REVERSES HELD STRATEGY

Swedish Journalist Back From Extended Visit in Hunland Makes Report on Conditions That Other Travelers Confirm.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 24.-Germany is still far from starvation or from the limit of its endurance so far as the civilian population is concerned.

This is the substance of a report to the Associated Press by a Swedish journalist who has just returned from an extended stay in Germany. He cor-roborated reports from other travelers. Asked what the civilian population thought about the war, the journalist Conditions improve, the Swedish journalist says, as one goes southward. Some five thousand guests at Marienbad hotels were served with unlimited quantities of white bread, butter, milk and cream.

Conditions in Austria are very bad, except for those who receive extra food because they are doing war work. The rest of the population is longing for peace at almost any price.

Rising in Austria Doubted.

The Swedish journalist doubted the possibility of any successful uprising in Austria because of the lack of organizing ability among the lower classes.

The railroad service in Germany, he declared, although greatly reduced, appears to be as punctual as in times of peace. The traveler had the following meal in a dining car on a meatless day. Soup, fish with potatoes and butter, mackroni with tomate sauce, a jelly tart and tea. The meal cost about 55 cents at the present rate of exchange.

ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED

Maintenance of Initiative and Extension of Allied Front From Argonne Hills Almost to Arras Feature of Fighting.

BY LIEUT .- COL REPINGTON. Military Critic of London Times. (Copyright, Press Publishing Company, 1918.) LONDON, Aug. 24.—The most importat feature of the fighting in France in the last week has been the maintenance of initiative by the allies and the extension of their front of counter attack. From the Argonne Hills almost to Arras the whole front line is aflame. Nowhere has the enemy hit back in any strength and his promised resumption of the initiative has so far not even been attempted.

The British fourth army and the French first army have maintained all their gains. Nibbling here and there, they have closed up within short striking distance of Chaulnes and Roye and the Germans west of the Upper Somme are in a most unfavorable position.
