

PORTLAND OUT TO GET SHRINERS HERE IN 1920

Northwest Temples Manifest Loyalty to Al Kader.

UNITED FRONT PRESENTED

Convention Committee Selected and Pledges Made to Aid in the Entertainment of Visitors.

Shrinehood of the northwest manifested its loyalty to Portland when nobles and potentates from five temples met in this city to form an association...

Portland Shrinehood showed they were right worthy of the Shrine trust when at a great meeting at the municipal auditorium, attended by practically all Portland Shrinehood...

From early in the morning when the wearers of the red fez began to arrive they manifested but one sentiment: "Portland for 1920!"

Convention Committee Selected.

At a meeting at noon at the Imperial hotel, at which the northwest delegates took part, there was brought into being the Pacific northwest shrine convention committee for 1920.

Knowing the rare spirit of hospitality which exists in Portland and her magnificent capabilities for entertaining, we not only indorse the invitation, but we pledge the nobility of the northwest to supplement, aid and assist Al Kader temple in making the 1920 session of the Imperial council one of the most enjoyable ever held anywhere.

Northwest is United.

The northwest is to act as a unit. To that end there will be an executive committee of 12 members to have active charge of the work of the northwest association.

Chairman Hyland then appointed the following committee:

George W. Stapleton, Al Kader Temple; Charles A. Welsh, Gizah Temple; George T. Collins, Hillaah Temple; H. A. Pierce, El Katif Temple; Ellis Lewis Garretson, Afili Temple; Henry R. Cunningham, Algeria Temple; John C. Watrous, Nile Temple; Charles S. Henderson, Bagdad Temple; William Thompson, Marlam Temple; Edward Smith, El Korah Temple; W. W. Lenz, for the temple at Calgary; Arthur Chapman, for the temple at Winnipeg; E. A. Gardner, for the temple at Vancouver.

Al Kader Potentate to Visit.

W. J. Hoffmann, potentate of Al Kader, Portland, was then instructed by Chairman Hyland to visit the California temple of the Shrine at the request of the northwest committee...

HORNET TO CEASE TO STING

PUBLISHER FOUND GUILTY OF CRIMINAL LIBEL.

James Fullerton Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment, Which is Commuted to One Month.

EUGENE, Or., March 8.—James Fullerton, publisher of the Oregon Hornet, who was Thursday declared guilty of criminal libel against the board of regents, President P. L. Campbell, the faculty and student body of the University of Oregon, was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail...

Fullerton, however, will serve only one month of his term. Judge Skipworth in passing sentence said that on account of Fullerton's advanced age and apparent ill health, he would have to serve only one month in the county jail and that the remaining 11 months would be commuted during good behavior.

Following a warning by the judge that he must make no more derogatory remarks against the university in his paper, the Oregon Hornet, Fullerton announced that the Hornet is to cease publication.

VETERAN RETURNS HOME

WILLIAM JONES FIGHTS WITH MARINES AT BELLEU WOOD.

Portland Young Man Battle for 14 Days Against Huns and Then Is Put Out by Gas.

William Jones, one of the marines who helped to stem the Hun tide at Belleu wood last June, has returned to Portland, where he has been detailed to recruiting duty at the office in the Panama building.

Existing at the Portland office a month after the United States entered the world war, the young marine trained successfully at Mare Island and Quantico, landing in France in February, 1918.

After a short period of training he was sent into the trenches in the Verdun sector, where he spent two months before being transferred to the vicinity of Belleu wood.

The Germans might have broken through our lines almost any time after the first few days of the fight at Belleu wood," said Mr. Jones. "One morning we found ourselves in the front line trenches after the French had filtered back through us during the night. We never budged from those trenches, though the Germans gave us everything they had."

"I was gassed on the 14th day of fighting. Of our original company of 200, only nine were left. In the morning, when replacement troops failed to arrive promptly, four men held the company trenches. The Germans had started their gas attack before midnight—it was mustard gas, the kind that burns. I held out until after daylight."

Paying the Fiddler

Nature Has No Law of Limitations; if You Cheated Youth, You Must Pay Old Age.

A wise man would not light a candle in the day time, but giddy youth does it every day. Not content with its feeble glare, he even lights BOTH ENDS and barters his future that his present may be a "gay white way."

Sometime in life there must be sacrifice and deprivation—if you have much in youth, you may lack more in old age. Wasted money, wasted opportunities, wasted lives, line the paths of pleasure. The straight and narrow path widens and becomes smoother the longer it is traveled, and there's an easy chair at the end of the journey.

If every man and woman had deprived themselves of a few luxuries in youth, and SAVED THE MONEY it would not have taken long to oversubscribe all four liberty loans. If people today would cease paying for such questionable luxuries as "social prestige," "imaginary reputation" and "red tape," medical, legal and dental fees would come down to where ordinary people could reach them.

"For the last 15 years I have demonstrated that it is not necessary to charge exorbitant fees in order to give the people the very best there is in dentistry." I have proven that a dentist may be competent, honest and a gentleman and not sacrifice either by advertising.

If people prefer to pay heavy premiums for the privilege of having their exclusive dentists, that is their own business; but never forget for a moment that "the fiddler" may call for his pay when it is least convenient for you to settle. Paying for something YOU DON'T GET is neither just to yourself nor your fellowman.
