

ARRESTS ARE FEWER FOR NON-SUPPORT

Cases Show Reduction Since Miss O'Bryan in Charge.

BROKEN HOME TIES MENDED

Deputy District Attorney Finds That Many Wives Have Husbands Arrested as "A Sort of Pastime."

This business of getting into an argument with a woman is all right if you like it, but the fellow who attempts to get on the winning side of a talkfest with Miss Lydia O'Bryan is out of luck.

About a score of Portland men have tried it during the past month and they couldn't get by. They not only lost out in the verbal bout, but they likewise suffered a material depletion of finances. Mere man has tried to out-talk the general sex, but time and again Miss O'Bryan has been the victor. There's no record now extant showing that they got by.

Miss Lydia O'Bryan, he it known, is a Deputy District Attorney in charge of the non-support cases. From morning to night she sits at her desk on the sixth floor of the Courthouse engaging in verbal combats with men. And how she can talk!

Fewer Arrests Made.

Getting down to facts and official court records, the information is gleaned that during the month Miss O'Bryan has been in charge of the non-support department there have been less arrests on this charge than ever before since the non-support bill became a law in Oregon.

Day after day deserted wives appear at Miss O'Bryan's desk and ask that their husbands be arrested. Miss O'Bryan listens patiently to the stories of domestic unhappiness and then she sends out for the "other half" of the troubled family.

"It's a great game, this business of smoothing over family troubles," she said yesterday. "And how I enjoy it. I've had men come up here who took oath that they'd serve a year or two in the penitentiary before they'd pay their wives one cent. Before they left the office I have talked them into paying over as high as $100.

Jail Interior Repels.

"I have a natural horror of the interior of a jail, and if I can assist in keeping a man out of jail, I am going to do it. And, anyway, it's better to help patch up these little family squabbles than to take the men before the grand jury."

Before she took office as prosecutor, Miss O'Bryan was attorney for a number of men whose wives filed non-support charges against them. In that way she learned the viewpoint of the men, as well as the women.

"I've found that some women have such a habit of having their husbands arrested they want to do it as a sort of pastime. I've found numerous instances where men are one or two days late in making payments, where the wives come up here at once and demand they be rearrested. I've also found that a few of these women should be arrested instead of their husbands."

Precedent Established.

At any rate, Miss O'Bryan has established a precedent in the non-support department, and, incidentally, the state of Oregon is being saved a considerable sum of money in criminal trials. The women are getting better financial aid than they would if their husbands were prosecuted and convicted, and in many instances broken home ties have been mended.

And it's all because of the fact that a man can't come under the wife a winner in an argument with a woman. Those men who have been arguing with Miss O'Bryan during the past month will bear witness to the fact that this is true—also—lively.

EUGENE CAMP LOSES FIVE

TWO MORE STUDENTS VICTIMS OF SPANISH INFLUENZA.

Glen Walter, of Milton, and Robert Gerald Stuart, of Medford, are Stricken at College.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Deaths this morning of Glen Walter, of Milton, Or., 18 years old, member of the S. A. T. C., and Robert Gerald Stuart, of Medford, 21 years of age, of the Officers' Training Camp, make a total of five fatalities from pneumonia following attacks of influenza among students of the university within the last 33 hours.

Glen Walter, a sophomore, was the second member of the S. A. T. C. to die as a result of the epidemic. The first victim was Richard Shisler, of Harrisburg, a junior, who died at the Phi Gamma Delta infirmary Friday night.

The O. T. C. men who have died are Robert Stuart, J. H. Sargent and Thomas R. Townsend.

Gen Walter was a member of Kappa Sigma and popular among the students of the university. The body was taken to Milton.

Robert Stuart was a member of the machine gun company of the Officers' Training Camp. He was born in Miles City, Mont. His condition was not considered serious until yesterday, when pneumonia developed. Funeral services will be held in Medford.

The body of Richard Shisler was taken to Harrisburg this morning, where a military funeral will be held.

A military escort of the men of the machine gun company and others of the battalion accompanied the body of J. H. Sargent to the train this morning.

BOOKS GIVEN TO SOLDIERS

MORE THAN 500 VOLUMES ARE INCLUDED IN DONATION.

Pacific Telephone Company Reading Material Will Be Distributed Among Northwest Camps.

Five hundred books that have been in the rest rooms of the Pacific Telephone Company at East Park and Alder streets for some time, have been donated to the War Camp Community Service, which is distributing the volumes among soldiers' camps in the vicinity of Portland.

