June Class Play Looms at Washington.

Literary Meet Collides With Baseball Game and Is Knocked Out. Misses Abraham and Hittner Feed Teachers.

BY EUGENE KELTY.
The work on the June 18 class play, "Silas Marner," is progressing rapidly and from all appearances will be one of the best ever given at Washington. Although it is an old one, the plot is good.

The play will probably be given in the early part of next month. Professor Don T. Orphan is coaching. Some of the characters have already been chosen and these have been practicing after school for some time. All of them are working hard.

The Neahkani Literary Society did some reading last week, and Washington's first baseball game came on Wednesday, their regular meeting night.

Washington played its first baseball game of the season on Wednesday of last week against James John High School. Washington won by a score of 15 to 0. The game was a real show-up, a great form and Coach Fenstermacher was well pleased with the work of his men. Those playing for Washington were: Pitcher, third baseman, catcher, first baseman, right field, Scott, pitcher; Miller, catcher; Delp, center field; Clough, shortstop; Sunderlin, left field; and Kidwell, second base.

It has been decided in Mr. Lindner's public speaking classes to have the students prepare four-minute speeches along patriotic lines, to be delivered in the classes. The best of these will be selected, and each will be given at each Wednesday morning assembly. Competition will be kept for places on the assembly platform. The idea has been followed at the meeting of the United States by all of the best speakers and now the students of the high schools are to be given a chance to take up the work.

The girls of the fourth term domestic science class held a very interesting debate last week on the question, "Resolved, That it is better to buy a house than to rent one." The debate was held by Merle Stewart and Helen Whitting, while the affirmative was debated by Katherine Eiland and Marie Gibson.

Monday a very attractive luncheon was served by Vivian Abraham and Helen Hittner to the students of the "Columbia" club. Nona Becker and Margaret Gemmel also served a luncheon on Tuesday. A breakfast was served by Isabel Weatherly and Ruth Hittner on Wednesday. This practical work is of great help to the girls, as it teaches them to conserve as well as to cook well.

The Spanish Club held its meeting Thursday of last week. It was a business meeting for members only. The Spanish students have decided to fundraise for the Red Cross by selling the "Lone and It" which will appear in the next issue.

An interesting assembly was held Friday, April 5. Mrs. Blumauer introduced Sergeant-Major Christy, of the Canadian army. He told of a few of his experiences in France and then discussed the situation in this country. He said that it was necessary for every American citizen to get behind the government and push the liberty loan.

The Neahkani Literary Society held its initiation Friday, April 5, at the home of Marcella Whitaker. The following were taken into the society: Pauline Dix, Florence Johnson, Helen Cole, Hazel Cole, Velma Coutor and Mildred Hard. The initiation was very successful and the girls enjoyed the new members. All enjoyed it immensely.

The girls club officers for the following term have been selected. They are: Helen Young, president; Harold Young, vice-president; Ralph Hayden, secretary-treasurer; and Holly Mackel-haney, editor. The club has a large membership and is very active. It shows its ability on several occasions.

At the assembly held Wednesday of last week Professor Boyer asked Miss Hittner to make an announcement about the "Battle Hymn of the Republic." All the students joined in the chorus. The students then sang the choruses of "The Star-Spangled Banner," "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "Washington, My Washington." After the singing Harold Mamm led all the students in the "Chant." Principal Herdman made an announcement about the admission to the baseball games. He said that tags would be sold in the school for 5 cents each, admitting one to the game. Paul Emmer made an announcement about the charity and welfare bureaus. He said that these organizations were going to hold a sale Tuesday of next week.

The Phrenas have elected their new members for this term. They are: Maudie Haddock, Alice Foster, Ann Roberts, Frances Hurst, Agnes Black, Honor Youngman, Jane Becker, Grace Dick, Anna MacPherson and Vera Boyer.

The June 18 class held a meeting Monday of last week. The class decided to give a senior "prom" sometime in the near future.

