NEW EMBARGOES LIKELY

Treading of Further Restrictions on Freight shipment Will Be Considered by War Production Board, Which Are Not Promising.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Bureaus of the War Production Board are expected to recommend today further restrictions on the flow of freight from the West to the East, which would necessitate an embargo on the shipment of many foods, clothing, and other goods from the West to the East.

These embargoes would be of great importance to the war effort, for they would make possible the larger production of war materials in the East, where the industries are more highly developed, and the smaller production of war materials in the West, where the industries are less highly developed.
