

BUILDERS OF SHIPS
MARCH FOR LIBERTY

Thousands Engaged in Industry That Will Win the War
Bear Slogans of Victory.

SONGS ENLIVEN THE NIGHT

Red-Blooded, Earnest Crowd Emphasize Their Purpose to Bridge Sea From America to France for Army of Democracy.

Most distinctive of all parades Portland ever saw—long columns of marching men of one industry, shipbuilding—marked the end of the opening day of the third liberty loan campaign.

It was a red-blooded, earnest crowd that made up the marching column. They bore slogans that emphasized their sole intent to help bridge the sea from America to France that transport shall not be interrupted for troops, provisions and munitions.

Workers' Foreign Music, Too. Bands made up from the ranks of the workers played throughout the line of march and at Multnomah Field, where a patriotic demonstration held, that was remarkable for enthusiasm.

Crowds that lined the streets caught the infectious spirit of the marchers and echoed their cheers. Banners were borne along that called attention to the speed with which ships are being set afloat at various local yards and the riverside, and the different ways in which to which shall make the best records was in evidence.

C. C. Bradley was grand marshal of the parade. L. Spangenberg, chairman of the parade committee, other members being George Barz, James J. Richardson and Lou Kennedy. The parade was divided into seven divisions.

Baseball League Organized. Last night's parade marked the informal opening of the Columbia-Wall Street baseball league.

Massed bands on the Multnomah oval played the airs that his nearest American hearts today and the big crowd in the grandstand sang them with a will.

"The Nation, the state and the city honor you men who are building ships and buying bonds," said Chairman Dana, by way of opening. He asked for cheers for the boys on the other side who are doing the fighting, and he asked that they be given as though those boys could hear them.

"It is a great thing to be an American in a great cause, and in some ways a wider cause, than ever before called upon American valor."

"The war is in which we are engaged is just the right one. For 40 years and more Germany has made ready to realize a dream of Mittel-Europa. Are you willing to leave Germany with one shred of her power?"

"Will we make her be good?" he asked. And again those thousands of shipworkers followed back, "Yes!"

"It shall succeed in her drive on the west front," he continued. "If she shall take Dunkirk and Calais and win control of the English Channel and bring England and France under her sway, it will be America's ruin."

"France has stood between us and the hell that is pouring out of Germany. If you have been busy, get outside. If you have been lazy, drive them taster. If you have driven spikes quickly, drive them even more quickly."

"Let's bring the daws to France. Let's bring the daws to drive to an end by Wednesday night. Let's drive Hindenburg back and end the war. Will we do it?"

And again that reassuring answer followed back with a mighty "Yes!"

THIS IS PATRIOTIC SUNDAY
Pulpit Services to Take on Features Appropriate to Occasion.

