Mrs. William Everett Knapp, who left Sunday for San Francisco to visit her aunt.

Mrs. Gilbert James Newell, a charming girl who became a bride last week.

Miss Katherine Kingsley, who will become the bride of Portland man this summer.

tending the wedding. She started for the West and was obliged to discontinue at Kansas City, where she now is in the care of relatives. Later in the season she will visit her son and his bride at Newport, where they will make their home for the summer and fall.

For traveling, Mrs. Hayden chose a smart hunter's green sports suit, chic black straw hat, and a corsage of orchids.

Captain and Mrs. Hayden left at once for Newport, where they have leased a cottage for the summer months. An unusually large number of army men and their wives from the Post and from Camp Lewis and vicinity attended the wedding and reception.

Supper and punch tabled on the veranda, and the serving was done by caterers. The bride cut the cake with her husband's saber, and much merriment prevailed when the various symbols embedded in the cake were captured by the guests.

In a bower of pink, white and green, Miss Mary Stuart Smith and Lieutenant Curtis P. Bailey plighted their troth Thursday evening at a simple home wedding solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith, in Laurel street. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Rev. John H. Boyd, reading the service at 7:30 o'clock. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gretchen Smith, and Meredith Bailey, Jr., of Sisters, Or., brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

The drawing-room where the ceremony was read was a bower of pink petals and garden flowers. Testout roses predominated. Following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn, supper tables being placed under the trees. An orchestra played the wedding music and later, from the veranda, played during the evening.

The bride was charmingly artistic in a gown of vandy satin, embellished with rare lace. It was made with a full court train and built on simple lines. Her veil was arranged in a nosegay, wreathed with orange blossoms, and she carried an exquisite bouquet of white lilies, hydrangeas, daisies and gypsophila. Miss Gretchen Smith wore a pretty gown of white Chantilly lace and net, and she carried an arm bouquet of pale blue delphinium and pink snap dragons.

The bride is one of Portland's most attractive and popular maids, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Smith. She received her earlier education at Portland Academy and later attended Oakesmere School in New York. Mr. Bailey received his commission in the field artillery, United States Army, at the first training camp at the Presidio, and he has since that time been stationed at Camp Lewis, American Lake. He and his bride left for a brief wedding trip and upon their return they will make their home at Tacoma. Lieutenant Bailey is ordered overseas. He is a Harvard man, a son of Mrs. Meredith Bailey, of Philadelphia, and prior to entering the service he was associated with his brother in a large ranch at Sisters, Or.

Miss Katherine Kingsley, of Evanston, Ill., the fiancée of Lieutenant Thomas Montgomery Boyd, U. S. A., recently went to American Lake to take up her duties at the Hostess House in Camp Lewis. She has been the house guest of Miss Louise Boyd for several weeks, prior to going to American Lake. The wedding of this popular couple will be an event of the early summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Vachon (Angleville and Turner) and Mr. Vachon, who made his advent Tuesday evening, at their home, 705 Davis street, are the recipients of congratulatory messages, the baby and mother also being deluged with beautiful floral gifts. Mrs. Vachon is a very attractive and popular young matron, and prior to her marriage, was a belle of Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stewart (Irene Albee) also are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter. This little mite arrived Monday morning, since which time the family have been showered with congratulations.

Miss Grace O'Neill, fiancée of Lieutenant James H. Lemmon, St. Paul, Minn., being delightfully and extensively entertained. One of the largest affairs in her honor was the supper dance at the Automobile Club Saturday evening, for which Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Watkins were hosts. About 20 couples participated in this affair. Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. James were dinner hosts in honor of the bride-elect and her fiancée, and on Wednesday Miss Mary Louise Feldner entertained the couple with a box party at the Orpheum. Wednesday evening followed by supper and dancing at the Multnomah Hotel. Last night Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Newman were hosts for an informal dance in honor of Miss O'Neill and Lieutenant Lemmon, 20 couples being asked for the event.

The wedding of Miss O'Neill and Lieutenant Lemmon will be a charming affair of Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Neill. Mrs. O'Neill will be matron of honor and Lieutenant Russell will be best man. A reception will follow the ceremony, about 100 of the close friends and relatives of the couple to attend the function.

Miss Alberta Bair entertained with a pretty tea for Miss Margaret Ayer on Friday at her home in Irvington. It was a charming affair, the rooms being festooned with an array of dainty flowers. The members of the bridal party and several additional young matrons and maids were among the guests.

