COMMERCE BATTERS LEAD

Washington Shows Greatest Ability to Put Runners Across-C. B. B. C.'s Record Marred by Many Errors.

By looking at the pitching records for the first five weeks of the interscholastic basebali season one can see why it is that Lincoln and Jefferson, though weak litting teams, are leading the league. Ichabod Knudsen, the spit-ball artist of the Lincoln nine, is not the best pitcher in the league, but he is steady, and has received splendid support in all his games. Grey, of Jefferson, has allowed an average of seven hits a game, but his fine backing has kept his opponents from scoring many runs. The Franklin team has given Thompson good sup-

Thompson Whiffs 57.

Thompson is the strikeout artist of the league, having sent 57 batters down the line. Scott, of Washington, is second, and Wagner, of Commerce, third. The Commerce hurier has allowed an average of but six hits a game, but poor support has been the chief cause of his three defeats.

Miller is one of the greatest boxers ever developed in California and has fought every good boy in the Golden State excepting Johnny McCarthy, who is too heavy for him, but whom he does not bar. Mohan and Miller arrived in Portland several days ago from Ogden, Utah, where the latter engaged in two scheduled 20-round battles. In the first bout Miller stopped Pat Gilbert in five rounds and in the second contest knocked out Frank Gage in the ninth round of a scheduled 26-round set-to. Miller is only 22 years old.

Lincoln and Jefferson Manage to Keep Out of Lost Column to Date.

STRONG TEAMS ARE MET

Interscholastic League Race Begins to Narrow Down as Season Nears End-Columbia Admitted to Be Strong Contender.

Although this is the sixth week of interscholastic baseball, Lincoln and Jefferson are still on record with clean siates and each has met and defeated at least one strong team. Despite de-velopments thus far most of the fans who have seen the Columbia Prep team in action will admit that Tick Malarky has the strongest all-around team in Tick discovered a new pitcher by the name of 'Tiny" Keating. This boy is, without a doubt, the steadlest pitcher in the league, and, although he hasn't in the league, and, although he hasn't as much steam on the ball as Thompson, of the Quakers, he has better control and more "fight"—a combination that is hard to beat. With Keating pitching steady ball and with any kind of hitting behind him, Columbia will make a hard fight in the remaining five games she has on schedule.

Lincoln Has Edge.

Lincoln seems to have the advantage over Jefferson, as it has met and defeated Celumbia. This game was the hardest-fought contest of the season and the most exciting one. Of course the Rallsplitters have Franklin and Washington to face, but neither of these teams are considered as strong as Columbia. Thompson's wonderful EUGENE NEXT SUNDAY. pitching may surprise the Railsplitters and again, it may not. The Lincoln batters are used to speed-ball pitching and may make things pretty interest-ing for the Quakers.

Washington and Lincoln ought to put up a great fight. Scott and Knudson are about on a par in pitching, and, while Washington has the heaviest hitters, Lincoln has a much bette fielding team. If the Railsplitters can beat these two teams they should have no trouble in defeating all the rest, with the probable exception of Jefferson. The Lincoln-Jefferson game should be the banner affair of the year, and the breaks of the game will play an imortant part in the outer

SUNDAY MORNING LEAGUE HAS BUT TWO MORE GAMES.

Reich-Anderson Contest to Be Played Over: Winner Meets Allen Team For Championship May 19.

The Sunday Morning Baseball League of the Muttnomah Club, will soon sing its farewell song, as the highly successful season is just about finished. Only two games remain to be played. One is the disputed affair between the Reich and Anderson teams and the other is the battle for the championship of he league, Allen's team meeting the winner of the Reich-Anderson game. This game will be played on Sunday,

The protested game is to be played over this Sunday. The trouble started fense, but he did not know that Suter was not a member of the Multnomah Club, and President Dickinson ordered the game thrown out, when protested by Reich.

The Multnomah Club Bulletin announces that early in June, on a date soon to be announced, junior members of the Multnobah Club will take part in an athletic contest arranged by Professor Mauthe to determine their athletic shillty.

The juniors will be rated by points according to their performance in the various events on thep rogramme. The contest is to be an annual affair. The records made in each contest by each junior in it will be preserved permanagement. junior in it will be preserved perma-nently. From year to year the juniors will be enabled to compare their rec-ords and note the improvement they have made.

. Where a junior does not make the showing he should be able to make at his age, special exercises will be pre-scribed for him by Professor Mauthe to bring him up to normai. The contest is not intended to bring out violent or strenuous competition No youngster will be permitted over-do. However, there will be keen enough competition to put the boys on their mettle and interest them in the contest. Already they are looking forward to the event.

The meet will be held either in the gramasium or on Multnomah Fleid, depending on the weather. It will include 50 and 100-yard races, far jump. high jump and pole-climbing events.

The boys will be divided into three groups, rated according to age. Group I will include those from 7 to 10 years of age, inclusive; group II, those from 11 to 13 years, inclusive, and group III, those from 13 to 16 years, inclusive.

The following table shows how the performances of the boys will be rated on the point basis. For instance, the boy running the 50-yard race in 10 1-5 seconds, or jumping two feet in the high jump, will receive one point. The lad making the 50 yards in 6 3-5 sec-ons, or going 5 feet I in ch in the high jump, will be rated 20 points. William C. H. Lewis, well-known tennis player at the club, is now sta-tioned at Dallas, Tex., in the Aciation Service.
