friends. She is domiciled at Alexandra Court, and is taking an active part in social war work.

Mrs. Pierre R. Hines and small sons left last week for the South to join Lieutenant Hines, who is stationed at Camp Humphrey for a few months. They went via San Francisco, the elder boy remaining in a school in California. Lieutenant Hines, who is one of the 11th Engineers, recently returned from overseas duty and is assigned as an instructor in Camp Humphrey. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Van Schuyver have leased the Hines residence during the absence of the family.

Mrs. Josephine Andrews is en route to visit her sister, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, in Tulsa, Okla.

Mrs. A. L. Maxwell has closed her apartments in 705 Davis street and she is now domiciled for the winter months in the Hotel Malloy.

Simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Laura Akin, daughter of Drs. Otis and Mabel Akin, and Dr. Olav Kaarboe, of San Francisco. The wedding was a charming event of Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, and it was attended by a throng of relatives and close friends of the couple. Rev. Clarence True Wilson, uncle of the bride, read the impressive ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Miss Dorothy Bliss sang, and during the ceremony she played a violin obligato. Mrs. Edward Drake, aunt of the bride, played the wedding march.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Laura Drake, as maid of honor, and she was given in marriage by her father. She wore a handsome gown of white silk net, ruffled and embroidered in silver. It was made over a foundation of white satin. Her veil was charmingly arranged in a semi-circle, fastened with sprays of orange blossoms, and her bouquet was a shower of white spray orchids and pastel pink hyacinths. The maid of honor was attired in a frock of azure blue silk and tulle, ruffled, and she carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was held, about 150 guests participating. The house was a bower of Autumn foliage in vivid red and brown hues, combined with huge clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. Two large wedding cakes with the customary "lucky pieces" were cut by Misses Ruth Kelly and Ethel Brown. The bride's bouquet, which was made in two sections, was caught by Miss Axa G. Paget and Miss Kelly.

For traveling the bride chose a dark brown velvet, with collar and cuffs of eral fur. She also wore a chic voguish hat in the same tones.

Dr. and Mrs. Karboe will make their home in San Francisco upon their return from their wedding trip, and will be domiciled at 1186 Bush street. Dr. Karboe is house physician at St. Francis' hospital in San Francisco.

The bride is a charming and popular belle of this city and, since her graduation from Lincoln High school she has spent the greater part of her time traveling abroad and on this continent. Since the outbreak of the war she attended Reed College, and also attended the University of California, from which she graduated last May. She is a Chi Omega girl.

Mrs. J. E. Morley, who, with her husband, Major Morley, U. S. A., recently arrived in Portland from Cleveland, Ohio, entertained with an informal tea Tuesday afternoon, the majority of the guests being wives of the officers at the Post. Major and Mrs. Morley have leased the Frederick A. Jacobs residence for the winter months.

Mrs. Thomas Scott Brooke, of San Francisco, who is visiting in Portland as the house guest of Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor, was the honor guest for the tea given by Mrs. MacGregor Friday afternoon. Mrs. David Taylor Hoxeyman has been a bride hostess in honor of the visitor, and Mrs. Sherman R. Hall entertained for her with luncheon on Wednesday. Several other affairs are planned for the present week, all of which will be in accordance with the times, and, therefore, of a most informal nature.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farrell, who have been occupying the N. E. Ayer residence at Nineteenth and Kearney streets for several years, have leased an apartment at 795 Davis street.

A charming informal affair was the knitting-tea given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Martin Gay Lombard at her apartments in the Wickersham.

Mrs. W. L. Wood and her daughter, Mrs. Alexander B. Randall, will leave the latter part of next week for the south for an indefinite stay. Mrs. Wood has been in charge of the Red Cross salvage shop for the past year, and the tremendous success of the venture is credited to her faithful and constant efforts.

Miss Alberta Blair has been visiting with Captain and Mrs. John H. Hayden in Seaside for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keyes Brooks, of Bend, were in Portland Wednesday en route to St. Paul, where they will visit relatives for several weeks.

Compliments to Mrs. James L. Kingsbury, of Carrols, Wash., Mrs. I. Van Duyn entertained with an informal luncheon Saturday. Several other informal affairs have made the past week delightfully entertaining and interesting for the visitor.

Mrs. Guy M. Standifer entertained on Monday with a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Ray Matson, who will leave this week to do canteen work for the Red Cross on the docks in New York City. The table was prettily decked with garden flowers and covers were arranged for Mrs. Matson, Mrs. John Plagemann, Mrs. Ambrose Scott, Mrs. George D. Peters, Mrs. Grenville Vernon, of England, Miss Ruth Shull, Mrs. Henry Frank, and the hostess.

Miss Ethel Parellus and Charles E. Busby were married last night at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Parellus, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. William E. Brinkman officiated and the bride was attended by her three sisters, Miss Ruby as maid of honor and the Misses Florence and Jenny as bridesmaids. Dr. Charles T. Prehn was best man.

The wedding march and other bridal music was played by Miss Geraldine Courson.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, only close friends and relatives being present.

The bride is a popular girl among the younger set of Irvington and prior to entering the University of Oregon she was graduated from the Washington High School.

Mr. Busby is attending the officers' training camp at Corvallis. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Wallace Cauffield (Kathleen Sealy) will return the first of this week to Portland to make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sealy, until the return of her husband, Captain Cauffield, who has been ordered overseas. They have been stationed at Fort Worden for several months.

Felicitations are finding their way to Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Douglas Greer, of 673 East Twenty-first street North, (Bernice Crawford) on the arrival of a son, last week. The little chap has been named in honor of his father, Mrs. Greer is a former Walla Walla girl.

Congratulations are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aash (Maud Mastick), upon the arrival of a daughter, Dorothy Maud, who made her advent Monday.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Samuel Carter (Sue Eileen Blake), the former of Camp Lewis, are spending their wedding trip in this city. They are guests of Mrs. B. E. Tait and her son, Clair Tait. Lieutenant and Mrs. Carter were married Wednesday in Tacoma, the home of the bride.

Lieutenant Carter and Mr. Tait are old friends and chums of Honolulu, where the latter is stationed. He is at home on a furlough at present.

An interesting event of the week was the wedding of Miss Alice Cornwall and Wallace L. Kadderly, which was solemnized Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, 1221 Garfield avenue, Piedmont. Dr. John H. Boyd, of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated, and only the families of the couple were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Kadderly will make their home in Corvallis, where the former is a member of the faculty of O. A. C.

Honoring Mrs. Eleanor Olson, of San Francisco, mother of Rev. Father Olson, of the Holy Rosary Parish, a reception was given Monday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Larkins in Irvington. It was attended by a number of the members of the parish, and it was one of the most delightful affairs of the season. Mrs. M. Johnson sang a solo during the afternoon. The rooms were decked with bowls of garden flowers, and the table was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Lockwood, Mrs. J. Darby and Mrs. F. D'Arcy. Miss H. Albers, Miss Mabel Sullivan and Miss Mary Clare Larkins assisted in serving.

Mrs. J. F. O'Donnell, of Idaho Falls, is visiting in this city, her former home, as the guest of Mrs. W. E. Finzer. She also is a house guest of Mrs. J. A. Winters, and she is being charmingly entertained.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. E. P. Holdnett and Mrs. R. H. Lobo entertained for their brothers.
