

VANCOUVER OFFICER HONORED IN FRANCE

Lieutenant Bunnell Lionized During Celebration.

CEREMONY IS DESCRIBED

Signing of Armistice Occasion for Great Demonstration in French Towns.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Clarence O. Bunnell, son of Mrs. H. M. Bunnell, of this city, who was thought for a time to have been captured by the Germans when he was with the 318th Engineers in France, has been promoted to the rank of Second Lieutenant. In a letter just received by his mother, written November 11, the day the armistice was signed, he said:

"This is the day of days. The Boche is no more a problem, and all France is celebrating. I am missing most of the big show, but can't recall when I was ever happier in my life. I started this letter last evening, but was not permitted to finish it then. The good French people of this village were determined to feté me. They came to my hotel, about 25 men, led by the Mayor, his secretary and all of the commune officials. They carried a huge bouquet of red, white and blue chrysanthemums in a pretty hampered cannon shell.

Document Is Presented.

They went through several ceremonies, sang the national air, and then proceeded to read it to me. The gist was that I was the representative of the United States here and they wished to present their homage and love to my country through me. After the paper was handed over and I had made the best little talk my limited French vocabulary would permit, I was informed that I was now Lord Mayor Lavare (Sarthe). What do you think of that? I am now a real Frenchman. Happily, the last time I was in Paris I bought 50 cigars, and had just enough to go around. They had brought along some wine 50 years old, and after taking two drinks I had to call a halt, for I fear the sea might have gotten rough. They sang a number of their folk songs and then insisted that I sing. Well, I first sang the "Star-Spangled Banner," and they all stood at attention. Then I sang "Tipperary" and several others, over which they were much pleased. Our party started at 8 and lasted until 8, and as none had eaten we stopped. The little village reverberated all night, and when I awoke this morning it was to the 'put-put-put' of a German machine gun under my window. They were knocking the spots off of the backyard wall.

Large Flag Presented.

"Before I realized where I was, I jumped out of bed and started to find my tin lid. I thought I was up at the front with a bit of hell starting again. Another minute and I should have been in the street wearing my nightshirt, as we never took off our clothes there. However, I awoke finally, got into my clothes and went out into the street to help make more racket. I went to another village to get a telegram, and when I returned they had a big French flag for me to hang out of my bedroom window. "This morning as I walked down the street every man and boy seeing me would come to attention, salute and cry out 'Vive l'Americain.' Believe me, these simple folk would send me to Congress if they could. Wood if America loves us as do the French people? Today we are the best-loved and possibly the most hated country on earth. The royalists of Germany and certain others hate us above all nations. Lieutenant Bunnell does not know when he will start home, but has hopes it will be in time for the Fourth of July.

WOMEN WORKERS THANKED

CATHLAMET, Wash., Dec. 21.—(Special.)—Miss Marie Souvigne, assistant postmistress in the local postoffice, has received a letter from her brother, Frank, of the United States ship Columbia, in which he describes a dinner and dance the crew of his ship gave in New York on the 18th. The dinner was an eight-course affair at the Astor and for the ball 50 blocks were roped off "and as each block here is twice the size of the Portland blocks, you may know what that means," he explains. A band was provided for every block. Mr. Souvigne is a well-known athlete, having been prominent in baseball and football circles.

LIEUT. SAUL IS WOUNDED

PORTLAND MAN TARGET OF HUNS OCT. 6. WIFE HEARS.

Last Letter Received by Officer's Family Dated Sept. 23—Cable Received Says 'Safe and Well.'

Lieutenant Thomas W. Saul, a Portland man, long connected with the engineering department of the O.-W. I. & N. Co., here, has been "wounded in action, degree undetermined," according to a letter received by Mrs. Saul yesterday from the Adjutant-General's office at Washington, under date of December 14.

According to the only information Mrs. Saul has received Lieutenant Saul was wounded "about October 6," and the letter she has received from the authorities at Washington indicates that the news of Mr. Saul's condition was received there October 7. Mrs. Saul is at a loss to know why she did not receive word before December 21, if such word was received in Washington October 7, and has decided to take the matter up with Senator McNary.

The last letter Mrs. Saul received from Lieutenant Saul was dated September 23, and was received October 20 here, but she received a cablegram on December 11, which read, "Safe and well. Merry Christmas."

Lieutenant Saul, formerly a Captain in the engineers when they landed in France, was transferred to the tank service not long before the last fighting took place and though the notification from Washington reads, "with the Engineers," Mrs. Saul is inclined to believe a mistake has been made and that Lieutenant Saul was with the tanks when wounded. Mr. Saul had to give up his Captain's commission to enter the tank service.

Peat's story has already been made world famous by the newspapers, by the book he wrote, and by the talks he has given. But the screen version is as Vivid as life itself. If you could realize what Our Boys have faced you would not only honor them—you would worship them as Heroes. They ran up against the same thing as Peat and they are coming back with a smile—those who do come back. Because it's the spirit that can smile in hell that wins.

LEADERSHIP

In both business and professional life leadership is credited to the individual or group that is always looking for new ideas, for newer and better ways of doing things and for opportunities to render a better service at a lower cost. These things are appreciated by the public, and this appreciation is shown by greater patronage and a more extended use of the service. Finley's funeral service provides a secluded private drive, comfortable reception room; elegant chapel, music room, private rooms for the family, courteous attendants, and everything that goes to make a service complete and satisfactory. The fact that this service and these original ideas have been copied and imitated is unquestionable evidence of our leadership.
