Manager Bertz, of the clubmen, origi-nally wired Oregon asking for a game, Saturday, December 14. After Multnomah's defeat of the Oregon Aggies Thanksgiving day, Bertz sent a tele-gram to Seattle asking Washington if it cared to take on the club team, De-cember 7, and yesterday received a wire from James Arbuthnot, director of athletics, saying the game could not be played.

Bertz had a confab with "Shy" Hunt-ington at the Union Depot Friday night while the Oregon team was waiting to board the rattler for Seattle for their clash with the Washingtonians yester-day, and Huntington asked Berts for the December 7 date. Not having re-

GRIFFITH OUTLINES LEAGUE AGREEMENT

Washington Manager Favors Reserve, Draft, Waiver Rules.

HAVE JUSTICE TO

Major and Minor Organizations Might Work Under Plan, Magnate Says.

Clark Griffith, manager of the Washngton American League baseball club in a long letter to Judge McCredle owner of the Portland team, sends at outline of an agreement under which major and minor league clubs could work that would give justice and equity to the players as well as the owners, according to Griffith. This would be a boon to the minor leagues says Griffith, as they would no longer have to purchase players.

Griffith presented a resolution to the American League three years ago, requesting it never again to buy, trade or sell a ballplayer. After discussion

DAYTON, O., Nov. 20.—Former President William Howard Taft stated today that he would, un-der no circumstances, accept the position of baseball commissioner for the two major lengues, for which office he had been auggreated.

the resolution was denied on the grounds that it was not the proper time to adopt such a measure, as the Federal League players were thrown out of employment at that time. Griffith's outline is as follows: Three Rules Available.

Organized baseball, both major and minor, an be governed by three rules which will ive justice and equity to player and club-wners alike.

where alike.

1. The reserve rule.

2. The draft rule.

3. The waiver rule.

3. The waiver rule will protect clubs' property rights, and investments.

The reserve rule will protect the advancement of the player in his profession.

The waiver rule protects the clubewner and the waiver rule protects the clubewner and the mane time the rights of the player.

Rules that shall govern the application of he three above-mentioned rules to be as ollows, viz.

1. No club shall be permitted to sell or my a player except by the waiver rule.

2. Waivers cannot be recalled.

3. All clubs to work under a close-player imit.

d. The number of players to be drafted in lass AA and A to be greater than the number the rules provide for.

The waiver price of clubs in the same lassification to be the same amount.

7. The waiver price of clubs in the same classification to be the same amount.

8. The waiver price on a player classed as a "drafted" player shall be the same as the amount for which he was drafted.

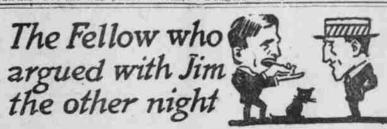

9. The waiver price on all other players to be the regular waiver price of the league requesting the waiver.

19. Any club in any league wishing to dispose of the services of a player, wafvers shall be asked, only clubs in the same classification shall have the right to daim said player, the clubs of the league requesting the waiver to have prior claim, should two or more clubs claim the player it shall be decided by lot to which club he shall go: if the player be not claimed in the clus-requesting waiver, and the club requesting waiver no longer desires the services of the player, then and in that event the player shall become subject to claim by clubs in lower classifications according to the new existing rules; when it is determined which club shall have the services of the player, said club shall get the player free of cost.
