

ADA SCHILLING STAR TARGET SHOOTING

Little Woman Wins Laurels in Top-Notch Matches.

RIFLE FEATS ARE CLEVER

Portland Expert Prepares to Leave for California, Where She Will Be Near Her Children.

BY JAMES J. RICHARDSON.

Ninety-eight pounds divided by four-foot eleven inches equals Mrs. Ada Schilling, one of the few women expert trapshooters of the country who has been hibernating in Portland for the past two and a half years.

To cast your eyes upon this nimble piece of humanity while gaily wending her way along the main thoroughfare would never for a moment accuse Mrs. Schilling of being able to stand up at the traps alongside of men—husky men at that, and take her turn on a squad of five and smash more than her share of tarbaughs into smithereens, but that is just exactly what this wonderful 48-pounder of human flesh can do without as much as blinking an eyelash.

Mrs. Schilling arrived in Portland about two and a half years ago from San Jose, Cal. She has participated in all of the big trapshooting events during the past six years on the Pacific Coast and has won county-wide fame for her remarkable shooting ability.

rifle Feats Are Clever.

She first tried her luck with a 22-caliber rifle and became—star of the first magnitude. With her husband, Carl Schilling, professional, she traveled extensively throughout the United States, in pistol, rifle and trapshooting. Her work has been marvellous. Mrs. Schilling gave up rifle shooting about six years ago and ever since has been trying her hand at smashing clay birds.

In the Pacific Coast handicap at San Jose in 1917, out of a field of 147 entrants, Mrs. Schilling finished sixth with a percentage of 91 for 489 targets. She visited San Jose in September and took part in the California-Nevada amateur championship and crashed 184 out of 200. Her best score on the Portland Gun Club trap is 98 out of a 100.

Eastern Tour Big Success.

It is almost impossible for the average person to realize how Mrs. Schilling is able to shoot the birds. The recoil of her big pump or automatic shotgun. Despite her 98 pounds, she is able to shoot a 3-gram 14-ounce load, using an automatic shotgun which reduces largely the recoil of the charge.

Before trying her hand at the traps Mrs. Schilling, with her husband, traveled the entire continent on all the large theatrical circuits giving exhibitions of fancy rifle shooting. Mrs. Schilling, in addition to the more familiar fancy rifle tricks, had a number of exceptionally interesting and novel forms of demonstrating her ability, some of which were: First, hitting 24-inch blocks in 18 seconds, through an automatic trap. Mrs. Schilling also shot cigarettes out of her hubby's mouth. Of course, when performing this trick she was always boss of the Schilling family—cause it was awfully easy to miss hubby's cigarette and bounce a lead pill off of his conning tower.

Fancy Shooting Pleases.

She also shot a half dozen discs the size of a quarter from Carl's hatbrim in five seconds. Then obscuring the sights with a playing card at the muzzle, she breaks objects tossed into the air. Oh, she can do a dozen tricks with the rifle that are not even in the book.

But Mrs. Schilling does not confine all of her time to the traps. She has two daughters who study under her. They are both attending private schools in California, and when Mr. Schilling leaves for the East, about December 1, the diminutive expert trapshooter will leave for California to be close to the children while Daddy Schilling is away.

BALLPLAYERS TO AID FUND

Nichoff Suggests Donation of Fraternity Money.

At the suggestion of Bert Nichoff, 3224 1/2 in cash and liberty bonds, which was in the treasury of the Baseball Players' Fraternity when that organization passed out of existence, will be evenly divided between the Y. M. C. A. and the Club Griffith and ball fund. Each of these organizations will receive $1000 in bonds and $117 in cash.

The funds represent dues paid by the members of the organizations and were undecided for a time what to do with the money, but when Nichoff came forward with the suggestion to donate it to the charities, which are the clubs, they quickly put the stamp of their approval on it. The Giant Infielder has already communicated to Griffith the intention of the players and will undoubtedly get in touch with the Y. M. C. A.

DIMINUTIVE WOMAN TRAPSHOOTER, REGARDED ONE OF THE BEST FEMININE MARKSMEN IN THE COUNTRY.