Miss Cornelia Tevis returned last week from American Lake, where she has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill (Katherine Schnabel), who is making her home there while her husband is in the training camp. Miss Tevis has been visiting Mrs. O'Neill for three weeks and she left yesterday for her home in Seaside, to pass the summer with her family.

Mrs. O'Neill spent part of last week in Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schnabel.

The Visiting Nurse Association benefit garden party held Friday evening at the country residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Montague, at Hillsdale, was a great success. Hundreds of men and women from Portland and vicinity motored out to the grounds or made the trip on the railway, to participate in the merriment. Refreshments were served and the evening proved to be one of especial interest to the members and their many friends, as the garden at the Montague place are noted for their artistry and beauty. Assisting the hosts were: Mrs. James Nicol, Mrs. Ambrose M. Cronin and Mrs. Ralph H. Jenkins, who presided at the supper table. Punch was served by Mrs. James B. Kerr and Mrs. Allan Elliott. The contributions were placed at the entrance to the gardens.

A feature of the supper table was the bride cake. It was a marvelous creation, the gift to the bride of Henry Thiele, chef of the Benson Hotel, who made and decorated it. The bride, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nathan Ayer, has made her home at the Benson Hotel for a number of years.

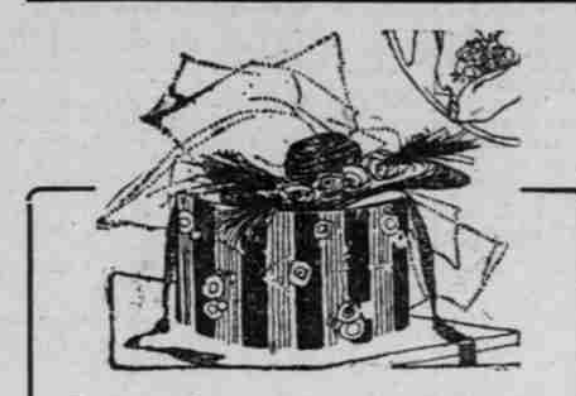

A military band played for the dancing during the reception hours, and they also played the Star Spangled Banner preceding the wedding. The wedding march was played by Mischa Pelz. Receiving with the bridal party was Mrs. S. D. Smith, grandmother of the bride, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ayer.

Mrs. Smith wore a gown of royal purple charmeuse, trimmed with lace. Mrs. Ayer's gown was an orchid-toned satin and tulle combination, and Mrs. Page wore a black jet and net gown.

The bride is a great favorite in Portland society. She is a vivacious and attractive girl, and she has, for the past three years, been traveling extensively. She is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nathan Ayer, with whom she has been in Honolulu and California for about a year and a half. The bride attended Miss Catlin's school, St. Helen's Hall, and later went to Dobbs Ferry in New York. She made her debut at a smart dance and reception for which her grandmother was hostess about two years ago.

Captain Hayden has been in the army for several years, seeing active service in the Philippines and other posts. He has been stationed at Vancouver barracks in the spruce division for some time, and recently he was transferred to Newport, Or. He is a son of Mrs. M. Hayden of St. Louis, who was prevented by illness from attending the wedding.

entertained the visitors yesterday at a trip out the Columbia river highway.

Lieutenant James H. Cellars and Miss Mignon Allen, of Astoria, were married Saturday, June 8, at a simple ceremony at Grace Memorial Church. Rev. E. H. McCollister officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Zoe Allen, and following the ceremony a simple wedding supper was served. Lieutenant Cellars and his bride left the early part of the week for Tacoma, where they are at present making their home. Lieutenant Cellars is a member of the 34th F. A. U. S. A., and is preparing to leave shortly for duty overseas. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cellars, a University of Oregon man, member of the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity, and popular socially in Portland as well as with his brother officers at Camp Lewis.

Lieutenant Cellars was ordered back from Port Hill, where he was taking a special course at the school of fire, with a number of officers of the 91st division, all of whom are preparing for overseas duty. The bride was married in a chic white net gown, worn with large Legerhorn hat, trimmed with a pink feather, and she carried a bouquet of Ophelia rosebuds. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Allen, of Astoria, and also a student of the University of Oregon, where she was a popular Gamma Phi Beta girl.

On Wednesday Miss Evelyn Hardinghaus entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jordan, of Ann Arbor, Mich., at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Kar-