The Phrenas vaudeville was held on Friday afternoon of last week. The affair was a great success and was much enjoyed.

Franklin High School.

BY ANNA KARAGOZIAN.

Miss Alice Johnson's pedagogy eight girls are now engaged in the practical work of teaching in the various grammar schools located in the districts tributary to Franklin. This practice is required in the regular course of study and is proving very helpful to the girls who intend to take up the work.

The teaching area: Leah Melvin, Lerna Lancaster and Mildred Volts, Woodman; Dorothy Anderson, Alice Cobb and May Hoffman; Joseph Kellner, Alice Hubbard, Kathryn Harris and Lorraine Glazrick; Richmond; Irma Taggart and Lois Mann; Lena; Mildred Roseman, Ruth Dunagan, Adeline Sullivan and Judith Bundy; Arleta; Alma Nordick, Alta Landon, Elsie Heston and Fay Hornsby, Creston.

During the past week the liberty loan bonds were discussed in all the classes. Essays were written on "Why Liberty Loan Bonds should Be Bought," by all the students in the English classes. Since a prize contest of liberty bonds is being conducted in all the schools in the country, the desire of enthusiasm has been created among the students in general. The best four essays of each school will be chosen, and each a final prize will be awarded.

McKinnin made its initial appearance in the introductory class of the Franklinville with Salem High School team, which is the champion of the state. Four automobiles were used for the race. The race was won by the team of the 22 students as well as the teachers. Jack Routledge and Melvin Hall coached by Miss Harris, despite the fact that the team was on the question "Resolved, That after the war the United States should join a league of nations to insure peace."

The new Commercial Club has held several meetings. The committee included Clark Schoube, chairman; Lucille Marsh, secretary; Roy Lawrence, vice-president; Katherine Mackenzie, Carl Kohl and Miss McKinnin. A committee now working to secure a suitable name is composed of Roy Lawrence, chairman; Eva Stoops, Ulysses Conway and Lucille Marsh.

Professor S. F. Ball, Mrs. J. H. Hubbard, Mrs. J. H. Hankin, Mrs. Tavell, Mrs. Day, Mrs. Thurston, Miss Harriet Clayton, Miss Gertrude Blackman, Miss Sallie Burns and E. A. Van Groenou were guests at a luncheon given by Miriam Hubbard and Mary Tavell, of Miss Gertrude Blackman's fourth term domestic science class. Daffodils were used for the center piece and for design on the attractive place cards. The menu included clear soup, rice timbale with tomato sauce, roasted omelette, lettuce salad, frothing island custard and chocolate.

A most successful dance was given by the Astoria April 5 committee. Miss Ella Ehlman, of the faculty, posed for the liberty loan posters which were used extensively last week. Miss Ehlman will instruct the members of "Columbia," when the girls sang at the Municipal Auditorium for the entertainment for the soldiers and sailors' fund.

The Franklin Parent-Teachers will give their annual banquet next Friday evening, April 13. Miss Gertrude Blackman will instruct the domestic science girls in the preparation and serving of the meal, with the Home Economics Club members assisting. The banquet will be held at the Municipal Auditorium. Reservations can be made to Mrs. E. C. Newton, Tabor 1315.

A special meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held Tuesday afternoon. Miss Grace Gillette will talk on "Textiles and Conservation" and Mr. Coater, school garden superintendent, will discuss the plans for Franklin's war garden.

Miss Mildred Whittless of the faculty and advisor of the Y. W. C. A., recently held a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. girls at her home. Games and other entertainment were the diversions of the evening. Delightful refreshments were served.

James John Chooses Senior Class Play.

"All of a Sudden Peggy" Will Be Given May 10—Assembly Hears Talk by Sergeant-Major Christie.