SOLDIERS GET GOLF CLUBS

TEN COMPLETE SETS SENT TO MEN AT CAMP LEWIS.

Members Asked to Participate in Tournament to Aid United War Work Drive.

Leave it to the Portland Golf Club to do things. Not content with staging tournaments whereby the soldiers overseas were sent tobacco as a result of the entrance fees in these tobacco-fund tournaments, 10 complete sets of golf clubs were forwarded last week to Major-General Leitch at Camp Lewis. Any member of the Portland club who has clubs which he finds no use for is requested to turn them over to Harry Pratt, club professional, who will forward them to the various cantonments.

Every member of the club is requested to visit the Waverly and Tualatin Country clubs on the dates set aside for play to help in raising the $176,000,000 which the war charities board has asked the golf clubs throughout the country to assist them in.

Mr. Charles Westermuth, one of the ardent boosters of the Portland Golf Club, has presented to the club a large canvas top to be erected at the first and 10th tees so that those who find it necessary to wait for their turn to play during the winter months will have shelter from the rain.

The greens committee has been kept busy during the past couple of weeks supervising the many improvements being made on the fairway and greens. Construction work on the seventh and 11th holes is about completed, and when they are ready to play upon, which will be about two weeks, the Portland club will have two holes more equal in caliber to those in the Northwest. Mr. William Bristol presented $1600 to the club for the construction of these holes and a great many of his ideas have been adhered to in the laying out and planning of same. Many clubs have found it necessary by being compelled to build a bridge across the center of the lake, but the Portland club, not wishing to do this, has constructed a path around the edge of the lake, winding through the woods, which entirely cancels the method of crossing it. There will be two more holes played in the fall, and carry of 105 yards for the short players and the other a carry of 130 yards for the longer players.

Work has already started on the filling up of the holes in the fairways, and the greens committee expects to be able to sew about 5000 pounds of seed this week. When this work is completed, the fairways will be about 20 yards wider than they are at present.

Three bowling leagues are now well under way at the Oregon Alloys and one more league will start next Friday night. The three leagues now playing are the Rose City League, the Mercantile League and the Grant Smith Shipyard. The influenza epidemic here has not had much effect on the bowlers from invading the alleys the past several weeks and the condition will continue until the ban is raised and things are pronounced safe.

Up to date the bowling alleys have remained open, but there is no telling when they may be shut up. The schedule for this week beginning tomorrow at the Oregon Alloys is as follows:

Monday, Tri-Blu Biscuit Company vs. Pacific Outfitters Company; Vanover vs. Union Men; Tuesday night, S. Fasteners vs. Office Force; Yard Helpers vs. Mechanics; Wednesday, Pacific Paper Company vs. Honeyman Hardware Company; Devo vs. Robinson-Smith Company; Thursday, W. Carpenter vs. S. Carpenter; Painters vs. N. Fasteners; Friday, Williamette Iron & Steel Company League starts.

Meadowbrook Defeats Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The cross country team of the Meadowbrook Club of this city, today defeated the University of Pennsylvania Harriers, 26 to 23, in a five-mile run through Fairmount Park. Cummings, of Pennsylvania, finished first in 28 minutes 15 seconds.

Frankie Russell—of New Orleans (?)—paid Tommy Tracey another visit yesterday. Russell wants to get on with Morris Lux at the next smoker, but Tracey now refuses to sign the "mysterious" battles until he agrees to don the mite in private and show

TWO FOOTBALL GAMES AT VANCOUVER TODAY

BARRACKS MEET STANDIFER

Military Police and Headquarters Squadsrons Teams Scheduled to Tangle.

The local football followers will have two good football games on tap today that they will be permitted to attend. Both will be at the Vancouver Barracks on the Post Athletic field and will be featured in a double-header. The main attraction of the day will be between the Vancouver Barracks team and the Standifer Shipbuilders. It will be the Standifer second game of the season and they are out to make a good showing against the Army aggregation.

The Barracks team has not been doing a great deal of hard practice because of the condition, barring a few of the players who have had bad colds. The Army team has a heavy schedule ahead and Coach "Tick" Malinkey will get a good line on his men from today's game. The shipbuilders have been out for over two weeks and there are some good football players on the eleven.

