

SURPLUS LUMBER WORRIES MILLMEN

Fear Is Felt That Some Plants in West May Have to Suspend.

SIDE CUT FAST PILING UP

Lack of Market for Common Lumber May Interfere Seriously with Production of Government Airplane Stock.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 21. (Special.)—Lack of orders for surplus fir and spruce soon may force some of the mills in Western Oregon and Western Washington to close, and millmen are beginning to fear the effects of such action on future production of aircraft stock and ship timber which the Government is demanding.

The lumbermen say they have done everything possible to move their accumulations of common lumber, but that it is piling up at an alarming rate. Their commercial market has been taken away from them through the barges and building restrictions and the district has not been favored with large Government orders for common lumber. The situation is serious, as every mill that is forced to close through inability to move its surplus means a corresponding reduction in production of aircraft stock, ship timber, railroad material and other government requirements.

Danger Is Pointed Out.

The lumbermen have brought the situation to the attention of Government officials on the coast and through their representatives at Washington, D. C. have impressed it upon members of Congress. The danger of curtailing the production of aircraft stock has been emphatically pointed out. The lumberman insists, is one for which they are in no way responsible. They have advised the authorities that the present government demands for aircraft stock, ship timber and other material, require less than 50 per cent of their output, and that lack of corresponding government orders for common lumber renders the financing of their operations one of increasing difficulty. At the same time, they point out, government orders for common lumber are being placed in large quantities with mills in the South.

MOTHERS' PARADE SUCCESS

and proudly that most of our thanks is due." "The boys at the front are watching the papers at home and they will know if the second day is doing its duty," declared Judge Robert Tucker, in an appeal for the fourth liberty loan.

"It is not for you who have given so much to bear the brunt of the fight at home," he told the mothers, "for you have dedicated your boys to the only fight—the fight for the unconditional surrender of Germany. Ours is the duty to keep them there—and we will do it."

Mrs. Sarah A. Evans presided at the meeting. Jane Burns-Albert, accompanied by William R. Boone, rendered two patriotic songs. Led by George W. Reed, the gathering sang the National anthem with flags flying.

PARADE IS GREAT PAGEANT

"Mothers' Day" Brings Out Even Great-Grandmothers in Cause.

OREGON CITY, Or., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—One of the greatest patriotic pageants held in Oregon City took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock when Mothers' day was observed. Several hundred mothers and wives assembled in the city, and grandmothers and even great-grandmothers took an active part in the parade. Automobiles were decorated with National colors, while a number had the allied flags.

EAT POUND LESS A WEEK, SAYS HOOVER

New Conservation Call Issued to People of United States by Food Administrator.

NO RATIONING IN PROSPECT

Greater Simplicity in Living During Coming Year Urged; Practice of Gospel of Clean Plate Suggested.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Food Administrator Hoover, in a statement issued tonight, recommended that the American people reduce their consumption of food by one pound a week. This reduction is to include a half pound of breadstuffs and a half pound of meats and fats.

Mr. Hoover, in outlining the food conservation programme recommended for the American people during the coming year, said the United States was prepared to ship 5,750,000 more tons of foodstuffs to its armies and allies than last year and still have a margin over the amount necessary to maintain health and strength at home.

There will be no food rationing in this country so long as the people continue to conserve, as in the past, Mr. Hoover said.

"Of our imports," Mr. Hoover said, "we shall apparently have sufficient sugar to maintain the present consumption and to care for the extra drain of the allies from our markets, instead of compelling them to send their ships to the Far East."

"We can secure in sailing vessels the coffee we need, if no one makes an over-brew."

Reduction to Be Secured.

"Of our own products we must secure a reduction in consumption and waste in the two great groups of first breadstuffs, and second, meats and fats—that is, in all bread and cereals, beef, pork, poultry, dairy and vegetable oil products."

"The average consumption of our people of breadstuffs amounts to about six pounds per week and of meats and fats to four pounds a week for each person."

"A reduction in consumption of less than one-half pound per week per person in each of these two great groups of foods would accomplish our purpose."

"We wish to emphasize, however, that we do not want curtailment in the use of milk for children."

Greater Simplicity Called For.

"We need even greater simplicity of living than last year."

"The estimate that nearly 9,000,000 people eat at our public eating places—hotels, restaurants, boarding houses, clubs, dining cars and so forth. The food consumption in these places is larger than in the average home."

"We are asking the proprietors and employees of the institutions to undertake in many particulars a more strict programme than last year and we are confident that they will willingly do this."

"This is not rationing—a thing we shall never have if our people continue to support us."

"We have so arranged the international food programme that except for a moderate substitution of other cereals in bread, it will not, we hope, be necessary to substitute one foodstuff for another, nor to resort to wheatless and meatless days."

"It is necessary that every family in the United States study its food budget and food ways to see if it cannot buy less, serve less, return nothing to the kitchen and practice the gospel of the clean plate."

Marshfield Sees War Relics.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Fifteen hundred people today viewed the special trainload of captured German war weapons, which arrived here this morning. It is the first extensive display of German death weapons seen here and aroused much interest. People from 20 miles out in the country flocked to town for the sight.

TAX LEVY IS INCREASED

Washington Will Raise $9,240,574 to Meet State Expenses.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—Washington taxes to be levied next year for state purposes have been increased $9,240,574 above the total state levy last year. This year's revenue from taxation for state purposes will total $9,240,574.

Estimates submitted by state departments on appropriation estimates for the next two years showed a total increase of $968,425 over the cost of state government for the past biennium.

An increase of 26,000 in children of school age in the past year increases the school levy to 2.24 mills from 2.10 mills last year.
