ATHLETICS' VALUE TO SOLDIERS URGED

Y. M. C. A. Campaigner Seeks Services of College Graduates in War Work.

MAYOR PROMISES TO HELP Men Above Draft Age and Not More Than 50, of High Moral Character and Possessing Knowledge of Sports Available.

BY JAMES J. RICHARDSON.
Portland went "over the top" yesterday when Dr. George Fisher, president of the International Athletic Research Society, member of the military training commission of the state of New York, and head of the physical training bureau of the Y. M. C. A. war work council, invited this city and was enthusiastically greeted at a luncheon held in the Y. M. C. A. at which more than 65 representative Portland citizens gathered to listen to the inspiring and intelligent remarks of the man who is campaigning the country in an effort to enlist the services of college graduates well versed in athletic and recreational attainments for Y. M. C. A. overseas athletic work.

Dr. Fisher proved an intelligent and interesting speaker, and carried the punch in his remarks, which helped send the entire assemblage away firmly cognizant of the brilliant work the Y. M. C. A. athletic directors are doing "overseas" and retaining in their minds a firm desire to assist the distinguished gentleman secure college graduates and other efficient in athletic work to enlist in the Triangle service.

Mayor Baker Pays Tribute.

Chairman Frank H. Hilton acted as chairman of the gathering and, in a few brief remarks, introduced Mayor Baker, who made a wonderful tribute to the excellent work Dr. Fisher and his aides were doing, both on this side and across the briny deep.

Dr. Fisher said that the executive cares and worries nothing would please him more than to help in the work Dr. Fisher's branch of the Y. M. C. A. is doing overseas. He said that he has said that Portland is lagging in recruiting men for Y. M. C. A. recreation centers overseas. If we are it is the only war work we are behind in and I'm ready to help you men put Portland over the top in this work.

Family to Be Cared For.

The Y. M. C. A. war work council will take care of the family of those accepted for overseas work. The minimum overseas allowance is $60 per month. The war work council takes care of the family at home on the basis of allowance acceptable to the party enlisting. Two uniforms are given the recruit and the Y. M. C. A. assists in paying the premium on a $2000 life insurance policy which every athletic director is required to take out.

Dr. Fisher was greeted with tumultuous applause as he was introduced by Chairman Hilton. The well-known "Y" worker asked the support of all present in enlisting men of high moral character and efficient in athletic work for the Y. M. C. A. overseas service.

He said in part: "I visited England in 1914 and returned again to England in 1914 after the war started and found that the English young men were hungry for the Y. M. C. A. program of athletics as given in 1913. I later visited Belgium, Holland and France and then said it would not be long before that section of the world would be open for the same message on athletics. I was not back home more than six weeks when it became a realization.

Athletics Keep Up Morale.

"The thing that is taking in the United States Army today is mass play. Playground games are the things that find favor with our men. Volleyball is a great international game. It is played all over the world. You can play it where you cannot play anything else. Behind the lines, where baseball diamonds are not available, you can see any number of volleyball games going on. At Camp Grant, Ill., 20,000 men played volleyball simultaneously at one time. In one camp there were 400 basketball teams. At Camp Funston, under General Pershing, there were more than 200 football teams. Athletics is the one big thing that is helping the United States Army maintain its great morale."

"Do you know that 70 per cent of the young men in the Army do not know the simple games? Nevertheless, it is a fact.

"It is the athletic program that keeps the men from care hunting in France. I could relate countless incidents in which the Y. M. C. A. athletic program has been a wonderful asset to the high morale of our and other nations' troops."

"Premier Clemenceau of France wants 2000 Y. M. C. A. athletic directors in the French Army and says when they have spare time they can do wonderful work among the children in the French villages.

Dr. Fisher concluded his remarks by saying that 165 athletic directors are needed at once for the United States Army in France and that they are now 400 men behind, which does not include men for the French, British and Italian armies.

Men up to 50 years of age are being solicited. Most of the recruits are sent to college in the East, where the finishing touches are put on, and they are then sent abroad.

Major T. A. Mills, of the production division paid an eloquent tribute to the brilliant work the Y. M. C. A. athletic directors were doing for the troops. He proved an able and interesting speaker.

