

JUNIORS ARE BUSY

Children Enthusiastic in Red Cross Campaign.

13 SCHOOLS NOW BELONG

Money Collected Will Be Used to Buy Supplies Which Children Will Use in Making Articles for Soldiers and Red Cross.

Thirteen Portland schools have already formed complete school auxiliaries of the Junior Red Cross, and most of them are enrolled 100 per cent.

At this conference committees will be appointed in each county and work inaugurated. Details will be explained to representatives, and they will be advised how to present the campaign.

The schools which are already enrolled as Junior Red Cross auxiliaries are: Buckman, Couch, School for the Deaf, Lewis and Clark, Franklin, St. Stephen's Parochial, Hawthorne, Creston, Stephens, Fernwood, Bellwood, Woodstock and Mount Tabor.

The following committees from the Association of Oregon Normal Schools, which has gone heart and soul into the Red Cross campaign, have been appointed by Mrs. King, and every member of each committee has pledged her services:

Speakers' committee: Mrs. H. A. Eby, chairman; Mrs. E. H. McCollister, Mrs. H. E. Torrey, Miss Frances Gill, Mrs. Clarence Curry.

Office committee: Mrs. W. W. McCredie, secretary of the Junior Red Cross committee, chairman; Mrs. H. L. Geary, Miss Alice Collier, Miss Margaret Russell.

Supply committee: Miss Grace Gillette, chairman; Mrs. James B. Kerr, Mrs. G. L. Rauch, Mrs. Otto Wedemeyer.

MORE TEACHERS NEEDED

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL UNABLE TO SUPPLY DEMAND.

Campaign for Students to Be Launched in Effort to Meet Requirements in Oregon Now.

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Jan. 26.—(Special).—The Oregon Normal School's state-wide campaign to secure the students for the Fall term of 1918, to help supply the ever-growing demand for teachers during the wartime, has been launched.

President Ackerman stated this week that the calls coming to his office make it imperative that the Oregon Normal make an energetic attempt to increase its output of graduates at the earliest possible date.

Clackamas Man Is Dead Harry C. Robertson Had Lived at Jennings Lodge Seven Years.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 26.—(Special).—Harry C. Robertson, of Jennings Lodge, died at his home Thursday afternoon after an illness of several months.

Mr. Robertson was a native of Scotland, and came to America with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, when a child. About 10 years ago he located in Oregon City, and for some time was clerk of the Electric Hotel. He later moved to Jennings Lodge, where he has resided for the past seven years.

Mr. Robertson is survived by his widow and daughter, Mary, of Jennings Lodge.

Fills Stomach With New Energy Weak, Worn Out, Gassy, Sour Stomach Revived and Made to Enjoy Food With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Most of us eat three times a day and often forget that each meal should be disposed of in the stomach to make room for the next. The failure of the stomach to do this is called indigestion, or dyspepsia, with its sour risings, gas, rumblings, pain, depression and the feeling of stiffness when breathing is difficult.

CLUB IS SUBTERFUGE

Judge Tucker Affirms Verdict in Albert Stevens' Case.

ANTI-JITNEY LAW VIOLATED Circuit Judge Tucker Declares More Legislation Is Needed in Order That "Pro Bono Publico" Club May Operate.

That the organization and operation of the so-called "Pro Bono Publico" Club for a short time last Fall was nothing but a subterfuge employed by local litigants in an effort to evade the anti-jitney ordinance passed by the people was the substance of a decision handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge Tucker in affirming the conviction in Municipal Court of Albert Stevens, a jitney driver "employed" by the P. B. Club.

After a thorough review of all the evidence produced at the hearing, in which the operation of the club and its apparent efforts of evasion of city ordinances were brought to light, Judge Tucker held that Stevens was guilty as charged and the $25 fine imposed by Municipal Judge Rossman was confirmed.

Club Held Subterfuge. "Although the club had not been in operation very long, nevertheless the evidence shows that the club was really a waiting-room and that no effort was made to exclude other than members."

The decision, "The certificates of membership, to which were attached the coupons for transportation, were sold indiscriminately, although it was claimed that the club was reserved for the right to pass upon the moral qualifications of any applicants."

"However, the testimony showed that these tickets were placed for sale at various points and very little supervision was had in regard to the purchasers. In fact, they were open to be bought by men, women and children and the public generally."

"A careful analysis of the evidence submitted cannot but disclose the fact that the stockholders of the P. B. Club were endeavoring to carry on the transportation of passengers over and upon the streets of the city of Portland without conflicting with the provisions of the ordinance."

Lower Court Affirmed. "The conduct, purpose and intent of the club in this behalf are all questions of fact, and, as stated, the evidence clearly shows that the corporation and the defendant, as a member of the corporation, either as an employe or a stockholder, is doing indirectly that which he or it could not do directly."

"The ultimate analysis of the entire evidence in this behalf is all questions of fact, and, as stated, the evidence clearly shows that the corporation and the defendant, as a member of the corporation, either as an employe or a stockholder, is doing indirectly that which he or it could not do directly."

Former Resident of Oregon City Who Died at Her Home in Portland Recently. Mrs. Ellen Jagger.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Jagger, who died Wednesday at her home on East Couch street, were held Friday from the J. P. Finley & Son undertaking parlors. Interment was in the Ross City Cemetery.