BY ALICE GILSTRAP.
"All of a Sudden Peggy" has been selected as the senior play to be given May 10, with the following cast: Anthony, Lord Pigney; George, Major Bennington; the Honorable Jimmy Keppel, Charles Spackman; Major Archie Phillips, Louis Dunmore; Jack Mennie, Christian of the Canadian Army; Mrs. Lucas, Edward Howard; Lady Crackenbore, Opal Welmer; the Honorable Millicent Keppel, Della Vinson; Mrs. Maudie, Mrs. Johnson; Mrs. Lillian; Mrs. O'Mara, Ruth Tindell, and Peggy, Jennie MacNiven. This play was selected by a committee consisting of Della Vinson, Mrs. Harrington, Everett Day and Miss Dundall.

R. P. Goodin, secretary of the State Board of Education, visited the school on Monday. He was accompanied by a committee composed of Maxine Lakin, Opal Welmer, Charles Spackman, Russell Meyer and Merle Harrington from the school. Mr. Goodin was accompanied by Mrs. C. C. Thompson Monday and arranged a schedule for the week-end auto trip to Salem. The entire class is enjoying this visit to the state institutions.

A brief yet interesting assembly was held April 7, when Sergeant Major Christie of the Canadian Army in France, addressed the school on behalf of the third United States liberty loan campaign. Mr. Christie has been with the Canadian army for four years and has been wounded many times. In fact he had just left the hospital before starting upon this speaking tour, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Blumauer and Mrs. Simmons. They also gave short addresses.

The regular meeting of the St. Johns Parent-Teachers Association has been postponed until April 15 in order that representatives of the school may speak on the Salem trip. The general subject, "Juvenile Delinquency," will be handled by Chaplain Hittner, of the Y. W. C. A. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Thompson Monday and arranged a schedule for the week-end auto trip to Salem. The entire class is enjoying this visit to the state institutions.

The invitation of the Zetas, of Jefferson, to an entertainment to be given Thursday was accepted.

The Hakanaki Campfire has elected the following new officers: Roselle Palmer, president; Isabelle Kid, vice-president; Dorothy Shelby, secretary; Nina Jones, treasurer; Sonia Wilderman, sergeant-at-arms; Clara Peterson, editor.

The campfire will give a dancing party Friday night at the home of Alpheid Pearson.

An interclass track meet will be held Friday afternoon on Multnomah field. The freshmen, sophomore, junior, February and June class teams will take part.

The High Y Club entertained the members of the faculty last Sunday afternoon in the social room at Reed College. Dr. William T. Foster, president of Reed College, and Dr. Paul H. Douglas, of the sociology department, spoke. A short talk was given by I. Edward Peterson, of the High Y Club. Delbert Obersteuffer gave a dialogue. Principal Davis, in behalf of the teachers, thanked the members of the club for their hospitality.

This was the first time that the faculty has been entertained by the club, and the evening proved an enjoyable one for all.

Lincoln Features the Third Liberty Loan.

Teachers and Pupils Join in Pasting Over Issue to Help in the War. Other Activities of the Week.

BY MARGARET DUNIWAY.

Members of the Lincoln faculty and student body are each week showing their willingness to help in winning the war. Last week interest was, of course, centered on the third liberty loan. Teachers and students invested $1500 in liberty bonds. Lincoln also received the credit for securing a number of subscriptions outside of school. Chief among these were a $50,000 subscription from the Home Telephone Company and one for $3000 given by the employes of the company.

The number of thrift stamps and war savings certificates sold at the school to teachers and students increases each week. To date the sales amount to $1946. Stamps are being sold only on Fridays now, instead of on Wednesdays and Fridays as before. It is expected that this change will help in increasing the number of stamps sold each week.

Dr. J. H. Hart, of the Department of Education at Reed College, spoke at the meeting of the High Y Club Wednesday night at the High School Student and Leadership.

The first baseball rally of the term was held Thursday morning to stir up "pep" for Lincoln's first baseball game, which was played with Jefferson. Friday, John Skivington presided. The following members of the team spoke: Helmske, Legitt, Enkella, Bradley, Larimore, Monroe and Rogaway.

