DR. GEORGE RAYNOLDS TELLS ATROCITIES OF SAVAGE TURK

Member of American Board of Foreign Missions Visits Portland After Years Spent in Mercy Work in Foreign Lands.

land is Dr. George C. Raynolds, M. D., D. D., a well-known misssionary member of the American Board of For eign Missions, in the organization for Congregational Church. Dr. Raynolds arrived in Portland on Wednesday to be a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hewes, of No. 5 St. Helen's Court. Mrs. Hewes is Dr. Raynolds' niece and an unusual feature of Dr. Raynolds' visit is that he is surrounded by his great-great niece and nephews, children of Mr. and Mrs.

Dr. Raynolds will be 80 years old in February and the greater part of his life has been spent in mission and edu-cational work in Turkey. He was born in Long Meadow, Mass., in 1829, grad-uating from Williams College in '61. and later, after receiving his degree as doctor of medicine, served as acting as-sistant surgeon of the Navy in the Civil War. In 1869 Dr. Raynolds and his wife went as missionaries to Tur-

"For the first three years we were stationed at Harpoot," said Dr. Ray-nolds, who is vigorous, mentally alert and a delightful conversationalist. "In 1872, with two associates and our fami-lies, we went to Van, at the far eastern end of Turkey and Asia, near the bounof Persia and Russia, almost in sight of Mount Ararat. From that time until 1913 my work was there in Van. to the work. Nevertheless the college

In going through a mountain pass two days distant from Van the fleeing thousands were set upon by Kurds, lying in wait in the mountains. In the flight my wife, Mrs. Raynolds, had the misfortune to break her limb and it was with the greatest difficulty that the party reached Tiflis.

"As I have said I was in America at this time but when the papers announced the occupancy of Van by the Russian army I supposed it meant the permanent occupancy and with a young man whom I had engaged to begin an agricultural department in the college I salled from New York in July, going via Christiania, Petrograd, Moscow, etc. hoping to resume our work in the college. On reaching Tiflis I found that my wife had died in a hospital two days before my arrival. The rest of the lege. "There seemed nothing left but for in July, with Messrs, Yarrow and Maynard and their families, I sailed again from New York, going to Tiffis.

"Erivan seemed to be the center where our relief work should be located. We found in the Caucasus district some 250,000 refugees from Turkey scattered among the scores of cities and villages of the district.