In the collection are works of fiction, volumes for reference use, and technical subjects. The donation is regarded as a timely one, in view of the fact that soldiers are not granted the liberties they were prior to the outbreak of the influenza epidemic, and there is consequently a greater demand for good reading. Burton O. Greening, who is in charge of headquarters of the War Camp Community Service, is supervising the distribution.

Two boxes of five grapevine apples were presented to men in the Spruce Division yesterday by the Hood River Fruit Company, through Emery Olmstead, and the fruit was taken to Virginia Hill Apartments, where the Spruce Division men are quartered.

Mr. Greening is in receipt of 75,000

INFLUENZA

How to Avoid It—How to Care for Those Who Have It

The following suggestions of the Oregon State Board of Health may prove of immeasurable value to any man or woman who will read, remember and act upon them in the present great emergency. The counsel here set forth has been prepared after consultation with some of the ablest medical men in America. If you will follow the dictates of this official bulletin, you will be doing your duty to your fellow men and to yourself.

What to Do Until the Doctor Comes

- If you feel a sudden chill, followed by muscular pain, headache, backache, unusual tiredness and fever, go to bed at once.
- See that there is enough bed clothing to keep you warm. Open all windows in your bedroom and keep them open at all times, except in rainy weather.
- Take medicine to open the bowels freely.
- Take some nourishing food, such as milk, egg-and-milk or broth every four hours.
- Stay in bed until a physician tells you that it is safe to get up.
- Allow no one else to sleep in the same room.
- Protect others by sneezing and coughing into handkerchiefs or cloths, which should be boiled or burned.
- Insist that whoever gives you water or food or enters the sickroom for any other purpose shall wear a gauze mask, which may be obtained from the Red Cross or may be made at home of four to six folds of gauze and which should cover the nose and mouth and be tied behind the head.
- Remember that these masks must be kept clean, must be put on outside the sickroom, must not be handled after they are tied on and must be boiled 30 minutes and thoroughly dried every time they are taken off.
- Avoid the use of strong antiseptic sprays for the nose and throat—they do more harm than good.
- The cleansing of the nose and the throat by the ordinary Dobell Solution, which any druggist can supply, or by normal salt solutions, is as effective as any, and much less expensive, followed by the use of a bland, non-irritating oil, such as liquid vaseline, affords a minimum of protection.

To Householders To Workers To Nurses

- To Householders
 - Keep out of the sick room unless attendance is necessary.
 - Do not handle articles coming from the sick room until they are boiled.
 - Allow no visitors, and do not go visiting.
 - Call a doctor for all inmates who show signs of beginning sickness.
 - The usual symptoms are: Inflamed and watery eyes, discharging nose, backache, headache, muscular pain, and fever.
 - Keep away from crowded places, such as "movies," theaters, streetcars.
 - See to it that your children are kept warm and dry, both night and day.
 - Have sufficient fire in your home to dispense the dampness.
 - Open your windows at night. If cool weather prevails, add extra bed clothing.
- To Workers
 - Walk to work if possible.
 - Avoid the person who coughs or sneezes.
 - Wash your hands before eating.
 - Make full use of all available sunshine.
 - Do not use a common towel. It spreads disease.
 - Should you cough or sneeze, cover nose and mouth with a handkerchief.
 - Keep out of crowded places. Walk in the open air rather than go to crowded places of amusement.
 - Sleep is necessary for well-being—avoid over-exertion. Eat good, clean food.
 - Keep away from houses where there are cases of influenza.
 - If sick, no matter how slightly, see a physician.
 - If you have had influenza, stay in bed until your doctor says you can safely get up.
- To Nurses
 - Keep clean. Isolate your patients.
 - When in attendance upon patients, wear a mask which will cover both the nose and the mouth. When the mask is once in place, do not handle it.
 - Change the mask every two hours. Owing to the scarcity of gauze, boil for one-half hour and rinse, then use the gauze again.
 - Wash your hands each time you come in contact with the patient. Use bicloride of mercury, 1-1000, or Ligor Cresol compound, 1-100, for hand disinfection.
 - Obtain at least seven hours' sleep in each 24 hours. Eat plenty of good, clean food.
 - Walk in the fresh air daily.
 - Sleep with your windows open.
 - Insist that the patient cough, sneeze or expectorate into cloths that may be disinfected or burned.
 - Boil all dishes.
 - Keep patients warm.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the musky mixing at home. All druggists sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides its beautiful darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.
