WAR FINANCE BILL MEETS OPPOSITION

Measure Expected to Pass After Material Changes Have Been Made.

HARDWICK SEVERE CRITIC her duties.

Democratic Senator Declares Against Conferring Enormous Powers Over American Industry Upon Few Men.

WASHINGTON, March 1 .- Unexpected opposition to the Administration meastire to establish a war finance corpora-tion arose today in the Senate, thwart-ing leaders' plans for its passage toand forcing the bill over until

Final enactment of the measure, posaibly with material modifications, was believed by leaders to be endan-

The opposition centered chiefly on the proposal for licensing by a "capital issues committee" of security is-sues of $100,000 and more.

Virtually no progress was made on the bill today. Only one minor amend-ment was disposed of and that—ex-tending the provision for direct loans to persons as well as corporations— was accepted by Senator Simmons, in charge of the bill, when members of the banking committee and others in-sisted that farmers and small business men, as well as capitalists and large corporations should be allowed to re-ceive direct advances from the corpora-

Senator Smith, of Michigan, Republican, opposed conferring upon the Sec-retary of the Treasury the enormous powers which he said the bill author-ized. He suggested that the Federal reserve act be amended so as to place these powers in the hands of the 12 reserve banks.

Senator Simmons staunchly defended the measure and declared that the Féd-eral reserve cannot adequately cope with financial needs of American in-dustry in view of the virtual comman-deering of the money market by the was anticipated.

The attack on the store, the Colonel said, resulted from an argument be-tween Private Turner, of the stevedore regiment, and the white clerk at the da fountain in the store. Turner returned to camp, gathered together about 30 men tonight and marched on the store, attempting to wreck it with bricks and bottles.

When the assault began, the Colonel's statement said, the 48th Infantry guard was ordered to arrest the men. As the soldiers approached the negroes ran. Two commands to halt having passed unheeded, the guard was ordered to fire. Three of the negroes fell, one dy-ing almost instantly.

NEW FEDERAL BUILDING WILL BE COMPLETED BY JULY L.

Lewis Hobart Praises Contractor for Progress Made in Face of Delays. Occasioned by the War.

Portland's new Federal building, corer Broadway and Glisan, will be completed and ready for acceptance by the Government by July 1, 1918, according to Lewis P. Hobart. Federal architect and supervisor of construction.

Mr. Hobart spent parts of Friday and Saturday in Portland, going over the building to note progress being made. Before leaving for his headquarters at San Francisco yesterday he expressed himself as highly pleased with what he found. Not only has the construc-tion work been kept closely up to schedule, but the quality of materials and workmanship entering into the big structure were declared eminently sat-isfactory.

June 7 was the original date set for completion of the building. Such serimaterials have been countered, however, that credit is give the contractors for not having fallen seriously behind schedule, Postmaster F. S. Myers said yesterday that his office will be ready to move the moment the building is officially accepted by the Treasury Department

TWO ROADS SHORT OF CARS Equalization Among Lumbermen to

Be Made at Once.

SALEM Or. March 2 .- The Southern Pacific Company today reported a car shortage in Oregon of 87 closed and 107 open cars. The latest report from the Spokane, Portland & Scattle road is a shortage of 173 cars. The Oregon Public Service Commis-sion was today notified by C. R. Gray, of the office of the Director-General at Washington, that an equalization of car distribution among the lumber manufacturers of Oregon will be made at once. The relocation of cars, Mr. Gray says, is now in progress, and he explains that the shortage complained of by Baker Councy hands and caused by the immediate necessity of moving grain and grain products. Responsibility of remedying the Oregon situation has been placed with Regional Director Aishton, at Chicago. FARE CASE IS CONTINUED
