Mrs. William Boys Banks (Elizabeth Bruce) whose wedding came as a surprise to Society

Infantry, U. S. A., of Camp Lewis, will be a smart event of Saturday night in Trinity Church. Invitations were sent out yesterday by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, and the church wedding will be a large and charming affair. Following the ceremony, a small reception will be held at the attractive home of the MacMasters at Ardour for the relatives and a few intimate friends. Rev. A. A. Morrison will officiate, and the attendants and ushers will be chosen this week.

Miss MacMaster is spending this week-end in Tacoma with Colonel and Mrs. E. N. Jones, Jr.

Mrs. Morris H. Whitehouse entertained with an informal table bridge tea on Thursday as her "ink" in the chain of parties for the People's Institute.

Miss Alma MacMaster, the charming and popular bride-to-be, has been extensively entertained during the past few weeks, the recent events of the past few days including a luncheon for which Miss Patrice Stewart was hostess on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster were dinner hosts Tuesday evening, the affair being charming and artistically appointed. Covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Miss Norma Hauser, of St. Paul, and her father, Eric V. Hauser.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischner were hosts for a pretty dinner party last night of 14 covers, which is one of a series of dinner parties that the popular couple are giving during the season.

Mrs. John S. Napier was a luncheon hostess Monday at the University Club honoring Mrs. Edward Robertson, of Wyoming, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Walter Lang. Covers were placed for Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Lang, Mrs. C. Edward Greife, Mrs. Victor Johnson, Mrs. Richard Wilder, Mrs. E. L. Devereaux, Mrs. Hubert Morton and the hostess.

Mrs. Holt W. Cookingham (Winnifred Huber) and Mrs. William Walter (Elsa Yokom), two brides of recent date, were the guests of honor for the informal tea for which Mrs. William C. Lawrence was hostess on Friday.

The last of the Monday Night Dancing Club's informal dances preceding the Lenten period was held Monday last week, at Harlow Greely Hall, and the affair was noted for the large number of dinner parties preceding it. Congenial groups of members made up a large party of 36 covers at the University Club, covers being placed for Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney L. Boise, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hemmingshouse, Mr. and Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Webster, Mrs. C. Henry Davis, Jr., Mrs. Gay Lombard, Mrs. J. Vanleer Eichenbaum, Walter Martin, Rodney L. Gilean, Colonel Moore, of Vancouver Barracks, and Lee H. Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wynne Watts were dinner hosts Sunday night, honoring Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Whitney, who will leave soon for their new home in Walla Walla. Covers were placed for a dozen of the close friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Olmstead, who have been entertaining R. R. Deming, of Chicago, were his honor guests at a pretty dinner party Wednesday evening in the Multnomah Hotel.

Covers were placed at a prettily-decked table, the feature of which was a bowl of red carnations, for Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. A. Skene Moody, Captain Hitchcock, of Cleveland, James Pinkham and the host.

Last night the University Club was thronged with a merry assemblage of diners and dancers, gathered as a courtesy to the new Army officers at Vancouver Barracks, the board of the club being hosts for the occasion. Many dinner parties were given, the majority having several officers as guests of honor. Later the party was greatly ers were placed for Miss Agnes McBride, Lieutenant-Colonel Macmillan, Miss Susan Truby, Major F. B. Edwards, Miss Ruth Dunning and Captain E. J. Gook.

Mrs. Harry Brooks, of Bend, is visiting in Portland at the Benson Hotel and is being entertained by Mrs. Alice Benson Beach and several other matrons and maids of the city.

The engagement of Miss Grace Walsh, a popular Irvington girl, to Henry W. Quinlan, of Oswego, N. Y., was announced Thursday afternoon by her sister, Mrs. K. A. Wyckoff, about 20 of the intimate friends of the bride-elect being asked to share in the news. A charming method of announcing the betrothal was adopted, the hostess having artistic and colorful Japanese gift envelopes, in which the card telling the news was enclosed. Each guest was presented with one of these envelopes before entering the dining-room, where the table was a purveyor of the happy news. An entire bridal party in full regalia, the bridal couple, attendants, ushers and clergyman, being in evidence. They were little kewpies in bridal array and apparently making down a gaily decorated aisle made of ribbons and greenery. An arch was built over the end of the aisle, the keynote of the color scheme throughout being pink, white and green. The arch was built of tiny lilies of the valley, carnations and miniature festoons of smilax. All the appointments followed this tricolor.