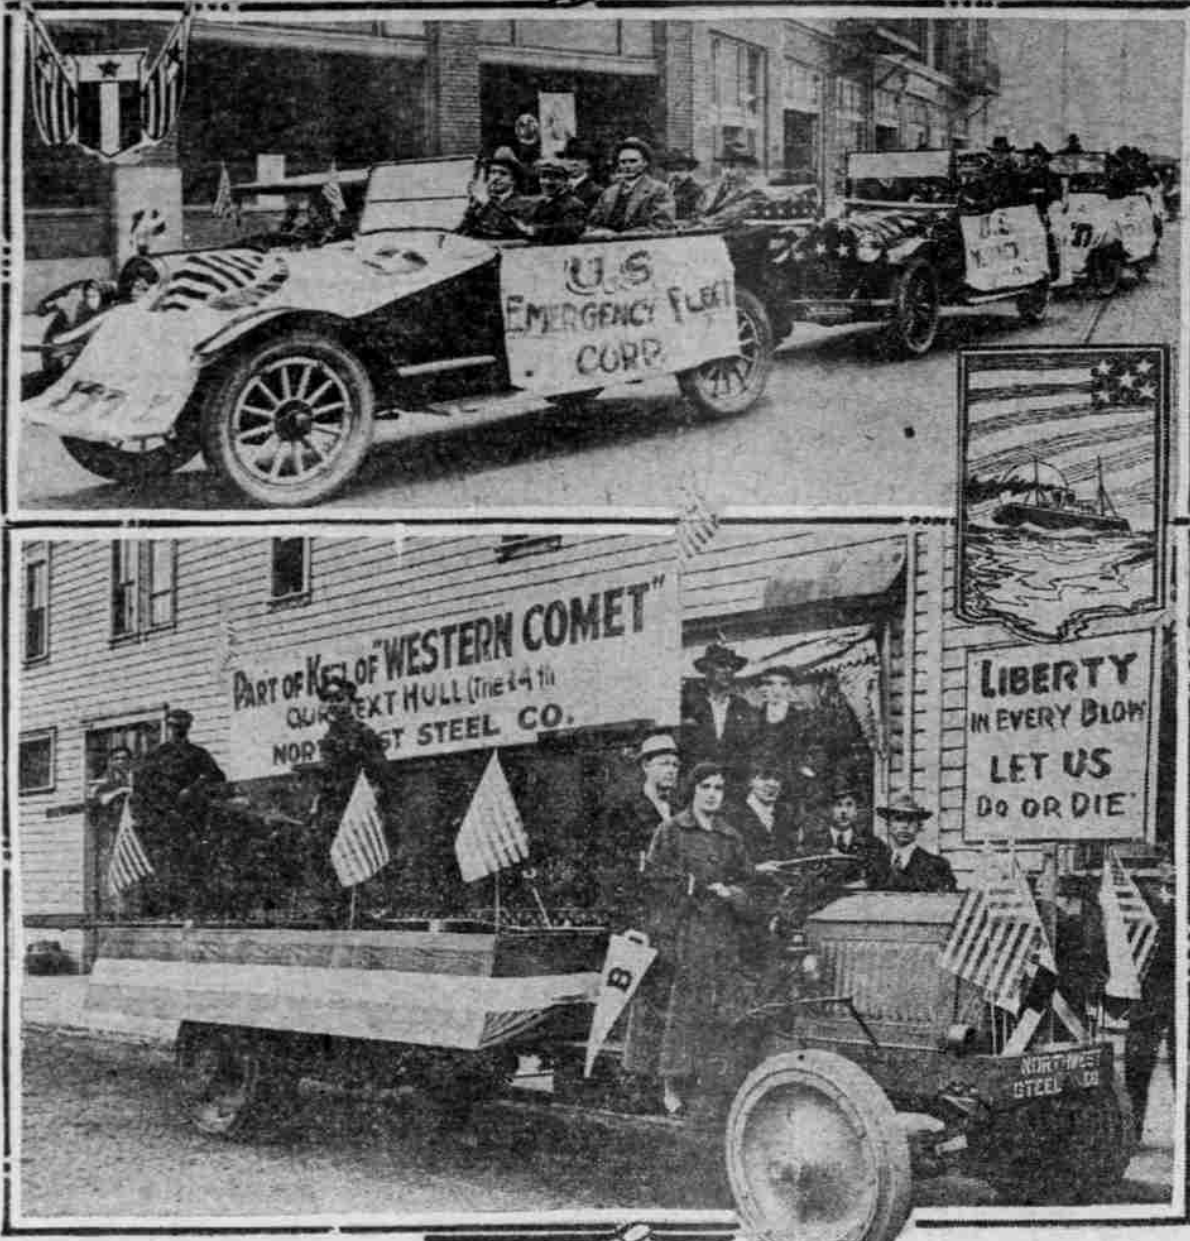

This is "patriotic Sunday" for Portland and nearly all other cities and towns of the state. Regular religious services in hundreds of pulpits will take on patriotic features, in deference to proclamations of the Governor and many of the Mayors, urging that recognition be given the needs of the Nation, particularly in the liberty loan campaign.

Numbers of speakers serving under the state bureau of the liberty loan will address meetings arranged for them in churches and halls of village and town.

In Portland there will be patriotic sermons and talks before audiences of the morning, afternoon and evening. At noon and again at 8 P. M. the members from the 21st Engineers' Regiment at Vancouver Barracks will sing at the Liberty Temple.

At 3 o'clock will be held the great union meeting of churchmen and citizens at the Municipal Auditorium. The chief speaker is announced as Lieutenant C. A. Rexford, captain of the regular Army, stationed at Camp Lewis. There will be several shorter

LIBERTY SEEN IN DISTRESS

Third Liberty Loan Campaign Formally Launched Amid Great Enthusiasm.

LIBERTY SEEN IN DISTRESS

Goddess Sinking in Ocean to Be Saved by Lifebelt of Subscriptions Is Pricewinning Device That Will Show Progress.

LIBERTY SEEN IN DISTRESS

With three whoops and a tiger the third liberty loan campaign was formally launched at Liberty Temple yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the parade.

Street thousands persons gathered in the streets at Sixth and Morrison and joined in the singing of patriotic music and the cheering of patriotic addresses. During the ceremony the device which is to indicate the progress of the drive in subscriptions was formally unveiled and the slogan of the campaign was unfurled on a long banner across Sixth street from Sherman to the city hall.

W. H. Hoover, 229 Front street, member of Lincoln-Garfield Post, Grand Army of the Republic, was the oldest man in the parade. He will be 94 years of age April 20. He rode with John A. Walter.

Two colored Red Cross floats were shown in this division and Scout Young Camp, Spanish War Veterans, marched in the blue uniforms of '98, with the drum corps made up of their sons.

Division No. 6, Frank E. Smith and F. Jaeger, aides, was led by the Washington High School band, followed by the Hill Military Academy cadets and a striking Y. M. C. A. float, with Miss B. A. Bertrand, strikingly dressed, as a mascot.

Division No. 7, Otto Melko, aide, was in charge of the parade. A tank that seemed a true copy of the monsters that are aiding Britain on the west front, rolled along the line of march. It was constructed by R. M. Wade & Co. A truck showing the work of the Red Star Animal Relief ended the division and the parade.

No Man's Land Depleted. One of the most pleasing floats in the parade was that representing no man's land. It simulated war conditions in the trenches, showing sand bags that bulwarked the trench, soldiers on guard, women of mercy, who supplied soup to the fighters, and other features of the bullet-torn battle front.

The spruce division floats were a surprise, because of their complete character. For the day, the parade was a hearing before United States Commissioner Drake.
