IRVINGTON clubhouse and tennis courts will be the mecca for many of the social set this coming week when the Oregon State tennis tournament will be held. The dates are July 22 to 27, inclusive. In addition to the matches, which will be especially attractive, there will be the social features that are sure to interest not only tennis enthusiasts but those who enjoy an informal afternoon, a tea or dance amid congenial and delightful surroundings.

Mrs. J. P. Mulder has been appointed to have direction of the social activities and has outlined some specialties that are sure to have an important part in the success of the tournaments. For instance, there will be a jazz orchestra, the Olympic playing every afternoon during the social hours from 4 to 6 o'clock, and there will be the litney dance, so informal, so delightful and appropriate for summertime festivity. The proceeds will go toward the training-camp fund. It is hoped by the committee that the proceeds will be sufficient to aid materially in establishing the tennis courts at Camp Lewis.

Refreshments will be served every afternoon. Each day there will be special hostess and each hostess will have a bevy of society maids and matrons as assistants. The week will end with a grand finale, a dance in the open, weather permitting. Mrs. Mulder will have as her assistants on the committee Mrs. David Wittmer, Mrs. W. H. M. Drescher, Mrs. William H. Patterson, Miss Clara Patrick and Miss Stella Fording. These will name their assistants for the week. The tea garden on the hill, the country home of Mrs. Lee Hoffman, was the scene of some attractive society and artistic affairs last week. On Wednesday there was the Italian fête for the benefit of the Portland Chapter Italian War Service. On Friday Miss Marion Bauer's talk on music and war proved an attraction of unusual interest. The marriage last night of Miss Gertrude Cowgill and Dean Vincent, at St. David's Episcopal Church, was quite a notable event.

Waverley Country Club afforded an ideal place for gaieties during the week. Beginning on Monday, and with no exceptions, the days were marked with luncheons and dinners for visitors, brides-elect and prominent guests. Last night there was the military ball at the Auditorium, given by the Aloha Club, and on Tuesday night there was the officers' ball, at which the Comrades' Club entertained at Multnomah Clubhouse. And so there was something going on every day for the pleasure of the younger set and for all who could spare time to attend these charming affairs.

"Forget-Me-Not day" is the next big society, patriotic and civic event scheduled. The date is Thursday, July 25—the place, Portland. A great drive for 25-cent pieces will be made on that date, when the birthday of Elizabeth, Queen of the Belgians, will be observed. The date was chosen in compliment to the Queen of that war-ridden country, Belgium, and the flower because it is the Queen's favorite posy.

The Franco-Belge Society, of which J. L. Drouillard is president, will cooperate with the Oregon committee for relief in France and Belgium, and both organizations will use every effort to make the day a success. The officers of the local branch of the commission for the relief of Belgians and French are: President, Mrs. W. B. Ayer; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Kelley Reed; assistant secretary, Mrs. Folger Johnson; extension secretary, Mrs. Donald Spencer; auditor, Alexander C. Rae; board of directors, Mrs. William C. Alvord, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. J. D.

Farrell, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. Solomon Hirsch, Mrs. John A. Keating, Mrs. Fletcher Linn, Mrs. C. F. Swigert, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood.

Mrs. Wheelwright will be chairman of buildings for the day and Mrs. Thomas Carrick Burke and Mrs. C. F. Swigert will have charge of placing saleswomen in the department stores, restaurants and hotels. The lower floors, however, will be under the special supervision of Mrs. Fletcher Linn. Mrs. F. Williams, representing the Franco-Belge Society, will have charge in the theaters and in these the girls who will sell forget-me-nots will wear Belgian costume, pretty and picturesque.

Mrs. C. E. S. Wood will manage the sales in the postoffice. Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett will be chairman for the committees at the street corners and Miss Sarah Lewis will direct the saleswomen in the industrial plants. Mrs. William Skene will be her chief assistant. In the Sellwood district, Mrs. George D. Kelly will be chairman, and in St. Johns, Mrs. W. H. Thomas will direct. The banks will be Mrs. Walter Burrell's special domain and the approaches to the bridges will be guarded by girls selected by Miss Clementine Hirsch. Everyone will have a chance to buy a posy.

The pretty little mementoes will be sold for the sake of the women and children and all who are suffering from the ravages of war in Belgium and Northern France.

Those who heard Mrs. Vernon Kellogg when she spoke in the Hellig Theater know that there should be a great response. They know that within a cruel steel ring, charged with a high voltage of electricity, Germany has imprisoned 10,000,000 people and that to help these Portland will be asked to do her bit and buy the nosegays whose message is "Forget-Me-Not."

Mrs. Kellogg was the only woman of Mr. Hoover's committee of Belgian relief and she lived among the people and knew whereof she spoke. Two thousand of us heard her, but all who were there carried the words along. Belgium stands with hands outstretched, asking our help. Thursday it will be seven. Let's hope many who have never before given to any extent will give until they reach the point of self-denial.

Miss Stella Fording will be hostess for the social features at Irvington Club tomorrow and will be assisted by Adele Jones, Elizabeth Wiggins, Janice Parker, Dorothy Collins and Miss Burke. Mrs. Van Decker will be gate hostess and Miss Frances Lounsbury will assist.

Mrs. W. H. M. Drescher will be hostess Tuesday.

Miss Ruth Teal entertained at the Waverley Country Club on Monday, giving a luncheon for some of her girl friends, including Mrs. Holt Cookingham, Mrs. Walter Yates, Miss Rhoda Rumelin, Miss Elizabeth Menefee and Miss Charlotte Breyman. A motor trip was enjoyed after the luncheon.

Mrs. R. B. von Klein Schmid was honor guest on Friday at a tea at which Mrs. Charles E. Wolverton was hostess. Mrs. von Klein Schmid is a charming visitor who is here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fletcher Linn. Mrs. Linn entertained for Mrs. von Klein Schmid recently and had as additional guests of honor Dr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Hill. Dr. Hill was at one time pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here. Mrs. Samuel C. Kerr also, before she went to California, was hostess in compliment to Mrs. von Klein Schmid. The visitor is the wife of the president of the University of Arizona.

Captain Prescott Cookingham was host Monday night at dinner at the Waverley Club for Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Squires, Captain John V. Crisp, Miss Rhoda Rumelin and Miss Ruth Teal.

Mrs. Joseph R. Bowles and Mrs. Walter Beebe entertained on Monday at a luncheon at the Waverley Country Club in compliment to Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, Mrs. Charles Pies and Mrs. Schwab's niece, Miss Mary Mook, who were here with the Schwab party. Ad-

Blue! Blue! Blue!
Marks Our Advance Showing of Tailored Suits

And such a variety of navy blue serge suits! There is a model for every miss or matron in Portland, whether she be extremely tiny or markedly stout. There are strictly tailored styles with buttons forming the only trimming, chic models with odd under-arm belts and Norfolk effects. You will find the coats longer and the skirts narrower than we have seen for some time. Silk linings in fancy patterns are in order for the most part. You will find our prices are not high. Come in and see for yourself Monday.

For Final Clean-Up

We have reduced the price of every one of our lighter shade wool suits. There are many, many models that would do beautifully for Fall as well as to finish the season. Just let us show you these the early part of next week.

Silk Coats

—dressy for all times
Have you seen the wonderful collection of silk coats we are showing? There are exquisite black things, soft shaded taupes, purples and blues. Some trimmed with maribou and some even combined with heavy materials. Really you have never seen more beautiful coats—and they are moderately priced, too.
