

OREGON LICENSE TAG SYSTEM IS POPULAR

Only Minor Amendments to Statute Expected.

SOLONS CHANGE OPINIONS

Vehicle Registration Systems in Other Coast States Found to Be Too Expensive.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Jan. 25.—(Special.)—Although there seems to be some inclination early in the present session of the Legislature to attempt revolutionary changes in the system of handling automobile license tags in Oregon, this sentiment seems to have dwindled practically to nothing. It seems extremely probable now from expressions of opinion on the part of the Legislature, that only the most minor amendments will be offered to the plan for the administration of the motor vehicle laws. This does not include the probable doubling of the automobile license tax, which, in itself, is not considered a wholly administrative proposition.

California to Change System. California, it is said, is attempting to put through the plan for the annual license tag, such as is used in Oregon, the Motor Vehicle Owners' Association of that state having pronounced the permanent registration system a failure. A bill to abolish the system, now in the House of the California Legislature, states the permanent registration system is unsatisfactory and any change will be made.

Markers on Tags Costly. A statement of Secretary of State Howell of Washington, says that it is now plain that this plan of service has already shown that the cost will be far greater than last year, the markers costing more than the tags themselves, and he also states that the clerk hire will be more than last year.

PACIFIC IS REPRESENTED Former Students of Forest Grove University in Legislature. PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., Jan. 25.—(Special.)—A number of men now in the Oregon Legislature are Pacific University men. Walter A. Dimick, who graduated from Pacific University in 1902, has served continually in the Legislature for ten years.