The girls of the H. Company who are now the "big sisters" of the first-term girls, held a meeting in the gymnasium Wednesday afternoon preliminary to the "get-together" party which they are planning for this week. The freshmen girls met their big sisters. Afterwards informal dancing furnished entertainment.

The get-together party was to have been given this week but had to be postponed.

The Philas gave a special programme Thursday afternoon in room 312. Several scenes from the dramatization of both Tarantington's "Seventeen" were given. Margaret Pigney read the prologue. The cast was as follows: Willie Baxter, Bernadine Robertson; Mr. Baxter, Helen Parrot; Johnny Watson, Adelaide Richardson; Genesis, Edith Dunham; Lola Pratt, Elizabeth Griggs; Mr. Pancer, Wanda Daggett; Mr. Baxter, Eleanor Stark.

The Adelphas and Tolos were invited to the programme.

The lacemakers of the Zetas, of Jefferson, to an entertainment to be given Thursday was accepted.

An exhibit of plain and fancy corset covers and undershirts made by a first-term sewing class was held last week. They are now engaged in making kimono and nightgowns. All of these patterns were drafted by the girls themselves and the trimmings on the garments were designed by them.

There is an interesting competition in the senior registration room, cutting snippings for the fracture pillows. There are six groups and each comprises a captain and five girls. Each group is trying for a prize offered by the president of the class to the group having the most snippings by the end of the term.

The third-term girls and Miss Gaffney's registration girls made a 100 per cent record in the recent campaign for dish towels for the soldiers. Many more classes are working for the same record.

Benson Student Body Will Get Service Flag.

"Tech" Alumni Plans to Make It Big Event—Fourth-Termers Are Studying Constitution of the State.

BY L. M. HODGES.

At the next assembly the Benson Tech Alumni will present the student body of the school with a service flag. The presentation will be a big affair with patriotic demonstrations.

Clayton Baldwin, a graduate of the school and president of the Benson Tech Alumni and the Portland Architectural Club, has accepted the position as instructor in the architectural department at the University of Oregon. This is considered a great honor for the school to have a student to teach in a university.

The students in C. L. Barzee's class are devoting their time to spelling, penmanship and reading recitations. The fourth-term classes are studying the Oregon constitution.

The school library has received a set of bulletins of the General Electric Company in four volumes, which are being used exclusively by the electrical drafting department. The library has received "Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature," which is being used by C. L. Barzee and Mrs. Richardson's class in reference work.

Several members of the faculty have gotten the fishing craze. Among the teachers who have gone fishing this week are Connolly, Walgren, Holden, Anderson and Benson. Mr. Benson, who is the instructor in the pattern shop, caught a 15-pound salmon at Oregon City Sunday.

W. Oettinger, instructor in the machine shop, has been called to the colors. Mr. Oettinger is a former graduate of the school.

O. T. Larson, formerly instructor in the electrical drawing department, has been appointed head instructor in the mechanical drawing department, which was formerly held by E. A. Moss. Benjamin Khuntz, formerly an instructor in the pattern shop, has been appointed to Mr. Larson's former position.

Owing to the large amount of outside work being brought into the machine shop, which necessitates a great deal of chipping on the large castings, two air chisels have been received by the shop.

The students of the machine shop are constructing guards for the gears and belts in the shop. These guards will make it absolutely safe for the students to work around the machines.

The faculty played the school baseball nine Tuesday afternoon. The faculty defeated the nine by 2 to 1. The lineup was as follows: Holden, catcher; Khuntz, first base; Goldman, pitcher; Cross, second base; Connolly, third base; Walgren, shortstop; Anderson, center field; Drinard, right field; Simpson, left field. Khuntz was the star for the faculty.

E. Law, former instructor in the electrical drawing department, visited the school Tuesday.

At the special assembly Wednesday Private McDonald, of the Canadian Army, spoke to the boys of his experiences in the European war. The architectural drawing department has just finished the plans and specifications for a large cabinet to be used in the country.

Jefferson High School.

BY DEWEY B. LARSON.

Girls' Polytechnic School.

BY HELMA CLIFFORD.

