One of the greatest surprises of the season is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Stuart Smith to Lieutenant Curtis Bailey, which was made yesterday by Mrs. Vernon Cartwright at a delightful informal knitting-tea. Although several of the close friends of the bride-elect have suspected that an engagement existed, it comes, nevertheless, as a genuine surprise. She is an attractive and lovable girl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith, and one of the most interesting and popular of the younger set. After her graduation from Portland Academy Miss Smith attended Oakmere School in the East. She frequently has participated in many large and notable philanthropic benefits, in exhibition dancing, in which art she is especially clever.

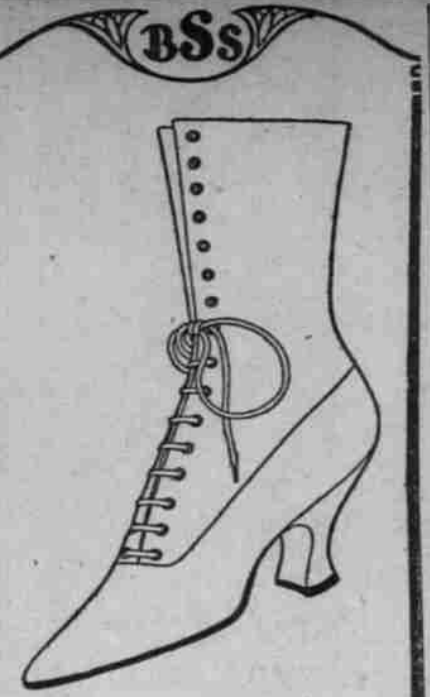

Lieutenant Bailey is a son of Mrs. Meredith Bailey, of Philadelphia, and prior to entering the service of Uncle Sam he was associated with his brother, Meredith, Jr., in a large ranch at Sisters, Or. Mr. Bailey is in the 348th Field Artillery stationed at Camp Lewis, and he also is popular in Portland society, as well as with his brother officers at American Lake. As yet there are no definite plans for the wedding, but it probably will be soon.

Miss Margaret Ayer and Captain John Henry Hayden, U. S. A., will plight their troth at a charming military wedding Saturday evening at the residence of the bride-elect's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Holcomb Page, 614 Jackson street, at 9 o'clock. Hundreds of guests have been asked for the affair, including many of the officers and their wives from Vancouver Barracks and from Camp Lewis. The wedding will be strictly military, uniformed men to hold red, white and blue ribbons forming an aisle for the bridal party and a military band will play for the dancing during the reception, a stringed orchestra to furnish the wedding music. Miss Ayer's cousin, Miss Helen Page, will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Misses Helen Farrell, Isabel Clark, Ruth Shull and Alberta Bair. Lieutenant Henry Ringwald will be best man and the guests will be ushered by Lieutenants William Malone, Lee Betty Gilman and Smith, all of whom are stationed at Vancouver Barracks.

Lieutenant Thomas Henry Boyd and Miss Katherine Kingsley, of Evanston, Ill., are among the latest of the engaged couples. Miss Kingsley has been visiting Miss Louise Boyd for several weeks and she is now in Camp Lewis, where she is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. Girls' Club, recently opened at the camp.

Lieutenant Boyd is a son of Dr. John H. Boyd, of this city, and a member of the 364th Infantry, Company F, at joyed dancing and a delicious supper. A huge birthday cake was a feature of the supper table appointments, and the affair was a complete surprise not only to the honoree but to the guests, each of whom were uninformed of the nature of the event, considering it was the usual informal one-table bridge party, which is a popular form of diversion for the young married set. The rooms were aglow with a wonderful array of garden flowers.

The largest and most diversified alfresco affair of the season will be the garden fete planned for the benefit of the British Red Cross Society for Saturday, June 22. The affair will be given at the beautiful gardens of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, "Ardour," adjoining the Waverley Country Club. The gardens are admirably fitted for such an affair, which is to be thoroughly democratic and to include everyone in the city who is interested in assisting the splendid cause for which the fete is planned.

There will be special amusements
