contemplates no interference with the political sovereignty of Russia, no intervention in her internal affairs—not even in the local affairs of the limited areas which her military force may be obliged to occupy—and no impairment of her territorial integrity either now or hereafter; but that what we are about to do has as its single and only object the rendering of such aid as shall be acceptable to the Russian people themselves in their endeavors to regain control of their own affairs, their own territory and their own destiny.

These plans and purposes of the Government of the United States have been communicated to the governments of Great Britain, France and Italy, and those governments have advised the Department of State that they assent to them in principle.

"No conclusion that the Government of the United States has arrived at in this important matter is intended, however, as an effort to restrict the actions of the United States to the independent judgment of the governments with which we are now associated in the war.

JAPAN AVOWS FRIENDSHIP

Unselfish Motives Declared Back of Action in Siberia.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The official Gazette at Tokio last evening published a declaration announcing the impending dispatch of troops to Vladivostok according to a cablegram received here today.

"The Japanese government, actuated by sentiments of sincere friendship toward the Russian people, has always entertained most sanguine hopes of the speedy re-establishment of order in Russia and of the healthy, untrammeled development of her national life.

"Abundant proof, however, is now afforded that the Central European empires, taking advantage of the defensive and chaotic condition in which Russia has momentarily been placed, are consolidating their hold on that country and are steadily extending their activities to Russia's eastern possessions.

"They have persistently interfered with the passage of Czecho-Slovak troops through Siberia. In the forces now opposing these valiant troops, German and Austro-Hungarian prisoners are freely enlisted and they practically assume a position of command.

"The Czecho-Slovak troops, aspiring to secure a free and independent existence for their race and loyally espousing the common cause of the allies, justly command every sympathy and consideration from the co-belligerents, whom their destiny is a matter of deep and abiding concern.

"In the presence of danger to which the Czecho-Slovak troops actually are exposed in Siberia, the hands of the German and Austro-Hungarian allies have naturally felt themselves unable to view with indifference the untoward course of events and a certain number of their troops, ready have been ordered to proceed to Vladivostok.

"The government of the United States, equally cognizant of the gravity of the situation, recently approached the Japanese government with proposals for the early dispatch of troops to relieve the pressure weighing upon the Czecho-Slovak troops.

"The Japanese government, being anxious to fall in with the desire of the American Government, has decided to proceed at once to make disposition of suitable forces for the proposed mission and a certain number of these troops will be sent forthwith to Vladivostok.

"In adopting this course, the Japanese government remains constant in its desire to promote relations of enduring friendship and they reaffirm their avowed policy of respecting the territorial integrity of Russia and of abstaining from all interference in her internal politics.

AMERICA WILL BE WAR SAYS ASQUITH

Former Premier of Britain Declares U. S. Army is Controlling Factor.

GERMANY IS UNREPENTANT

Statesman Asserts That Allies Now Control on Land and Sea and With American Aid They Soon Will Triumph.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Conviction that the balance of war now tends to the side of the entente allies was expressed today in a statement by ex-Premier Herbert Asquith, following the four years of Great Britain's participation in the war dating from August 4, 1914.

"The beginning of the fifth year, Mr. Asquith pointed out, reveals Germany still impotent, and in full pursuit of a policy of territorial and economic aggrandizement, with which, he said, 'we can make no terms.'

Declaring that America promised to become a predominant factor in the war, Mr. Asquith said the allied nations of Western Europe owe to her a double debt of gratitude.

"In July, after a long pause for preparation," said Mr. Asquith "the German Crown Prince was captured, the capture of Rheims and to turn the flank of the defenders of Paris. We are still witnessing the developments of this ill-managed adventure, and without undue optimism we may say the balance now leans to the side of the allies, who have mastered the new German methods, and whose strength owing to the presence of American troops is daily and steadily increasing.

"Hindenburg's Promises Broken. "From a military point of view, it would seem Germany has in her campaign in the West staked everything on the combined success of this series of operations on land and of the submarine war at sea.

"The decisive weapon in war has often been the matter of supply, and the supply grounds of raw materials. The German fleet is sealed up in practical impotence, and the empire's naval effort after 29 years of military preparation is confined to the sporadic activity of its submarines.
