OREGON EXCEEDS ITS WAR STAMPS QUOTA

Clatsop County Heads List for Over-Subscription.

EPIDEMIC DELAYS

Total of $16,489,972 for State Is Reported-Thirty-Six Counties Exceed Quotas.

Final computation of figures for Oregon's war savings stamp campaign for 1918' shows that the state, as in all other patriotic drives, exceeded its allotted quota. Purchases throughout the state amounted to $16,489,972.83. This is one-half of I per cent in excess of the state quota, according to figures given out at state headquarters.

The figures show further that 18 of the 26 counties of Oregon exceeded their quotas, with Clatsop County taking the lead, both in over-subscriptions and in obtaining its quota first.

Oregon's quota, as originally fixed by the Treasury Department, was $17, 253,740. This was a $20 per capits, giving the state an estimated population of $62,587. Later readjustments brought the quota down to $16,414,326.

In making public the final figures, State Director C. S. Jackson said: "The war savings result is another testimonial to Oregon's loyal support of the Government's war finance. But for the influenza epidemic, we would have sold from 10 to 15 per cent more stamps. We timed our clean-up campaign to begin in October, at the close of the fourth liberty loan drive. Then the flu struck the state and we were deprived of the splendid anssistance we deprived of the splendid asssistance we should have had from the school chil-

Epidemic Halts Drive. Multnomah County affords an illustration of the conditions that we had to meet. It came within 1.5 per cent of its quota. It is easy to see that but for the epidemic the county would not only have made its quota, but would have reported a very substantial sur-plus. The subsidence of the war en-thusiasm affected us far less than it did other lines of patriotic work. A year of educational work has informed Oregonians of the value of the stamps, and as the year drew to its close there was a noticeable tendency on the part of investors to increase their holdings, coupled with purchases by people who had not previously bought, and lively

"Did you ever see a—er, plump actress get before the footlights and fail to win her audience without half the trouble that comes to the average comedienne?" demanded Miss Mills. "Of course you never did. The very minute the said plump actress appears, she's got her audience laughing, and with laughter comes liking, to say the least."