Dr. H. Meacham, president of the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A., addressed the gathering, as did A. M. Geilley, former local "Y" physical director, who is now in charge of the Y. M. C. A. war work activities at Camp Lewis. The following Northwest people have made application for positions as Y. M. C. A. athletic directors and others will follow: E. C. Peterson, Corvallis; C. L. Keene, Eugene; R. M. Wright, Stevenson; Wash. F. E. Dutton, Monahan; G. L. Truax, Portland; Charles Swindell, Portland; J. H. Hallock, Camas, Wash.; E. D. McCallen, Portland; A. A. Knowlton, Portland; R. Gibson Montague, Portland; G. H. Young, Alleans, and W. T. Matlock, Portland.

BOXING ORDINANCE TO BE ROLLED OUT

Needed Changes in Existing City Statute Is Plan of Commissioners.

SO-CALLED 'CLUBS' DOOMED

Promoters and Boxers to Deal Direct—Legislature May Take Up Framing of Boxing Bill at Next Convening.

BY JAMES J. RICHARDSON.
With the extreme hot weather about to skid into oblivion Portland fight fans are beginning to wax warm to affairs pugilistic, and the silence which has muzzled the boxing commission and fighters generally during the Summer months is due for a rude awakening.

The members of the Portland boxing commission are about to take action to hold on the city boxing ordinance and insert a few new ideas which some of the fearless officers have harped on during the warm days of the past two months.

Ordinance Due to Be Revamped.

The present ordinance governing boxing bouts could easily stand a complete renovation. That the commissioners plan just such an upheaval is very apparent. A number of paragraphs which go to make up the present city laws governing the boxing game do not meet with the approval of the august body, and each of the commissioners has his own ideas about what should and should not be a part of a regular boxing ordinance.

Boxing has thrived in Portland under the watchful eyes of the commission appointed by Mayor Baker. They have won granted case blanche by the city executive in their efforts to place the boxing game on a sound footing, and in most cases have succeeded.

The one big thorn in the side of the commission has been the issuance of permits to stage smokers. According to the present ordinance only athletic clubs having gymnasiums and a bona fide membership roster are supposed to secure permits.

Commish to Dust Permit System.

In the overhauling of the present city ordinance it is said that the section pertaining to gymnasiums and bona fide membership rosters will be cast into oblivion, and that permits for stage bouts in the future will be issued only to those Portland citizens of high moral character whose reputations and associations will stand the acid test.

"We have found that in trying to give boxing permits to clubs having gymnasiums and club rosters, we have gone from bad to worse," said one of the commissioners yesterday. "Gambling has been going on in these clubs, and the reputation of the city has been damaged. These are not the kind of organizations to be connected with the boxing game. Rather than have this section of the commission will most likely decide to give permits to citizens who have the ability and the reputation to handle such matters and who will stand the acid test."

It is also proposed to sever the ties between managers and boxers. If the plans of the commission are carried to completion, the present section pertaining to the boxers and managers will be given the glassy stare.

Game Likely to Be Heliped.

The commissioners are sure in their efforts to regulate the boxing game, and when the City Ordinance again breaks into print with the corrections intended, the fistie sport ought to encounter no rough spots during the coming season.

The scrutinizing given the present city laws governing boxing is but a forerunner of what might be made when the State Legislature convenes next year. Boxing has thrived wonderfully in Portland since the regulations have been offered for public approval. The boxing fans and promoters have been doing splendidly well by subscribing in no small way to the various war drives which have been put on at a time when a boxing smoker has been staged in the city.

ANGELS WIN FAST GAME

FOURTH IN CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES CAPTURED, 2 TO 1.

Terry Is Responsible for Both Runs for Victors—Hitting Honors of Tigers and Victors Even.

LOS ANGELES, July 20.—Los Angeles took the fourth game in the series with Vernon to decide the Pacific Coast League championship. Terry was responsible for both of the runs made by the Angels. In the sixth inning he singled, made second and came in on Billie Smith. In the eighth he went home on a single by Fournier. Score: R. H. E. J. R. H. E. J. 2 1 0 Los Angeles.....2 9 1 Vernon.....1 9 0 Batteries—Percitt and Lapan; Chech, Fromme and Devorsten.

Philadelphia, with its great number of active trapshooters, has no permanent home for the followers of the sport.
