OLD LOBBY WAYS

Equal Suffragists and Anti-Saloon Leaguers Produce Effective Results.

OLDTIMERS WERE NOVICES

Antagonists Surprised by Number of Votes Mustered in Face of an Opposing Sentiment Believed to Represent Majority.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, July 20.—Two of the cleverest groups of politicians that ever oper-ated in the National capital have been pulling wires that have produced results amazingly effective during the present Congress. These are the equal suffragists and anti-saloon leaguers. In comperison of ability to get re-sults, as distinguished from methods employed, the lobbyists of a by-gone day whom the President designated "insidious" were novices—mere amateurs. Though neither the equal suf-fragists nor the fighters of the liquor traffic have yet secured the final ac-tion they desire, they have surprised their antagonists by the number of votes they have been able to muster in no opportunity to present the issue be-fore Congress and the country—using Congress to keep the subject before the Congress to keep the subject before the country and the country to keep the subject before Congress.

The follow recommends the subject before Congress.

The follow recommends the subject before Congress.

The joint resolution for the submission of the prohibition amendment to a vote of the states was adopted by the Senate August 1, 1917, by a vote of 65 to 20, with 11 not voting. It was concurred in by the House on December 17 by a vote of 282 to 128, with 23 not voting. A two-thirds majority was required in each House.

But the anti-salcon campaigners the anti-saloon campaigners were not willing to let the matter rest there. The constitutional amendment will not be effective until it has been ratified by 36 of the 48 states and such ratification must take place before December 13, 1924.

War Measure Insisted Upon.

Thirteen states have already ratified the amendment. Although confident of success within the time limit, the foes of liquor sought a speedier victory.

The same tactics will evidently be played to the end and in all of it the strategists are keeping themselves out of sight and giving the nominal leadership to men in Congress.

Preachers Clever Politicians. The campaign thus far has been characterized by an almost entire abandon-ment of discussion of the moral phase of the question, heretofore most promlnent, and the adoption of the economic argument in support of the legislation. Preachers, as such, have had little to do with the prohibition campaign. Preachers they are, it is true, but clever politicians as well.

The equal suffragists have likewise followed new tactics in recent months. There has been an abandonment of lectures and addresses and pamphlets or three and addresses and painphlets on the merits of equal suffrage—the quali-fications of women for voting, the effect of equal suffrage upon women, the effect upon home life, the dangers of loss of respect of men for women, and the multiplication of conjugal in-felicity. These are subjects never heard now in the equal suffrage debate. The only question is how to get the votes in Congress for the submission of the amendment, and, aside from the im-plied threat of retribution, the only plea is that women are doing their share in the war and ought to share in the control of government. Equal suffrage, like prohibition, has been made an incident to the war and seems thus to have the best chance of

He is a man about 50 years of age, as he appeared to me, erect and soldierly. He has been in action all over the world and has on his slees five wound stripes. He has lost one arm, and s man of less determination and force could never have survived. The French call him 'Tres Soldat'—'every inch a soldier.' He is a man of such determination and force that in any German drive against his troops his men will be inspired by his prescence to die most striking personalities in France be inspired by his prescence to die where they are.

Ground Is Rough.

"Along the Marne, between Chateau Thierry and Rheims, the Germans made Thierry and Rheims, the Germans made an advance of from four to five miles on a 23-mile front. The terrain at that point is very difficult, wooded hills rising up to a height of from 400 to 500 feet perhaps. This general movement has been brought to a standstill.

"The object of the entire German attack was not a great strategic object, like as advance on Paris or an advance.

like an advance on Paris or an advance on the English ports. It plainly had for its objective simply the supplying of the nut-cracker process on the city of Rheims. If it were possible for them to come in there and surround Rheims they could force a surrender in time. Rheims, however, as has been shown, is very well organized for defense. Without going into details, it is organized for house-to-house defense, and that has been the reason why the Germans have not been able to get in.

Ten Miles Won Back. "As soon as the German advance along the Marne east of Chateau Thierry had been brought to a stand-

The series of lines you see on the map represents the German advances which produced that salient, day by day, and at the start of this fight which began last-Monday our line was along here (indicating a line running southward from the Aisne to the Marne). as we did last month and, like many guesses, it is wrong.

"The statement published in the papers was that we had sent over about 90,000 men last week, and that the number was now a little short of 1,200,000. The fact of the matter is that we have passed the 200,000 mark on the second million. We have over 1,200,000 embarked. If you will wait for these things I will tell you the facts; they are always better than when you guess.

Among the Anti-Saloon League forces Clarence True Wilson, formerly of Portland, and E. C. Dinwiddie, of the National Temperance Legislation Bureau, have been the planners and directors of the campaign. They have kept Wilson and Dinwiddie in the backstround in order not to arouse jeal-ousies or divert attention, but have lost no opportunity to present the issue before Congress and the fighting which was reported last week where the Australians made an advance accompanied by American troops, so that the training has progressed to a point where they covered, with the object of wresting the ex-emperor from the authority of the Soviet Council. In view of this fact, the president of the Ural regional council decided to execute the former ruler and the decision was carried out on July 16.

"Taking the salient as it stands, one of the prime reasons for making this advance is the position of the railroads. Solssons is connected with Chateau Thierry by railroad, and it is assumed that the Germans get part of their supplies at Chateau Thierry from that railroad, and, of course, that has an important bearing on how long these troops can stay there."

Estimate Is Given.

In response to a question as to the total number of American troops engaged, General March replied:

"If the whole divisions were there."

Market System Proposed.

LONDON, July 1.—A scheme for the marketing of surplus agricultural produce is in course of formation here. It is planned to establish a system of district markets all over the country. A clearing-house is being established in London, which will notify country so-cleties of the necessities of various parts of the country. These country societies will in turn instruct districts where to send their surplus production.

ALBANY, Or., July 20.—(Special.)—
If you ever undertake to take a baby home be sure to ascertain its name and liquors with authority to the President to curtail or stop the manufacture of beers and wines. No action having been taken in the latter direction, the antis have been proposing a prohibition rider on every sort of bill to which it could be construed to be germane, with reports we have refer to prisoners which were captured by French compared to the president.