Standifer played the last Gould Loft team of the steel yards last week and trounced them 21 to 6. The Barracks will play the team which they defeated on the trip should not be disappointed.

The first game of the day, which will start at 1:30 o'clock, will be between the Military Police and Headquarters Squadsrons teams. The 10th and 10th Squadrons team of Portland has not lost a game this season and has a speedy little organization. Rock and everyone is welcome.

The game will be refereed by the 10th Squadrons Military Police team. Captain Markham will umpire and George Beris will act as field judge. The officials have not been announced for the Barracks-Standifer game.

Following is the lineup of the 10th and 10th Squadrons team: Rock, left tackle; Langrell, right tackle; Cunningham, left guard; Droulard, right guard; Johnny Whittier, center; Bert Bell, left halfback; Al Langrell, left half; and Hugh Sacksteder, captain, right half.

DURNO FALLS IN CONFLICT

GRIDIRON ATHLETE LOSES TO WRESTLING DIRECTOR.

Sham Battle on Eugene Campus Full of Thrills and Exciting Situations—Eddie Gives Up.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Luring the sham battle carried on by the members of the O. T. C. here the other night a company of men from the S. A. T. C. who are trying for places in the officers' training camps that open next month were invited to take part in the festivity. Among those who went into the trenches early in the fight was Eddie Durno, of Silverton, member of the lemon-yellow football squad and a baseball star of the freshmen last year.

Eddie is no slouch as a wrestler, so when he went out into the ring on the land on a scouting trip he had a hunch that he would be able to drag back several prisoners. For a few minutes he was sent out into the ring, but he met a dark form that was not at all friendly. The fight was on.

Much to Durno's surprise he was at last on his back with someone about his size sitting on his ear and calling for one of the referees. Suddenly Eddie Durno broke the death stillness of the night.

"Say! Who in the samhill are you, anyway?" asked Eddie, his head all but buried in the mire of the field of battle. Just then one of the referees waded up and flashed his light on the pair. Durno looked his captor over and then grinned. It was Eddie O'Connell, well, later wrestling and boxing instructor at Multnomah Club and one of the foremost mat men of the country, who is now directing intra-mural athletics at the university.

"Well, you are a better man than I am," was Eddie Durno's parting remark as he was led back to the prison camp.

Eddie Grant First Major Leaguer Killed.

Here of Many National League Games in War Victim.

NOTE.—Captain Eddie Grant, former third baseman of the Philadelphia, Cincinnati and New York National League clubs, was killed recently while leading a unit "over the top" in an effort to save the "lost battalion," that had been surrounded in Argonne Forest for five days. He gave up his life heroically, and his death has brought grief to every baseball fan in the United States, particularly those in the East, who were more intimately acquainted with the ball player.

Grant was the first major-leaguer to give up his life.

The following poem has been dedicated to the honor of Grant by an Eastern sporting writer:

"O'er the blood-soaked soil of France,
 You went in to hit for a comrade—
 To help out your pals in the pinch;
 And a German shell that was aimed out of hell
 Found you there, but you did not flinch.
 Yes, you died as you played, Harvard man,
 When you always gave us of your best;
 In the woods of Argonne you kept carrying the flag of the first major-leaguer
 Till you made your last play—and "went West."
 And they said ballplayers were slackers!
 But you, Harvard Ed, as you plunged o'er the dead
 To rescue your pals in distress,
 Have proved that the game has its heroes
 On the shell-splashed fields of France.
 And going to bat, here machine guns spat
 There are other Eddie Grants."

That good Gravely taste!

Real Gravely is the common-sense chew for men. It is economical. A man gets his tobacco satisfaction out of a smaller chaw and fewer of them. The good Gravely taste lasts a long while. Two or three small squares of Real Gravely stays with you longer than a big hunk of ordinary plug. Each piece is packed in a pouch. These are the plain facts about Gravely Plug Tobacco.

It goes further—that's why you can get the good taste of this class of tobacco without extra cost.
