

LIFE SKETCHES BY ARTIST WHO SENSES SPIRIT OF THE DAY

Mrs. Eiseman and Mrs. O'Hara are highly scandalized by the lady streetcar conductors. "Just look at them girls—vulgar, that's what it is," says Mrs. Eiseman. "Next thing they'll be wearing pants."

AMONG US MORTALS

WAR-TIME STUFF

By W. E. HILL

"Look at him, Sadie, the big stiff; if he don't take his hat off when the flag goes by I'll do it for him!"

It may be a caraway seed, and then again it may not. Anyway, with all these ground glass scares going the rounds one can scarcely be too careful.

"For goodness sake, George, what did you want to go and be a yeoman for with a neck like that? You might better have stayed in the draft!"

Mr. Wicks, who was out entertaining buyers till 2 a. m., temporarily suspends the daylight saving plan.

Francis Mince, assistant art critic on "The Void" (a Review of Revisions), is of the opinion that war is for warriors—so why bother one's head about it?

Mrs. Brown with two sons in France overhears two Class A men discuss their chances for dodging the draft.