Another sister of the bride-elect, Mrs. J. O. Hoyt, presided at the coffee urn, and Mrs. C. J. Maher and Mrs. M. E. Johnson assisted in the serving. The wedding will be an event of April and will be solemnized in the church with the present generation attending for several generations in Oswego, their old home. The parents of the bride-to-be were married there and all the members of the present generation were baptized in the old church.

Miss Walsh has a large circle of friends in Portland, with whom she is tremendously popular. She will be anxiously entertained before leaving for the East in the early Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McBride entertained on Sunday with a dinner, commencing Lieutenant-Colonel J. M. Macmillan, Major F. B. Edwards and Captain E. J. Gook.

Colonel Macmillan is a cousin of Sir Frederick Macmillan, the publisher, of London, England, and a relative of Mr. McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pipes (Susie Fennell Pipes) are being showered with congratulatory messages upon the arrival of a daughter, born on Friday.

Mrs. Ralph H. Hurlbut entertained with an informal tea, honoring Miss Margaret Webber, who soon will leave for Honolulu, where the wedding will take place to Ceber Capwell in February. The tea table was daintily decked with pink roses and hyacinths, and the guests numbered about 25 close friends of the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Clark celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary on Monday night by giving a dinner party, covers being placed for eight. Following dinner, the party attended the Monday Night Dancing Club's dance.

The third of the Scottish Rite Cathedral dances and card parties which was held Thursday proved to be one of the most delightful of all the series for this season. Seventeen tables were arranged for cards for the non-dancers, and a programme of music, vocal and instrumental, was given in the banquet room, under the direction of Louis G. Clarke. Talent was lent by the Hippodrome management for the event, and the diversion added considerable pleasure to the evening's entertainment. The attendance at the dance also was in excess of any of the previous parties this season.

A military ball will be given by the Progressive Woman's League on Saturday, February 3, in the ballroom of the Multnomah Hotel. Mrs. Alice McNaught, president of the league, is making extensive plans for this affair, and she has the assistance of a capable corps of other members. The benefit is for the Oregon Soldiers' Hospital fund, and every one in the city is cordially invited to attend.

One of the interesting weddings of the mid-week was that at which Dr. Horace Preston Belknap and Miss Gladys Andre, of Pendleton, pledged their troth. The wedding was solemnized at noon Wednesday in the First Christian Church, the pastor, Rev. H. H. Griffin, officiating. The couple were accompanied to the altar by relatives with a few intimate friends were present. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served in the rose room of the Benson Hotel, and Dr. Belknap and his bride left for a brief wedding trip to the Sound cities. They will make their home in Portland upon their return.

Mrs. Belknap's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, of Pendleton, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. H. P. Belknap, Sr., of Pringville, as well as the latter's two sons, Howard, who is in Camp Lewis, and Wilford Belknap, of the University of Washington, came on for the wedding.

Dr. Belknap is a well-known young physician and surgeon of Portland, a partner of Dr. Harry McKay. He attended the University of Oregon, where he was an active and popular member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa.

Mrs. F. P. Tebbetts, wife of Captain Tebbetts, who left last week for duty in the United States Army, is an ardent Red Cross and war relief worker. She also is popular in social circles and is a zealous worker for the benefit socials.

W. P. Barrett, recently of St. Paul, who is in Portland in the interests of Government construction work for Grant-Smith Company, was host for a box party at the Orpheum vaudeville Monday night, later entertaining his guests at a supper-dance at the Multnomah Hotel.

Lieutenant and Mrs. James Montgomery and Lieutenant and Mrs. W. J. Coniff are in Portland indefinitely and will here make their home at the Multnomah Hotel.

Captain Louis Levy, Mrs. Levy and children, and Mrs. Julius Levy, of Memphis, Tenn., recently arrived in Portland and will make their home at the Multnomah Hotel. Captain Levy is in charge of the examination board for the aviation service.

Emery Olmstead presided at a luncheon on Tuesday afternoon in the Arcadian Gardens of the Multnomah Hotel.
