

DEARER DEARER LEADS

Bulk of Oregon Crop Has Been Moved at High Prices.

YIELD NOT HEAVY ONE

Owing to Absence of Late Varieties, Dealers Will Bring Up Salways From California - Pear Year Also Closing.

The peach season is now practically at an end, with close to 95 per cent of the crop moved. There are very few late peaches in Oregon this year, and the trade will depend chiefly on California.

There were no carlot arrivals on the market yesterday, but about 200 boxes came in by express and 400 boxes by boat from Oregon yesterday; also a few crates from Washington by express.

The pear market has also strengthened with the decline in receipts. Good Bartlett sold at $1.50-1.75 a box, and in lots at 4 1/2 cents a pound.

COARSE GRAINS STEADY AT CLOSE

Few Changes in Bids as Posted at Merchants' Exchange.

The coarse grain market was generally steady at the close of the week. Standard barley bids were posted 1/2 higher and clipped oats were up 50 cents.

Weather conditions in the Middle West, as wired from Chicago: "Winnipeg, clear; Minneapolis, clear; St. Louis, clear; Chicago, cloudy; Omaha, cloudy; Kansas City, partly cloudy; Topeka, clear."

Argentine weather continues very favorable for the growing crops. Rains have proved beneficial.

San Francisco stocks of grain on wharves and in warehouses on September 1: Wheat, 56,067 tons versus 22,994 tons a year ago.

HAW FUB MARKET IS FIRM

Next Series of Auctions at St. Louis Will Start on October 7.

The far trade remains good, according to a trade circular from St. Louis, with continued activity in skunk and muskrat.

Present values are firm for practically all articles on the basis of the April market.

GANTALOPEES WEAK AND LOWER

Four Cars are Received From California and One From Washington.

The cantaloupe market was weak and lower yesterday. Four cars arrived from California and one from Washington.

Onions were also weak with adequate supplies. Washington onions were quoted at $2.25-2.50 and California at $2.75.

Tomatoes were firm at 40-50 cents a bushel with a good demand for the large receipts.

Short Covering in Steel and Other Speculative Favorites—Exchange Against Neutral Countries.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The stock market made substantial recovery during today's two-hour session from the shock sustained by yesterday's announcement respecting control of the Panama Canal.

The steady progress of the allied advance induced considerable short covering, notably in steel, oil and other speculative favorites.

Dealings in exchange were nominal, but changes were significant in that they once more moved against neutral countries, particularly Spain and Switzerland.

The Panama Canal situation, noteworthy for the large expansion—almost $100,000,000—in the Panama Canal zone, was a factor in the market's recovery.

Investment bonds were steady on limited dealings, the speculative issues showing slight irregularity. Sales, par value, aggregated $2,825,000.

CORN CLOSES LOWER

Order Against Beer Has Depressing Effect on Market.

EARLY GAINS WIPED OUT

Larger Use of Barley as Feed is Considered Probable, Owing to Regulations Prohibiting Brewing.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Prohibition of the manufacture of beer beginning December 1 had a depressing influence today on the corn market. Largely as a result prices closed lower.

An opinion became widespread that barley, which so long has been a by-product of the brewing industry, would be chiefly consumed as feed.

Covering by shorts rallied pork from a severe decline caused by a lack of support. Higher quotations on hogs helped to strengthen lead and rib.
