the Multnomah Hotel for several months, coming here from San Diego, Cal. She came to this city recently, which she has been making her old family home. She attended school at the Vanderbilt University, from which institution her fiancé also was graduated last July. During his incumbency at Wheeler, the bride will make her home in Macon.

A novel affair of the mid-week was the card party and tea for the management of the Multnomah Hotel were hosts on Thursday, for the patrons of the hotel. The affair was given on the mezzanine floor and was in charge of Mrs. Harold Grady. Tables were arranged in the tea garden, an artistically appointed table being placed at one end with the refreshments.

Mrs. A. E. Butterfield, who is one of the most active workers in Red Cross work, has returned from Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Louison and daughters, Ann and Isabel, who have been visiting relatives in Fresno and San Francisco for several weeks, are now at home.

Texas, after an interesting visit with her son, who is in the flying squadron. She also visited at San Antonio, Kansas City and other cities.

The marriage of Miss Agnes Ford, who is a well-known golfer and society girl of Seattle, as well as in this city, to Lieutenant Walter Tracey, of the U. S. Army, was celebrated in the city of Seattle, and is of interest to many Portlanders, as the bride has frequently visited here. Lieutenant Tracey is attached to Camp Fremont, in Palo Alto, and after the wedding he took his bride on a trip to Washington, D. C., his former home. They will make their home in Palo Alto until war orders send the bridegroom elsewhere.

Mrs. Tracey is a sister of Mrs. Emil Enna, of this city, and is a charming girl as well as being a foremost golfer among the women of the Northwest.

Mrs. Margaret Crosby, daughter of Mrs. V. M. Crosby, also of Seattle, became the bride of Frederick Miller, of New York, on Thursday in Seattle. The bride formerly lived in Portland and was graduated from St. Helen's Hall, after which she attended the University of Washington, where she was a popular Gamma Phi Beta girl. Her wedding was also a simple affair. Miss Kathleen Gaffney being maid of honor, and David Montgomery Claghorn, a former classmate of the bridegroom at Columbia College, acting as best man. Both men rowed on the varsity crew at Columbia for a few years. Mr. Claghorn is stationed at Camp Lewis, and Mr. Miller is now assigned with the Italian Military Aviation Service. The bride has hosts of friends in this city, some of whom went north for the ceremony.

Mrs. E. C. Frost entertained with a charmingly appointed dinner of 10 covers at Hotel Portland Monday evening. The table was decorated in crimson carnations and greenery. After dinner the guests enjoyed a musicale in one of the private parlors.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Calk (Gertrude Carter) are extending a cordial welcome to the couple, who have just completed their wedding trip. They were married the latter part of last month in San Francisco and since that time they have been making a tour of Southern California. Mr. and Mrs. Calk are at home at 526 Vista avenue.

Mrs. I. G. Broadway, of Portland, who is visiting in Roseburg, was entertained with a charming reception early last week, the hostesses being Misses Nell Mullen and Hattie Belle Hackett, at the home of the latter.