A luncheon was given Wednesday noon in honor of Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, dean of Simmons College in Boston. The menu consisted of fruit cocktail, creamed crab, mashed potatoes, cauliflower, salad, biscuits, sponge cake, ice cream and coffee. No wheat flour was used for anything.

Yellow, green and white were carried out for the color scheme. Daffodils, narcissus and green fern were the flowers used. Attractive place cards marked the plates for the 18 guests.

The night school millinery classes had an exhibit of Spring hats Thursday evening. They were made of the latest materials, combined with various materials.

Pupils of the Rose City Park School who will be graduated in June, visited Tuesday morning and went on a tour inspection, escorted by the members of the senior class. All expressed surprise at the work done and many said that they hoped to return in the fall to attend school.

An exhibit of plain and fancy corset covers and undershirts made by a first-term sewing class was held last week. They are now engaged in making kimono and nightgowns. All of these patterns were drafted by the girls themselves and the trimmings on the garments were designed by them.

There is an interesting competition in the senior registration room, cutting snippings for the fracture pillows. There are six groups and each comprises a captain and five girls. The third-term girls and Miss Gaffney's registration girls made a 100 per cent record in the recent campaign for dish towels for the soldiers. Many more classes are working for the same record.

The lacemakers are to devote part of their time to fine darning and mending of tied collars, curtains and other heavy laces. Orders for repairing such laces will be taken and executed by the class under the supervision of the lace teacher.

A kimono parade was held on Thursday afternoon when the girls from the intermediate sewing classes, dressed in their kimono, exhibit them to the other sewing classes. The kimono were made of crepe and flannelette on the latest styles. Exhibits of this kind are proving to be of much interest to the students and the work is closely examined.

A novel entertainment was given at the East Side Library Friday evening to a crowded assembly when the reading classes of Buckman School, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Stacy, gave a series of patriotic plays.

The children showed remarkable ability, and the audience was charmed with their natural, easy manners and clear enunciation. The playlets represented various epochs of American history and closed with an interesting wax exhibition. Misses Hermine Herman and Helene Oates gave two pleasing dance numbers.

tions made to the Y. M. C. A. Last fall are now due and it is desired that they be paid as rapidly as possible. Jefferson still leads the high schools in the proportion of subscriptions paid in.

The poster campaign received attention from the art students. A large number of striking posters were designed on war savings and thrift subjects.

Editor Raymond Whitcomb, of the Blue Print, official organ of the Technical Club, expects to introduce his work to the public in the near future. He has planned several new features.

The June class had a somewhat tumultuous meeting Wednesday, at which the subject of spending money was discussed. The class also laid plans for a cleanup day to be held some Saturday of the near future, for the purpose of beautifying the grounds adjacent to the building, and incidentally, to give the poor, overworked seniors a chance to enjoy themselves on the open.

As predicted last week William Lahti proved himself an efficient trench digger. He reported that his company failed to show up, but single-handed he attacked the June 17 sign on the lawn and changed it to '18.

The January class is said to have under consideration plans for a matinee dance. The secretary of the class confirmed the rumor.

The gallant debaters of the January class upheld their laurels by defeating the fifth-termers in the second of the interclass semi-finals. The January class team was composed of Oliver Carlson, Warner Fuller and Helen Thayer, who have fifth-termers were represented by Mildred Hall, Ida Kent and Worth Caldwell.

A large number of coat hangers, for the use of the soldiers at Camp Lewis have been made by Mr. La Forge's manual training department. The finishing touches were added by Mr. Mangold's classes.

In the Pi Delta meeting Thursday, Howard Smyth gave a reading from Mark Twain entitled "The Only True and Complete Account of the Great Prizefight." It was agreed after the reading that Mr. Clemens showed traces of real Pi Delta humor. The regular mock trial came up for discussion and the records of the various prominent members were investigated for infractions of the rules of the society. Nothing serious was discovered.

