Do You Know What a Before-Stock-Taking Sale Means?

It is a great clearing away of merchandise preliminary to inventory, to reduce stocks as far as possible and facilitate stock taking. It is a calendar event observed at this store by a series of sales that bring our patrons the most genuinely extraordinary bargains.

The past year's busy selling has resulted in the accumulation of many broken assortments, odd lots, etc., of good merchandise that we will not carry over, all of which find their way into this great annual sale. Some of these goods cannot be replaced at any price. Every item means a remarkable bargain. The whole store is interested in the most whole-hearted way.

Many Unadvertised
bargains all over the store.

In order to make a most drastic cleanup of our stocks before inventory we have prepared great sales all over the store to begin tomorrow and continue until 6 P. M. Thursday, the close of our fiscal year, and we have planned such a feast of bargains as will mean a record-breaking business every one of the four days.

Some quantities limited, but—all told—there is an abundance of good every-day wanted merchandise at SENSATIONAL reductions. There will be new underpriced offerings each day of this four days' sale—
