

SWEETS TO AD STATE GROWTH

Development Department Established by Packers.

BIG OPPORTUNITIES SEEN

Special Effort to Build Up District
Around Firm's North Portland
Plant Will Be Made.

Evidence that the big packing interests of the country believe Oregon is on the eve of a great development era is had here in the establishment of an industrial development department by the Swift interests. It is announced that it is the purpose of this new organization to co-operate with all other interests in Oregon, having for their purpose the bringing of new industries to the state.

Alfred A. Ayn, who for the last ten years has been engaged in development work in Central Oregon, has been secured to take charge of a special study of industrial development. The Swift interests announce that they will make special effort to build up with factories, warehouses and wholesale establishments the district surrounding their big packing plant on North Portland harbor. The district now is served directly by five trans-continental railroads, by one interstate electric road and by water transportation and by the Southern Pacific lines on the west coast. The charge. This they believe is an ideal line of development of industry, in accordance with the "zoning" or districting system that has been in vogue in some American cities as a remedy against indiscriminate mingling of residence, business and industrial structures, with consequent traffic congestion and destruction of property values.

Opportunities Deemed Great.
"All of the industrial development of any extent on the Pacific Coast has taken place within the memory of one generation," said Mr. Ayn. "With increased population, opening of the Orient and South American trade possibilities and the advantage of the Panama Canal, the opportunities now are greater than in any other part of the world. There are certain advantages in the vast raw resources of this state and also in the fact that raw materials may be shipped here from other parts of the world for manufacture. Other recognized advantages are in the greater efficiency of labor and lower cost of factory and mill construction, on account of milder and more equable climate.

Right here in Portland many of our manufacturers and wholesalers have started in a small way and located wherever it was convenient as finding they have outgrown their present plants. It will be an advantage to such industries to locate where they will have the benefits that accrue to those located in a distinctly industrial district.

Working Forces Large.
"In addition to the Swift plant and industries allied with it, some of the largest mills and factories of their kind on the Coast are located in the Peninsula industrial district. This district now employs between 3500 and 4000 persons. Within a few minutes' car ride from this manufacturing center there are now approximately 100,000 people, so that industry there has a large market from which to draw."

been spending the week with relatives in Portland.
C. A. Murray, connected with the railroad administration on Puget Sound, is in the city on business, and is registered at the Hotel Portland.
F. H. Galke and wife, accompanied by their son, E. C. Galke, are at the Imperial. Mr. Galke is a banker at Joseph and the son has been with the S. A. T. C.
M. A. Gunst and Milton H. Eberg, heads of a tobacco firm which has branches up and down the Pacific Coast, have arrived from their San Francisco home and are registered at the Benson.
J. A. Van Wye registered at the Multnomah yesterday from Enterprise, Or.; Heretofore he has claimed Minneapolis, but as he has just leased a theater at Enterprise he is using the Wallowa country as his home base. Mr. Van Wye is the man who built the theaters in the Western cantonments for the soldiers.
Francis Carney, of Astoria, returned to Portland yesterday from Spokane and is on his way home. Judge Carney, for the past seven years, has been Justice of the Peace in the Astoria district. He is also United States Commissioner and was formerly postmaster and before that was City Treasurer of Astoria. The judge says that since the last census Astoria has tripled its population, and anyone who has not seen the town in the past three years wouldn't know it.
C. W. Enright, of Vancouver, B. C., arrived at the Multnomah yesterday in search for milch cows to ship into the Dominion. Mr. Wodruft sent him to the Carey ranch at Hillsboro and routed him to Amity, Forest Grove, McMinnville and Independence. Mr. Enright has shipped 700 head of cows from the Carey ranch and hopes to pick up twice that number in Western Oregon.
Don Pruitt, of Stanfield, who is at the Imperial, says that the sheepmen expect that the Government will not impose regulations on the 1919 wool clip. There was some talk, says Mr. Pruitt, that the remainder of the 1918 clip might be turned loose, but the Government decided to hold on. Mr. Pruitt does not expect any reduction in wool prices because the shortage of sheep and without plenty of ships wool imports will be curtailed.
S. J. Vickers, of Muskogee, Okla., was telling at the Multnomah yesterday that the Chamber of Commerce at Tulsa, Mr. Vickers' real home, does for the betterment of the 85,000 inhabitants. If an apartment-house enforces a rule that children shall not be allowed therein, the Chamber secretary puts a neat little notice in the newspapers and otherwise boycotts the place. If some dealer makes it difficult for a prospective seller to get located the secretary again does his publicity trick. If some real estate operator imposes on a purchaser the secretary issues a circular. As a result, Tulsa, Okla., is growing and growing, asserts Mr. Vickers. While on his trip to Oregon Mr. Vickers bought a ranch near Bend.
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Krebs, of Elmora Park, near Rockaway, passed through Portland yesterday on their way to Hillsboro. Mr. Krebs says that all the mills have shut down in the Tillamook country since the signing of the armistice, with the exception of the plant at Clime. Thousands of men employed in the lumber industry have left and come to Portland, and the men of the spruce division have been brought out to Vancouver. Contractors who have been supplying spruce to the Government are anxiously awaiting orders to haul out the down timber they have in the woods. The logs representing a large investment. Mrs. Krebs is head of the Red Cross Chapter at Rockaway, which shipped to Portland immense quantities of mosquito bandages. Mr. Krebs has been deploring of building a number of beach cottages to provide accommodations for the soldiers, but the price for material at the mills is prohibitive, as much as $20 a thousand being asked for plain sidewalk lumber.