The Zetas have been "doing their bit" toward making the life of the boys in the front more comfortable. They have gathered up large quantities of dish towels for the shower, which is being conducted by the Portland Grade School. They are also making "fun books." Good jokes and stories are being collected from old magazines and various sources and sent to the little books, to be sent to the soldiers.

Next Thursday the Zetas will entertain the "girls" of the other schools in the school gymnasium. A good programme has been arranged for the occasion. One of the features is a play called "How a Woman Keeps a Secret."

A number of letters have been received from the Spectrum from soldiers in active service. All express their gratitude at receiving a copy of the Spectrum and say there is nothing they appreciate more than to receive news from home. These letters are being inspired every student of Jefferson to write more frequently to the soldier boys. The Spectrum will make every effort to keep the list of addresses as complete as possible.

Public Library Notes.

"WOMEN'S WAR WORK," an official document of great interest, issued by the War Office of Great Britain, is a record and report of the trades and processes in which women are successfully employed in temporary replacement of men.

Many of the arduous labors performed by women seem unbelievable but for the photographs and evidence and the unquestionable authoritative nature of the report. For instance, such toilsome work as leather digging in the tannery yards, conveying it on barrows and "rolling" it by machinery; digging clay and shoveling it into donkey cars; carrying large sections of glass in the glass factories; handling long steel bars, rods and pipes in the shipyards; barrowing sacks of flour in the flour mills; acting as porters in railway goods yards, or, as we term it, handling freight and express. Women as postmen use bicycles. Women road-repairers, steamer roller drivers, volunteer munition makers, piano finishers, bakers, grocers' assistants, truck drivers, butchers, wagon washers, brewery workers, locomotive cleaners, railway carriage washers, outside boiler washers, furnace stokers, coke barrowers at a gas works, coal loaders and weighers, harrowers, are among the many fields of labor depicted.

One stable is shown of 60 horses entirely groomed and cared for by women.

Another English report of interest is that of the "Health of Munition Workers' Committee," which deals with Sunday labor, welfare supervision, hours of work, industrial diseases, employment of women, injury and accidents, ventilation of factories, investigation of workers' food, washing facilities and night work, etc.

We have much to learn from England. These publications may be consulted in the reference room of the Public Library.

A story-hour for grown-ups is held every Thursday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock in room 6 of the Central Library. All women are invited to take their knitting and listen to readings from their favorite authors.

The municipal reference library in the City Hall has on file Professor Horan G. James' recent work on municipal functions.

February, 1919, Class at Commerce Organizes.

Official Paper Due Tuesday—Minutemen Show Proves Big Success and Patriotic Work Well Carried For.

BY CHARLES E. BEQUETTE.
The most important event of the past week was the coming of the February, 1919, class. The new seniors got together last Monday and elected officers. In the past the business matters were discussed. The election results followed: Harry Gilbertson, president; Doris McCabe, vice-president; Marguerite Riley, secretary and treasurer; Arthur Johnston, sergeant-at-arms; Ruth Kleiter, editor, and Nettie Mae Rankin, faculty advisor. The president appointed the following committees to design a class pin: Lee Teusch, Minnie Vigoff and Lorena Bert. The class numbers 15.

The initial issue of the Ledger will appear at Commerce next Tuesday during the noon session. The issue is called "The Organizing of the Class" and many interesting articles will appear.

The regular weekly assembly under the direction of the June class was held Tuesday during the registration period. Florence Abramson had charge of the assembly, and the programme was interesting. C. C. Chapman, of the city, delivered an address. Professor A. H. Sprout gave a short talk and the assembly closed with a selection by the orchestra. Charles Bequest, of the senior class, will have charge of next week's assembly.

The sale of thrift stamps last week was a success. Arthur Breidenbeck, chairman, reported that the sales exceeded the goal set by the Commerce committee's total far above the $1000 mark.

F. N. Haroun, of the faculty, wore a smile during the closing of the past week. He is the proud father of an eight-pound baby boy which arrived last Tuesday.

