Seattle Man Named Chairman of State Committee.

HIGHER OFFICE IS EYED

New Official Has Long Been Active in Politics and Is Well Known in Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 12 -- (Special.) Samuel A. Welker, of Seattle, chairman of the Snohomish County Progresssive committee in 1912 and 1914, and chairman of the Snohomish County Republican Committee in 1916, a member of the executive committee of the Progressive State Committe in 1914 and of the executive committe of the Republican State Committee in 1916, was chosen chairman of the Republican State Committee on the third ballot at the special watering of the committee at special meeting of the committee held in the new Arctic Hotel this aft-

The new chairman was empowered to select one or more vice-chairmen, a se retary and an executive committee, a majority of whom should be members of the state committee, and to open a headquarter at Spokane to assist the Congressional candidates.

Votes Thrown to Walker.

The credit for the election of Mr. Walker was given to Thomas F. Murphine and J. Y. C. Kellogg, both of Seattle, who engineered the proceedings of the meeting, and who, throughout of the meeting, and who, throughout the afternoon, consistently outmaneuvered the more conservative members of the committee.

A count of noses before the session disclosed that Mr. Walker could muster a total of 13 votes. Beyond this it was not certain that he could go. Then it was that Mr. Murphine and Mr. Kellogg took the situation in hand. Mr. Sparling had two provies which it was agreed might be needed to give Mr. Walker the necessary total. Mr. Sparling was also ambitious to be Walker the necessary total. Mr. Sparling was also ambitious to be state chairman. It was agreed that his name be presented and that an effort be made to elect him.

After the second ballot, with Mr. Sparling within one vote of the necessary majority, the campufjaye was reserved. sary majority, the camouflage was re ed and Sparling transferred to DIED OF WOUNDS RECEIVED IN ACTION.

Progressives in Control.

The real politics in today's meeting, if the situation were analyzed, would show that the Progressive element of the party controlled the meeting. Millard T. Hartson, former state chairman, was the choice of the old line man, was the choice of the old line Republicans. He was put into the fight against his wishes, perhaps because it was that Robert R. Fox, a Scattle man, who managed Colonel R. H. Hartley's campaign for the Governor two years ago, might become a formidable candidate.

The apposition to Mr. Fox was based The opposition to Mr. Fox was based on the fact that his affiliations in poli-tics have been somewhat antagonistic t othe rank and file of organized labor, and as state chairman this would have been used as a weapon against the Re-publican candidates. The name of Mr. Fox was not presented.

There never was any "contest" in There never was any "contest" in the committee, everything being cut and dried for the election of Mr. Walkerer. Mr. Sparling was used to determine the strength of both Mr. Walker and Mr. Hartson. If he had any ambay leaves each it in his grasp after the second ballot, when he lacked but two votes of the necessary majority, and when Hertson had lost one vote "The content of the central alliance were the paramount factors of the active week in the securities market.

OLSON'S JOB QUESTIONED

LEGALITY OF APPOINTMENT. Provision of State Constitution Cited. Opinion of Attorney-General on Subject Is Sought.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 12.-(Special.)-At-SALEM, Or., Oct. 12.—(Spacial.)—Attorney-General Brown has received from Justice Conrad P. When Olson was a member of the State Senate in 1917 a law was passed consolidating the compensation of the Supreme Justices, and this furnishes the basis for the assertion that his appointment is not least Section 19 consolidating the compensation of the Supreme Justices, and this furnishes the basis for the assertion that his appointment is not legal, Section 10, article 17 of the Constitution being cited. The section, Justice Olson acknowledges, provides in effect that no Senator shall be appointed to an office, the emoluments of which shall be increased during the term for which the Senator may have been elected. His letter follows:

WASHINGTON, Oct 12—Liberty day celebrations today brought uncounted militons to the credit of the Nation's $6,000,000,000 war loan, although meager official reports available to night added only $77,000,000, making the known total to date $2,345,000,000. Two-thirds of the campaign is gone and less than half the task is performed. In the remaining week, the seven days ending next Saturday night. $3,700,000,000 must be pledged by persons who have not yet bought or who assed in 1965. This consolidation was made ander sutherity of a censtitutional amendatent passed by the people in 1910, and the ct. simply provided that $4500 a year hould be paid Justices of the Supreme our! repealing the previous acts.

Section 30, article IV of the Constitution rovides in effect that no Senator shall be ppointed to an office, the empluments of Alch shall be increased during the term or which the Senator may have been lected.

Although I have very decided opinions

Although I have very decided opinions as to whether or not the emoluments have been increased by the 1917 Legislature, I shall not express them.

I have resigned my senatorship, given up my law prische and and performing the duties of a Justice of the Supreme Court, but I do fibt wish to do this work or draw any salary if there is any flaw in my tille thereto. Nor do I desire in any way in embarrass Secretary of State Oleott or State Treasurer Kay. I have not as yet cashed the warrant for services performed the last few days of September and shall not do so until the question is settled.

I would be pleased to receive an early opinion to the end that no uncertainty may be given to the sittings of this court or the hearing of cases.