HEARING RESULT AWAITED

Attorney LaRoche Expected to Defeat Action Until the Public Service Commission Gives Ruling.

City ownership of the Home Telephone system with a view to giving the public better service than the Pacific company can furnish at present rates is the movement put under way by the City Commissioners. On motion of Dan Kellaher, whose right to the Commissioner seat is in question, the Council yesterday requested City Attorney LaRoche to investigate the possibilities of acquiring the Home company's franchise.
Definite action on the proposal is not expected before the Public Service Commission's hearing on the Pacific company's application for increased rates. What action the city officials will take toward acquisition of the Home system will depend on the outcome of this hearing, which will be in Portland December 13.

SOCIALIST FINNS EYED
STATE COUNCIL OF DEFENSE TO COLLECT EVIDENCE.

Accusation of Being Un-American in Attitude and Conduct Will Be Investigated.
As one of the last activities into which it will throw its energies the State Council of Defense promises to collect evidence against the clique of Socialist Finlanders living at Astoria and accused of being extremely un-American in attitude and conduct. Facts about the Finnish Socialist society, its newspaper and the general demeanor of its 500 or more members, were sketched in the Council of Defense by William E. Schimpff, of Astoria, a member of the body. It took pressure in earlier stages of the question of disbanding the Oregon State Council of Defense immediately, some of the members rather feeling that little remains for it to do since the war closed. In the event, however, the body declined to vote itself out of existence just yet.
John K. Kollock gave a detailed report as secretary that the estimated expense of the organization in the 16 months of its operation have aggregated $15,573. Closing the department of commercial economy would cut off a monthly expense of $150.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—Salary advances for all municipal employees are being asked of the City Commission and that body is figuring how revenues may be stretched to meet the demands.
City firemen want $150 for all men in the ranks of the department and proportionately higher wages for those in positions of authority. City linemen want at least $4 a day, the scale paid men of their craft in private industry. The city is paying $6 for both inside and outside work.
The newly formed Municipal Employees' Union has asked for data on salaries paid in all departments preparatory to demanding a lift.

HAWLEY'S SECRETARY OUT
Law at State Capital.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Announcement was made today of the resignation of R. C. Glover, as private secretary to Representative Hawley, of this district. Mr. Glover has held that position for nearly 11 years. He says he resigned a number of weeks ago to enter the Army, but as the war is practically over he has decided to change his plans as to the resignation and will resume the practice of law, to be associated with A. O. Condit, a local attorney.
Mr. Hawley will select no successor to R. C. Glover until after next March.

ALLEN URGES ROAD PATROL

WASHINGTON COMMISSIONER ADDRESSES CONVENTION.
Delegates to Improvement Meeting Are Enthusiastic Over Plan of Highway Head.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—Today's session, the closing one of the Southwest Washington improvement conference, was devoted to business, a feature being the address of Allen of Olympia, who outlined the work of his department. Mr. Allen's suggestions for a systematic, regular patrol plan of road maintenance by men who shall make this work their only business elicited enthusiastic applause.
The various delegates from Wahkiakum County, led by State Senator F. L. Sinclair, of Ilwaco, pressed home the urgent demand of that section and to be opened up—state road No. 19—whereby it will be possible for them to reach the outside world in their own state.
The report of the committee on resolutions expressed appreciation of the hospitality of the Citizens' Club and the people of Chehalis in general; approved work of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, with special thanks to Herbert Cuthbert and Frank Branch, Riley, and approval of the Thurston County road bonding plan or any other feasible scheme whereby it is proposed to hard surface the roads of the state, strongly endorsing state roads Nos. 8 and 19 into Southern Pacific and across Wahkiakum and Cowlitz counties, connecting with the Pacific Highway at Kelso.

November Divorce Suits Total 104.
There were 104 new divorce suits filed during November, as against 103 for the preceding month, according to tabulations made yesterday at the office of County Clerk Beveridge. There were 176 marriage licenses issued during November. In October 195 licenses were issued.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with the results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.
Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.
Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.
Others who have shallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.