The office training classes have completed the Government work of listing the names of all boys between the ages of 18 and 21. The work was completed by diverting their energies toward completing this work and excellent practical practice was obtained.

The commercial geography classes, under the direction of C. E. Carlton, hope to make several visits to factories and business establishments of the city during the coming week.

The first edition of the Spanish paper, La Voz Escolar, meaning the School Voice, will appear Friday. This publication will contain articles from "Washington," "The City of Commerce" and the circulation will involve all of the high schools of the city.

Letters have been received by Miss Rita E. Banfield, of the faculty, from the Government, asserting that many of the Commerce boys are now overseas, including Edward Bequest, Fred Munson and Grant O. Hylander.

The Tri-L's held their weekly meeting last Wednesday. The following officers were elected: Margaret Hoffman, president; Loreta Burke, vice-president; and Edna Bequest, secretary. The Tri-L's received an invitation from the Lincoln girls to attend an entertainment to be held April 13. The invitation was accepted and the club also is planning a party to be held Friday evening, April 19. The girls have contributed many dish towels for the soldiers and are planning additional stars for the Commerce service flag. Committees were appointed for the following work: Friendship, war work, social and musical. The enrollment of the club includes 29 girls.

The Mode Literary Society held its regular weekly meeting last Thursday. Blue and gold were adopted as society colors. Lynne Pickler, chairman of the literary and music committee, had charge of the programme. The following entertainment consumed the period: Recitation, "The Legend of Bregenz" by Terrence Dobson; recitation, "The World is a Stage" by Me; by Eunice Wade; recitation, "Old Man and Jim," by Frances Kearney; piano solo, Miss Boyle. The girls are under the gray in the grand old assembly of the society to be held before the student body in the near future.

The senior class play, "These Vexing Girls," is nearing perfection. The play is to be presented Friday evening, April 26, at the Municipal School Auditorium. The cast for the farce follows: Vere Queckett, Carl Shiller; Caroline Dyott, Helen Seuffert; Emma Rankin, Florence Johnson; Adeline Rankin, Samuel Tessier; Dinah Rankin, Louise Mohr; Reginald Paulover, Charles Bequest; Peggy, Edna Bequest; Gertrude, Leona Bequest; Jack Malory, Norman Henderson; Saunders, Morris Rogaway; Gwendoline Hawkins, Alta Freeman; Emtrude, Edna Bequest; Betty Nussbaum, Alice Daniels; Tyler, Lloyd De Voss; Henry Goupin, George Colson; Goff, Lloyd De Voss, and Joffry, Hugo Lindahl.

PORTLAND MAN COMPOSER

"The Stars in Old Glory" New Song Written by Herbert Miles.

"The Stars in Old Glory" is a new patriotic song with words and music by Herbert Miles, formerly of San Francisco and now living in this city. The text of the song refers to the Stars and Stripes and are of a rousing character. The music is catchy and beautiful, while the chorus has a fine swing to it. Mr. Miles says he is sending 500 copies of the song to our soldiers in France and that he is giving 200 copies to the Red Cross headquarters in this city to dispose of at a reasonable figure for Red Cross funds. On the cover of the song are pictures of George Washington and the American flag.

FLAG IS GIFT TO SCHOOL

Fifty-Three Mount Tabor Youths Serving in National Army.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Mount Tabor School will present to the school next Thursday night a handsome service flag, on which will be inscribed the names of the 53 boys, 33 white stars and one gold one, representing the 33 members of the service, Theodore Eugene Lewton, who lost his life on the Tuscania.

Bishop Summer will deliver the patriotic address and dedicate the flag. D. A. Grout will speak for the School Board and the school. Music will be an additional feature.

Normal School Play Is Surprise.

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monday, April 8.—French life—all it means in sacrifice during the war—was pictured in a class play given at the Oregon Normal School Friday by the junior class. The play was given as the annual class-day affair and was a complete surprise to faculty members and members of the school. The play was a feature of the day, with an array of work done by cartoon artists during the past week appearing on the campus.
