The Multnomah Club will present a festive appearance next Tuesday evening, July 30. The occasion is the mid-summer party and entertainment which will be held in the club's spacious social rooms. The affair will be free to all members and to those who hold guest cards. The festivity will start promptly at 8:15 P. M. and the programme will be presented by some of Portland's talented entertainers. The Multnomah Orchestra, which will be augmented by about 30 pieces, will play everything from classics to popular selections from light opera.

After 9:45 there will be two hours of dancing. All departments of the club will be open as usual.

Mrs. E. C. Hayes was hostess at a forget-me-not party Thursday in honor of her guest, Miss Genevieve Gorman, of Seattle. Red and white roses and forget-me-nots were used for decoration. Those invited were: Misses Gertrude Driscoll, Althea Cooper (Seattle), Elsie and Claire Fille, Etha Kennedy, Allegra McGreal, Dorothea McDonald, Mary Reynolds and Nina Welsh (Berkeley), Lorea Cayet and Genevieve C. Gorman.

Mrs. Hayes was assisted by Mrs. Robert C. Wright and Mrs. J. W. Westbrook.

The home of Mrs. Charles A. Burckhardt was the scene yesterday of an interesting reception and recital in honor of Mademoiselle M. P. Binne, instructor of French at Hill Military Academy, who has returned to Portland after a visit with friends in the country. Among those who assisted in the programme were Barbara Frael, Elizabeth Knight, Lyle Veazie, Eleanor Zook, Harriet, Elizabeth and Katharine O'Reilly, Marion Look, Jean Hall, Elizabeth Dunbar and Mrs. Robinson. The numbers were in French and showed great proficiency on the part of the young people participating.

A lovely bride of Wednesday afternoon was Miss Edith Morgan, whose wedding to Gustav Cramer took place at 4 o'clock at the Sunnyside Congregational Church. As in the case of most weddings in war times it was simple and informal in all details. The Rev. John Staub officiated, in the presence of immediate friends and relatives.

The bride was attractive in her traveling dress of dark blue tulle, with which she wore a small tan hat and corsage bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses and orchids. The couple were unattended. Preceding the ceremony Miss Elsie Cramer, sister of the bridegroom, sang "Indian Love Legend." Immediately following a wedding supper was served in the church parlors. After a two weeks' trip to the beaches Mr. and Mrs. Cramer will be at home at the Washington Hotel.

Mrs. Cramer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Morgan and is a beautiful and talented girl. She attended the Portland Art Museum and University of Southern California. Her work has won recognition for its beauty and originality.

Mrs. Cramer is a well-known singer and a member of the Apollo Club. He is connected with Jaeger Bros.

Mrs. Randall F. White (Gertrude Stone) is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stone. She has been making her home the last few months in Bremerton, where her husband, Dr. R. F. White, U. S. N. R. F., is stationed.

An interesting military event of last night was the dance given to the men of the spruce division by the women who are enrolled in the Reed College school for reconstruction aides. The assembly hall of the Arts building was decorated beautifully with allied flags. More than 100 enlisted men and officers of the spruce division were included in the invitations for the affair.

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority girls took a particularly keen interest in the success of Forget-Me-Not day, because Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, one of the moving spirits of the Commission for Belgian Relief is a member of their sorority, and while in Portland requested them at the informal tea given for her by them to aid stricken Belgium and Thursday provided them an opportunity to fulfill the promise given by this inspiring and altogether charming woman.

Dr. Angela L. Ford Warren is spending the summer at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, Cal.

The date for the garden fete for Company F, 18th Engineers, Railway, has been set for August 17. The festivity will be held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Henningsen, at Mount Tabor (formerly the Josselyn residence).

Company F's patriotic and loyal auxiliary will plan the party and it will be one of the largest affairs of the mid-summer. The members are enthusiastic and never do things in a half-hearted way. The grounds of the Mount Tabor home are among the most beautiful in the city and will afford a splendid place for entertaining. This date should be marked immediately on the social calendar.

A pretty luncheon of Friday was presided over by Miss Emily Smith, honoring Mrs. Raymond Schriek (Dorothy Seidley), a recent bride. Covers were laid for Mrs. Schriek, Mrs. Bern Olson, Mrs. A. F. Jones, Miss Marie Canel, Miss Helen Catron, Miss Helen Tallmage, Miss Nina Jones, Miss Isabelle Jones and the hostess.

