Vancouver-Built Craft Indicates Value of Wooden Construction for Deep-Sea Service.

VANCOUVER, Wash, Dec. 21.—(Special)—That the wooden ships built by the G. M. Standier Construction Corporation are economical to operate, from the fuel point of view, would seem to be borne out by the statement of Charles K. Wirostek, chief engineer of the James Timpson, built in the North Portland yard and outfitted in city. Wirostek was chief engineer on the boat from the time it left here until it arrived in New York, and traveled a distance of 14,000 miles. The Nonasses, a 9409-ton steel freighter, was launched from the plant of the Moore Shibbuliding Company in Oakland today, Mrs. Edward Hannay, wife of the yard superintendent, christened the ship.

A 37-mile casterly gale swept over San Prancisco Hay Friday night and continued unabated the greater part of today, lashing the waters into foam and causing mariners considerable sansiety. Five launches broke away from their moorings and were tossed about for hours. Many schooners in the bay dragged their anchors, but ne damage was reported.

Marine Notes.

At the plant of the Pacific Marine Iron Works the Saturday half holiday plan of the men did not tle up the establishment, for while there was a general exodus from the fitting cut dock, the machine shop kept going.

About 11 o'clock last night the composite steamer Harney, the first of the Federal coterie floated by the Supple-Ballin organization, bade adieu to Portland and began her maiden voyage, headed for San Franciscowith a part cargo of paper for the Pacific Steamship Company. To date there have been six carriers delivered from the Supple-Ballin yard.

Admirally Inlet, Port Ludlew—Coives Rocks buoy, No. 2, and Tala Point buoy, No. 1, were replaced December 19.

Ex-President William H. Taft and Basil Manly, joint chairmen of the war labor board, dismissed the contention of the employers that President Wilson in saying to Congress "thus the war comes to an end" had proclaimed peace. They also denied a secondary plea of the boat owners that the wage adjust-ment board had been dissolved by resig-nation of some of its members.

OPERATORS WORK ON CLAIMS

First Contracts to Be Cleaned Up and Cancellations Are Next.

Corporations that undertook early hull contracts for the wood ship division of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, will meet this afternoon with officials of that department to discuss matters having to do with adjustments on that work, which are confined largely to extras ordered and wags bonus details resulting from the application of the Macy scale.

Builders have been advised by the cancellation and salvage department to prepare statements of their claims.

prepare statements of their claims co ering contracts ordered suspended last month. Because of the lack of definite information as to what must be re-ported on, not all of the yards have compiled. So far no specific instruc-tions have been forwarded relative to a limit of $200,000 being placed on hull contracts and $300,000 on those for fin-ished ships. Dispatches from Philadel-phia were to the effect if less than those sums had been expended on the
