New Drive Is Whirlwind.

"It's a whirlwind! It's a whirlwind!" Little sooner had the great crusade gotten under way than incoming reports caused a headquarters executive thus to exclaim.

Officially, the campaign opened at 9 A. M. Before 5 o'clock seven counties had definitely reached or exceeded their goals. Two counties and a dozen towns and communities reported their quotas more than doubled. Some were pressing on with the determination to treble and quadruple them.

City's Total $3,654,000.

At 8:30 o'clock last night the first checking of results in the city of Portland disclosed that $3,654,000 had been pledged in the new loan to the Government.

Totals summed from state reports at about the same hour showed that outside of Multnomah County there had been sold to patriotic buyers bonds to the value of $2,420,550. Oregon's now $6,074,550.

Big Liberty Loan Assemblage Informing Duty of America Is to Cast Every Selfish Dominion Down Into Dust.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 6.—President Wilson, at a great liberty loan celebration here tonight, gave America's answer to the German drive on the western battlefield, to the renewed propaganda for a German-made peace, to all proposals to end the war before Germany is awakened from her dream of world dominion.

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

The Oregonian is pleased to call public attention to the fact that the regular space of all large local advertisers is today devoted to the Third Liberty Loan. It is donated freely by the advertisers, out of a patriotic purpose to further the interests of the $3,000,000,000 war loan.

Challenge Promptly Accepted.

Those were some of the physical facts which backed his words, when the President declared: "I accept the challenge. I know that you accept it. All the world shall know you accept it. It shall appear in the utter sacrifice and self-forgetfulness with which we shall give all that we love and all that we have to redeem the world and make it fit for free men like ourselves to live in."

SIDEWALK RESPONSE PLAIN

Cheers Sent Up as Soldiers Pass Good to Hear and Assurance That Cause of Liberty is Close to Hearts of All.

"Tis Freedom's call: lend your all." With this slogan, the third liberty loan will conquer.

It was proclaimed at the end of the war activities parade yesterday as the motto of the big drive. It will lead to certain victory.

The pageant itself aroused boundless enthusiasm and was an object lesson in patriotism. The streets were lined with such crowds as Portland seldom sees and the cheers that went up as the boys in khaki went by were good to hear.

Loan Campaign Now Is On.

The war activities parade signaled the launching of the third liberty loan. It was officially on from the moment that the long column began to move at 10 o'clock.

Its greatest feature was the hundreds of stalwart men in khaki, from Camp Lewis and Vancouver Barracks, with the Multnomah Guard out in force, the spruce division workers and the Loyal Legion of Loggers. It was the first time Portland has seen the United States Spruce Production Division, and the men made a fine appearance.

Slogans All Expressive.

"Make the Hun hungry for peace," "We're fighting Fritz until he quits," "Yankee Doodle dollars do or die," "Let 'Over There' know we're here," "Knock the hell out of Wilhelm," "Arms and funds defeated Huns," "Our country's need all must heed," "Heed duty's call, lest we fail," "With your kale we cannot fail," "Now we're in it, go the limit," "Purchase a block of liberty stock," "Keep mum; let your money talk," "Make American dollars discount German marks," etc.

A feature of the pageant was the appearance of girls of the motor squad in attractive uniform driving cars in the line that carried officials, and others prominent in the varied war activities that were shown in yesterday's line of march.

TEUTONS HAMMER AT LINE

Great Enemy Masses Hurlled at British Near Corbie to Little Avail.

FRENCH ATTACKED HEAVILY

Boches Thrust Powerfully in Oise and Somme Regions, but Gain in Only One Place.

The Germans are continuing their plunging tactics in the Amiens battle area, with their operation rapidly developing into a greatly magnified Verdun.

The similarity with the classic example of a German attempt to beat down an enemy by sheer force is daily growing. This development obtrudes itself because of the narrowing of the area involved in the attack and the practice of hurling great masses of troops at the defenders of a narrow front, regardless of sacrifices.

Saturday's big plunge appears to have had its starting point just to the south of the Somme. Apparently aiming at the Albert-Amiens railway in the vicinity of Corbie, about 10 miles east of Amiens, the enemy threw heavy masses of troops toward the opposing line from Vaire wood, east of Corbie. The battle seemed likely to develop into one of importance as affecting the tenure of what remained to the entente allies of the wedge-shaped piece of ground in the angle formed here by the Somme and the Ancre.

The Germans did not renew their attacks against the French south of the Somme Friday night. The attack launched against the British in the region of Albert and northward on Friday, however, was kept up well into the evening, but its continuation gave the enemy little, if any, advantage.

Weather Shows Improvement.

The weather on the battle front was reported improving Saturday, but the aviators were still handicapped by low visibility.
