PICKERS WANTED FOR BERRY CROP

Appeal Is Made to Women of Portland to Gather Fruit for Soldiers.

ROHSE RECRUITING

of Girls Who Want Pleasant and Profitable Vacation This Summer in the Country.

Do you remember the blackberry jam mother used to make? That delicious, toothsome luxury of childhood's happy hour that was put away in fars that eager litle hands were forbidden to touch. And mouths filled with a shining array of the proverbial "sweet tooth" were doomed to await countless other communities. They are countless other communities. They are plentiful and the only problem is to have them picked. Uncle Sam wants those berries in order that they may be made into jam for the soldier boys. So the appeal is made to the women of Portland—to the women, God bless them, who do most things worth while for the boys that makes them know they are remembered at home.

Miss Marguerite Rohse, teacher of languages in Jefferson High School, to whom is accorded the honor of conducting the most successful camp of loganberry pickers sent out from Portland, is recruiting women and girls to gather the blackberries for Uncle Sam. She is at the office in the Oregon building every day, and is making up camps, each of 50 women and girls, to do the

There were regular hours for recreation and sports, as well as for the work of each day. The Tualatin River afforded lots of sport, for the girls bathed and swam in the waters of the stream. Their camp was on the Buchanan farm, near Cornellus. They were in camp three weeks and when they broke camp to return to Pertland they brought almost $1000 with them, their net earnings above all expenses. Their average cost of living was 33 cents a day for each girl. They picked more than $600 crates of berries and averaged about six crates each per day for the shifts worked. each per day for the shifts worked. NEW RABBI OF CONGREGATION AHAVAI SHOLOM AND VETERAN COMPANY MARCHES TO SELLWOOD LEADER WHO WILL CONDUCT SERVICES.

Rabbi Arthur S. Montag. Rev. R. Abrahamson.

Congregation Ahavai Sholom, one of the oldest of Portland's churches, soon is to welcome its new rabbi. He is Rabbi Arthur S. Montaz, of Chicago, a recent graduate of the Hebrew Union College, of Cincinnati. Rabbi Montaz, though only 28 years of age, comes highly recommended and combines the knowledge of old Jewish traditional learning with the modern education and viewpoint. The religious services will continue to be conducted by Rev. R. Abrahamson, who has been with the congregation for more than thirty years and is one of the best-known and beloved figures of the community. Rabbi Montas is a young man of splendid physique, vigorous and aggressive in personality and brings with him many years of conscientious study both in this country and abroad.

Congregation Ahavai Sholom represents the conservative portion of the Jewish community of Portland, whose ritual retains the beauty of the old Hebrew prayers and incidentally includes the introduction of English prayers. It is the hope of this congregation soon to purchase a new organ and reorganize

It is the hope of this congregation soon to purchase a new organ and reorganize its choir and do everything possible to add to the attractiveness of the impressive ritual of the Hebrew tradition.

Rabbi Montaz is expected some time during the coming week and elaborate preparations are being made for his reception by the officers and members of the congregation.

HOOD TO SEND VETERANS

George R. Castner Entertains Brother Before Attending Reunion.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Practically every Civil War Veteran in the Hood River Valley will attend the National encampment of the Grand Army in Portland. George R. Castner, commander of Canby Post here, estimates that about 20 veterans will be from bars. Mr. Castner says The non-recruiting order does not affect this branch of the service, at present confined to the borders of the state.

A number of Company A men, Oregon Guard, have obtained commissions in the regular Army with little additional training. One of the men recently became a First Lieutenant and assistant instructor at the training damp at Eugene with no experience other than that obtained in the Portment together.