Mrs. Jagger was born at Mount Pleasant, near Oregon City, on September 22, 1853. Her father and mother, the late Josiah and Mary V. Howell, moved to Canemah in 1869. In March, 1873, she was married to Louise Jagger.

She is survived by her mother, and three brothers, William H., Joseph and George E. Howell. Two sisters also survive her, Mrs. Myrtle McGregor and Mrs. Myrtle Martyn.

The children surviving Mrs. Jagger are: Benjamin F., Samuel C. Henry, Mrs. Myrtle Fones and Mrs. Bessie Maxon.

Transaction shows that back of the corporation, which is a clearing-house for the defendant and others operating machines upon the streets and collecting fares by the certificate coupons, there is an intent to transport passengers for hire, which fact, when established, comes in direct conflict with the provisions of the ordinance for a violation of which the defendant was arrested.

In order that the club may operate, additional municipal legislation will be necessary, and with this view of the case, it is the judgment of this court that the defendant is guilty as charged."

The city's case was handled before Judge Tucker by Deputy City Attorney Stanley Myers.

Chair Warming No Occupation, Says Judge. Youths Charged With Vagrancy Told to Seek Other Jobs.

PRESIDENTS of the United States, so far, have not sprung from that class of our population known in police circles as "bums," according to Judge Rossman's statement to Carl Whiting and Richard Cross, youths, before him yesterday morning for vagrancy.

Neither is the art of chair-warming recognized as a necessary occupation during war times, at least, the court pointed out to the youths, both of whom were arrested in Erickson's resort by policemen, who told the judge that the boys appeared to be ambitious only to assist in keeping the chairs filled there and in helping to keep the chairs warm.

Judge Rossman's statements relative to our Presidents seemed not to awaken much of an ambition within their breasts to try for that honorable position. As a matter of fact, Whiting is not eligible, anyway, having been born in a foreign country.

Whiting, who is a foreigner, was with him out of the running, Cross was the only one left and he seemed indifferent.

"I guess you prefer to hang around a cheap place and to associate with cheap fellows, rather than to make something of yourself," commented the judge in the case of Cross.

This thrust did not appear to bother Cross in the least. The judge sent him back to the jail until tomorrow.

Whiting, who is a foreigner, was with him out of the running, Cross was the only one left and he seemed indifferent.

Man, 84, Reads Unaided Silas Maley, of Newport, Lays Aside Glasses Despite Years.

TOLEDO, Or., Jan. 26.—(Special).—Silas Maley, a resident of Newport, Or., was in Toledo last week. Mr. Maley is 84 years of age and his wife is one year younger. Both are in good health.

Mr. Maley, who has been a reader of The Oregonian for 40 years, recently had aside his eyeglasses and reads just as well without them. During the period before the transcontinental railway, when the stagecoach and pony express were in vogue, Judge Maley undertook to take a wagon train with Government supplies to Salt Lake City, and when near Fort Bridger he was attacked by the notorious Bill the Kid.

Mr. Maley rode out to ask him to desist. Hickman replied that he intended to burn the wagon and their contents and advised Maley to ride away in the opposite direction, which advice was followed. He glanced back and saw the burning train.

Pythians Pay Mortgage Knights at Vancouver Plan to Celebrate Event.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Jan. 26.—(Special).—A mortgage representing a loan of $5000 to the local lodge of Knights of Pythias has been paid and a committee has been appointed by the lodge to make suitable arrangements for celebrating the event: Monday evening, January 25. The committee includes Harry R. Porter, Fred Bowman, C. E. McCall and Lieutenant Clement F. Walte. Included in the celebration will be a "Hoover" banquet, and the ladies of the members will be invited to be present.

The $5000 loan was made five years ago, when property on Main street was bought by the lodge on which to erect a building.

STUDENTS LAUD DR. KERR

MARION COUNTY O. A. C. MEMBERS DEPLORE RECENT ACCUSATIONS. President's Work in Development of Corvallis Institution Is Declared to Be Noteworthy.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 26.—(Special).—Students of Marion County attending Oregon Agricultural College have drawn up resolutions expressing their loyalty to Dr. Kerr. The resolutions adopted were drawn up by a committee including Doris Sawyer, Rena Short, P. English and M. A. Kooreman and are as follows:

Whereas, We, the representatives of Marion County, in attendance at Oregon Agricultural College, feel that we are in a position to know and appreciate that the wonderful development and work of our college has been brought about by the wise and faithful guidance of our president, William J. Kerr; and

Whereas, We believe because of our personal knowledge that it is our duty to the people of our county, as well as to our state, to inform that the slanders heaped upon our president and Oregon Agricultural College, are without foundation; be it

Resolved, That we state that we firmly believe in the character and honesty of Dr. Kerr and express our confidence and faith in his untiring efforts toward the practical and moral development of the students that come under his influence; and be it further

Resolved, That we emphatically disagree with the statements made by various publications and organizations in regard to President Kerr's character, and that we urge the people of Marion County and the state of Oregon to take advantage of the opportunities offered their sons and daughters of acquiring a higher education under the guidance of the man of sterling character who has inspired all with whom he has come in contact to a higher Christian ideal.