The business woman's class of the First Christian Church, corner Park and Columbia streets, is to present a clever and unique entertainment on August 2, when the programme is to consist of talent drawn from Vancouver Barracks, where we have some of the best military artists of entertainment. These will be assisted by a group of young girls who will present the amusing and cleverly rendered playlet, "The Piper Pays." Some novel features are being prepared. The public is invited. This class of young women has adopted a little Belgian girl and has assumed her entire support.

Mrs. H. Eddings, assisted by Mrs. Charles Ringler, was hostess at an enjoyable dancing party at her beautiful home in Laurelhurst on Saturday, the 26th, in honor of her house guest, Mrs. Thomas James Riach, (Lorraine Griffin), recently of Houston, Texas.

The home was decorated with ferns and American beauty roses and the soft red and green lights extended the attractive color scheme.

A hidden "Jazz" orchestra was one of the features of the evening and proved an inspiration to the gay company. Added musical pleasures were solos by Miss Harriet Kelly and Lieutenant Zimmerman. Both possess voices of rare qualities that never fail to please.

A pergola at the rear of the drawing room was covered with vines and Japanese lanterns.

An American flag enclosed one end of the veranda, where the punch bowl was placed and presided over by Virginia Ringler, who was crowned in a costume of quaker design.

Handpainted Japanese cards served as dance programmes and were passed to the guests by little Eleanor Ringler and Master Blair Eddings.

Light refreshments were served at the close of a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. Riach, who became the bride of Captain Riach of the Medical Corps last January, is a former Portland girl and has a host of friends in this city. Captain Riach is now serving "somewhere in France" where he has been since May.

Those participating in the evening's pleasure were: Misses Bertha Hendricks, (of Cascade); Helen Kane, Marie Thatcher, Helen Beth Walker,

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steinmetz, of 109 East Twenty-seventh street, were host at a dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of Oscar Promis, of San Jose, Cal. After dinner 20 invited guests enjoyed the evening listening to a musical. The star of the evening was Miss Dooley, pianist, who recently returned from Chicago, where she completed her musical education. Another contributor was Carl Frank, who played the violin and sang several selections. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid also gave several clever musical selections.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Liebe, Mr. and Mrs. Carl May, Dr. and Mrs. George Brightling, Mrs. Emily McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. Muehler, Kenneth Evans, Miss Marie Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmid and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steinmetz and Miss G. Dunbar.

A benefit tea and musical was given by Mrs. Chris Shaw at her home, 812 Marshall street, Monday from 2 until 5 o'clock, for the British-American war relief fund. The tea was served on spacious veranda and lawn. The house, tea table and grounds were artistically decorated with hydrangeas. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. E. Borthwick and Mrs. M. E. Lee, assisted by Mrs. K. K. Baxter, Mrs. J. A. Dick, Mrs. J. W. Mettler and Mrs. J. J. McCormack. About 150 guests were served. Fortunes were told under an Italian chestnut tree and for 10 cents one knew whether fortune smiled or frowned. During the afternoon a delightful musical programme was rendered. The vocalists were Mrs. Daniel E. Powers, Miss Daisy Gibson and Madam Francis, of the Hopodrome. Piano solos were rendered by Mrs. S. Ryan. The following people are among those who kindly donated: Bostack Packing Company, Log Cabin Bakery and Sweetland's Candy Company.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. Carl A. Palm (Mary Lawler), a recent bride, was the recipient of many beautiful gifts in the nature of a miscellaneous shower given as a surprise at her home Wednesday evening by a number of her friends. The evening was spent in music, after which dainty refreshments were served, covers being laid for 15.

The home of Mrs. F. C. Baston, 511 East Twenty-second street, was the scene of a merry little party on the afternoon of July 16, when the entertained for her grandson, Emory Trahan, Jr. The babies present were Jeanette Brown, Betty Jane Tomlinson, Dorothea Dalrymple, Dicky Day, Billy Russell and Junior. The other guests were the mothers of the babies and Mrs. Moorhead, Mrs. R. H. Mason, Mrs. Raymond Stedman and Grace Mascher.

Madame Lucie Valair gave an interesting address to the auxiliary members of Company E at their last meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, "France" was the topic. Mrs. F. R. Cook presided.

COMING EVENTS.

*The business woman's Bible class at the First Christian Church will give its first entertainment for raising the necessary funds for the support of their adopted Belgian baby Friday evening, August 2, at the church, corner Park and Columbia. An unusual programme will be furnished entirely by soldiers from Vancouver, where some excellent entertainers are stationed. One interesting feature will be an auction at
